Daniel Leads Yarborough In Texas Primary

By PRESTON MCGRAW
UP Staff Correspondent

U. S. Sen. Price Daniel held a modest lead over Liberal Democrat Ralph Yarborough Saturday night as returns piled up from the runoff primary for governor.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 9 p. m. from 209 of the state's 254 counties, including 52 complete, gave Daniel 553,788 votes and Yarborough 542,825. This was believed to be about half the total vote cast.

District Attorney Tom Moore of Waco conceded the attorney general's race to former State Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson of Dallas at 9 p. m.

At that time, returns from 209 counties gave Wilson 641,418 votes and Moore 398,880.

Yarborough, for whom this was the third attempt to win the governorship, was showing his greatest strength in the country. A good part of Daniel's margin was in the cities.

The tension mounted at the home of Daniel's brother, Bill, in Liberty, Tex., near Houston where Daniel was getting the returns over a portable radio.

"It's too early to know," Daniel said at 9 p. m. "I'm glad to see that we are holding our lead. I feel that we will increase that lead as the night goes on."

Nevertheless, he did not have the margin he did in the Democratic primary July 28, when he had five opponents. Newsmen waiting with him at Liberty noted a worried look on his face.

Yarborough got the returns at his headquarters in Austin. He was making a better race than he did in the primary, but it was his fourth attempt to win a statewide office.

He ran for attorney general once and this was his third race for governor.

In the race for attorney general, incomplete returns from the same counties gave former state Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson of Dallas 128,561 votes to 87,446 for District Attorney Tom Moore of Waco.

Early returns showed that Yarborough was running a better race than he did in the July 28 primary when there were six candidates. In the primary Daniel ran No. 1 and Yarborough No. 2.

The votes that both men wanted were the 347,757 votes that former Gov. and U. S. Sen. W. Lee (Continued on Fourteenth Page)

Two Men Smash New Orleans To St. Louis Record

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25 (AP)—Two St. Louis men pulled in here today with a new motorboat speed record for the gruelling 1,053-mile run up the Mississippi River from New Orleans to St. Louis.

Lee Sawyer and John Springmeyer made the distance in 39 hours 41 minutes in a 15-foot plywood boat driven by two 40-horsepower motors. The former record was 41 hours 57 minutes.

Sawyer, racing alone in 1954, set a record of 56 hours, 56 minutes, but this had been broken several times.

The two men left New Orleans at 1 a. m. (CDT) yesterday.

The 12-day session of the Legislature could pick up where the regular session left off July 12, and the 1956 Legislature was one of the stormiest in Louisiana history.

The official call yesterday left the door wide open for renewal of two bitter issues killed in the regular session:

1. An increase in the race track betting tax.

2. Long's proposal to eliminate voting machines in low-vote precincts, abandoned in the face of bitter opposition.

However, administration sources say the voting machine measure makes only minor corrections in present law.

A major item — one designed to soothe mounting opposition — is recall of an administration amendment to repeal the two-thirds vote of the Legislature required for new taxes.

Long rammed through the repeal amendment, set for a vote in the November general election, through the Legislature despite bitter controversy.

However, a statewide fight against the proposal threatened to kill both the two-thirds repeal and a call for a constitutional convention next year. Long plans to let the convention call remain on the November ballot.

The governor backed away from the recall controversy, which could be touched off by a plan to revise the new law banning interracial athletics and social activities.

The legislation apparently would remove features barring mixed athletics but retain strict requirements for segregated seating and the ban on mixed social activities.

Long took a "hands-off" attitude toward the proposal and explained: "I put that in at the request of the Sugar Bowl and other groups."

Citizens Councils Oppose Change In Athletic Race Ban

ALEXANDRIA, La., Aug. 25 (AP)—Directors of the Assn. of Citizens Councils of Louisiana asked legislators today to vote against any changes in the state law banning interracial athletics.

The request came in a resolution approved today by the board, which said the "overwhelming opinion of the people of this state . . . is strongly in favor of the present law."

Gov. Earl Long, in his call for a special legislative session opening Thursday, listed the law as a topic for consideration.

The resolution said hearings held before its passage by the recent regular session showed "interracial sports contests generate racial tension and provide a breeding ground for race riots."

It said Long signed the bill into law after receiving "by the governor's own statement, an overwhelming response from the public demanding that the law be placed in effect."

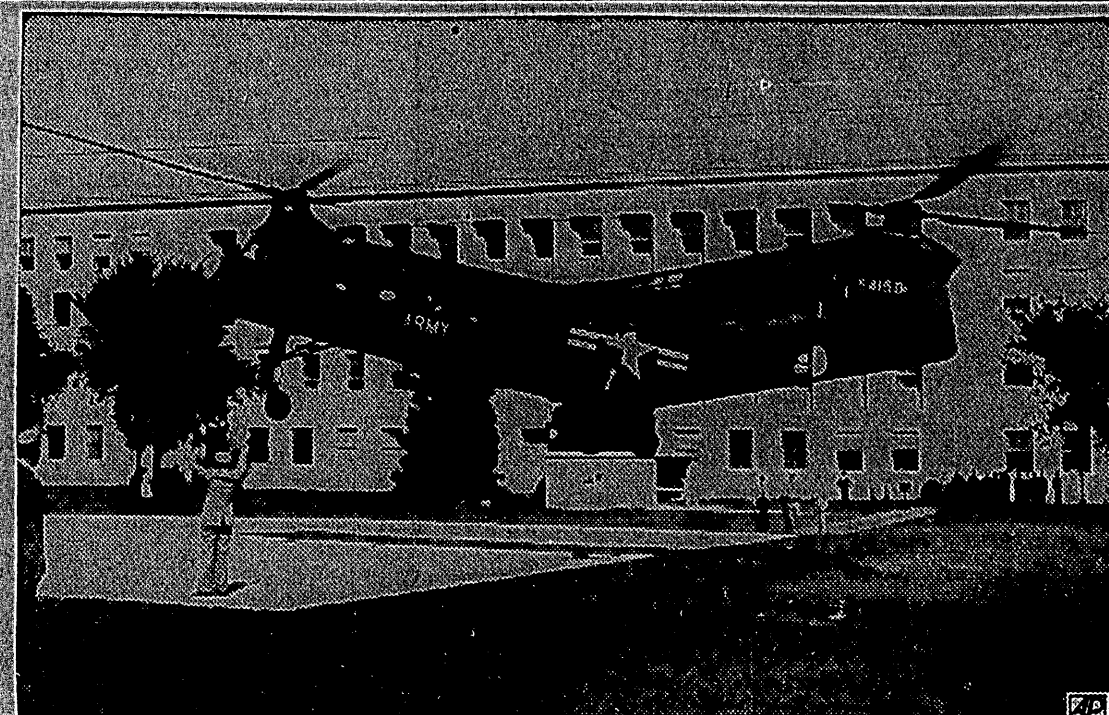

The resolution said "the enactment of the proposal (to change the law) would place a stigma on every member of the Legislature who votes to sanction any such racial integration by law."

The board asked legislators to vote against a change, which it said "would weaken our segregation laws and jeopardize the peace and good order in the state."

Long said he included the matter in his call at the request of the Sugar Bowl, which has had three of its four basketball tournament entries withdrawn.

Raps 'Broken Promise' Stevenson Charges GOP Bosses Forced Nixon On Ticket With Eisenhower

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., Aug. 25—UP—Adlai E. Stevenson, serving notice that his 1956 presidential campaign will be a fighting one, told Republicans Saturday their vice presidential candidate was foisted on them by party "bosses" and their platform was full of "broken promises."

Stevenson, Democratic Presidential candidate, stood with vice-presidential hopeful Estes Kefauver beside him in front of the Stevenson farm home near here and said he did not know whether President Eisenhower wanted Richard M. Nixon renominated by the Republicans "but certainly the Republican bosses wanted him on the ticket and saw to it he was put on."

He had a kind word for the "Joe Smiths" of the nation, a jibe at the Republican convention hassle over the effort of GOP delegate Terry Carpenter to nominate "Joe Smith" instead of going along with the convention choice of Nixon.

Attack Off China Shell Fragments Found In Airman's Body, Navy Says

TOKYO, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bullet fragments in a crew member's body confirmed tonight that a U. S. Navy patrol bomber was hit by gunfire before it plunged into the China Sea off Red China's coast.

The 18 crewmen of the four-engine P4M Mercator were under routine orders to fire back if attacked, but there was no indication whether they did so before the crash early Thursday.

The aerial search for survivors was suspended. But surface ships were directed to remain in the area where the plane went down, about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

Still unanswered were these questions:

1. How many planes attacked the patrol craft? Red China announced a "China Kat-shah plane" was damaged in an air action by a Red plane in the area Thursday. The Nationalist Chinese said none of their planes were near the scene at the time.

2. Did the plane explode in the air or when it hit the water?

3. Why was the wreckage found almost 200 miles north of the position the plane should have been in when the attack came?

The finding that the plane had been hit was based on the examination of the body of technician L. C. Albert P. Mattin of Delta, Ohio. No other bodies have been recovered.

Capt. Earl J. Jughann, commander of the fleet air detachment at Iwakuni, Japan, said wounds on Mattin's body contained metal fragments from gunfire.

Mattin died of multiple injuries suffered when the patrol plane crashed into the sea, not from (Continued on Fourteenth Page)

Aerial War Games Louisiana-Based B-47 Leads SAC's Bomb Maneuvers

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bombers of the Strategic Air Command played at war over a big section of the United States and Canada today, but it was deadly serious business for their crews.

Promotions and honors for their outfits are the stakes for the airmen in SAC's annual bombing-navigational-reconnaissance competition.

The competition began Friday and will continue through Aug. 29. Sixty-six B-47 stratofortresses and 20 heavy bombers are entered. The B-47s are flying out of Lockbourne Air Force Base here, and the B-52s and B-36s are flying on their missions from Loring AFB, Limestone, Maine.

The B-47s could be carrying death-dealing atomic bombs, but instead in the competition the bombs are radar instruments which will compute accurately where a bomb would have hit.

A Naval air base at Richmond, Va.; a worsted woolen mill at Springfield, Mass.; and a gas storage tank at Montreal, Quebec, are the targets for the bombers as they fly eight miles above these cities.

As the planes complete their missions, the scores made by the crews are posted on a bulletin board at Lockbourne. Scores made by the Loring-based planes also are posted here.

Thirty-two planes which took off from here Friday have completed their missions. SAC officers said two B-47 crews which took off from Columbus hold first and second places and two B-36 crews flying from Loring hold the third and fourth spots.

In the first place with 418 points is a B-47 from the 68th Bomb Wing, Lake Charles, La. Maj. Raymond M. Boll of Antigo, Wis., is the plane commander; Capt. James B. Grew of St. Joseph, Mich., is the pilot, and Maj. Albert R. Vincent of Merrick, L. I., is the navigator.

Dulles Calls On Nasser To End Crisis; Russian Support For Egypt Grows

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles, returning from the Suez conference in London, called on Egypt tonight to "make its own indispensable contribution" to a peaceful solution of the crisis over the future of the Suez Canal.

Recalling that 18 of the 22 nations in the London conference had agreed on a proposal for future operation of the canal, to assure free use by all nations, Dulles said in a statement:

"We hope that the government of Egypt will respect the opinions thus soberly but firmly expressed and responsibly make its own indispensable contribution to the peaceful solution which is enjoined by the principles and purposes of the United Nations."

Dulles arranged to talk by telephone with President Eisenhower, who is on the West Coast, within two hours after landing here at 6:15 p. m. Dulles also said he would of course report to the President personally when Eisenhower gets back to Washington early next week.

Meanwhile in diplomatic quarters here, Soviet leaders were described as being so steamed up over the Suez crisis that they engaged in hot-tempered argument two nights ago in Moscow with British and French guests on what was supposed to have been a social occasion.

The return flight by Dulles, Mrs. Dulles and several State Department officials from London was marred by engine failure on the big Military Air Transport plane, a few minutes after the craft took off from a base in the Azores last night, Dulles said.

Reynolds Metals Month-Old Strike Of 9,000 Ended

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—Union and company negotiators tonight announced the end of the 25-day strike by 9,000 workers of the Reynolds Metals Co.

Charles J. Smith, chief negotiator for the United Steelworkers, and Frank Welke, director of labor relations for Reynolds, said in a joint statement that the workers could return to their jobs Monday or as soon thereafter as the plants are ready to resume production.

The new contract calls for 45.6 cent-per-hour package increase over a three-year period.

Smith said the three-year contract is virtually the same as the contract recently negotiated with the Aluminum Co. of America.

It calls for an immediate 9 1/2 cents-an-hour increase across the board. Beginning Aug. 1, 1957 there will be a further across-the-board increase of 7 cents per hour and 6 cents an hour increase Aug. 1, 1958.

Fringe benefits written into the contract include a cost-of-living escalator clause, increased pensions, supplemental unemployment insurance, improved vacations and increased night shift differential.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated average aluminum industry hourly wages at $2.22 before the Alcoa agreement.

Affected by the strike, which began Aug. 1, were Reynolds plants at Troutdale, Ore.; Phoenix, Ariz.; McCook, Ill.; La Grange, Ill.; Jones Mill, Ark.; Arkadelphia, Ark.; Hurricane Creek, Ark.; Bauxite, Ark., and Corpus Christi, Tex.

West Awaits Formal Reply From Nasser

Diplomats Say Egypt To Propose Alternate Plan

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 25 (AP)—President Nasser will reject international control of the Suez Canal and instead will offer maritime powers treaty guarantees of unimpeded shipping, diplomatic sources predicted today.

They said he will offer the guarantees, singly or collectively, as a counterproposal to the demand of 18 nations that the 103-mile waterway be operated by an international board, with Egypt as a member.

The internationalization proposal was drafted by 18 of 22 nations invited to a conference in London after Nasser announced July 28 that Egypt had taken control of the canal from the Suez Canal Co., an international commercial organization dominated by Britain and France.

Five nations were named to a committee, headed by Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies, to negotiate with Nasser on this proposal. An invitation for Nasser to meet with the committee was delivered to the Egyptian Embassy in London last night. Menzies said he hoped for a quick reply.

There was no official indication here on whether Nasser would agree to receive the committee here or anywhere else. Geneva (Continued on Second Page)

Line Explodes Solvents Plant Ammonia Section Damaged By Fire

STERLING, Aug. 25 (Special)—A high pressure ammonia line exploded tonight at Commercial Solvents Corp. plant here, sending flames and fumes over a wide area before firefighters from Monroe and Bastrop extinguished the blaze after about 40 minutes. Damage inside the building was heavy.

The explosion occurred in a 4,000-lb. pressure nitrogen-hydrogen line in the Number 2 converter at the plant, spewing flames over the ammonia plant itself.

Although 12 workers were in that section of the plant, none was injured. Two narrowly escaped serious injury or death when the flaming flames shot past them about two feet away.

The explosion occurred about 9:35 p. m.

Five to six hundred persons gathered at the gates of the plant, but officials did not permit them to enter the plant grounds.

In addition to ammonia, the plant manufactures methanol, anti-freeze, nitric acid, ammonium nitrate solutions, and nitroparaffins.

LaMarca, who police say has confessed kidnapping the 32-day-old Weinberger baby last July 4, had told of leaving the child overnight with a friend in Brooklyn.

But LaMarca refused to name the friend, and there were unofficial reports that authorities had begun to doubt the story.

In another development, Nassau Chief of Detectives Stuyvesant Pinnell said a waitress in a West Hempstead tavern was being sought for questioning in connection with the Weinberger case.

She was identified as Aida Chernichovsky, 30, and was said to have been missing since yesterday. A missing persons alarm was issued for her. Pinnell refused to disclose any details of how she might be connected with the kidnapping.

The Nassau district attorney today ordered a psychiatric test for LaMarca. Dr. Ernani D'Angelo of Jamaica examined the prisoner for 30 minutes, but declined to comment on what he found out about LaMarca.

er interested groups. That's not my proposal."

The board of directors of the Assn. of Citizens Councils of Louisiana issued a strong protest today against inclusion of the segregation measure in the governor's call.

The directors, who met in Alexandria, said the call can only mean legislation to authorize integrated athletics and the enactment of the proposal "would place a stigma on every member of the Legislature who votes" for it in the face of "overwhelming opinion... in favor of the present law."

They said a change "would weaken our segregation laws and jeopardize the peace and good order in the state."

Sugar Bowl president Paul DeBlanc said in an interview that the organization "has nothing to say except we want some relief from the requirements of the law."

DeBlanc said he did not know yet what the governor wanted, that he did not know yet what steps the Sugar Bowl wanted taken, that the Sugar Bowl had no definite plans, and that nothing was definite about who would introduce any legislation or what the legislation would seek to enact.

"Everything is still up in the air," he said.

DeBlanc said there had been no decision about a basketball tournament this winter. Only one of the four teams invited did not pull out when the segregation law was enacted.

ure after the Sugar Bowl asked him to veto it. However, he signed it after a public opinion poll came out heavily in favor of the bill.

The measure passed both houses without a dissenting vote. The Sugar Bowl did not oppose the law in the Legislature.

The law doesn't take effect until Oct. 15, delayed to permit Shreveport to complete the Texas League baseball season.

However, already the law has caused three teams to drop out of the Sugar Bowl basketball tournament and cost Louisiana State University a two-game football series scheduled against the University of Wisconsin.

There was still considerable confusion as to exactly what the legislation in the call would include. Copies of the bills were not available. Indications were some measures had not been drafted.

But a member of the attorney general's staff said more than half the 27 items on the call were "remedial legislation" to correct technical faults in the 1956 session.

Reports were that the lengthy agenda might keep the lawmakers busy the entire 12 days. Normally in a special session, the legislators clear up the work quickly.

The call included appropriations totaling $760,000 at a minimum.

1. To create a Negro college in the New Orleans area, but listing no total.

2. $90,000 to Northwestern State College, Natchitoches, to complete the biological science building.

3. $80,000 to finance transfer of Francis T. Nichols College at Thibodaux from LSU to the state Board of Education and converting it into a four year college.

4. $300,000 to the Board of Voting Machines to pay for additional voting machines.

5. $200,000 from the conservation fund to the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries for operating expenses.

6. $110,000 to state police for stock control on certain highways.

The New Orleans Negro college was recommended by the study of the Commission on Higher Education.

Another item points toward an effort by Long to knit a break between the governor and a long-time political ally, Ernest S. Clements.

Long's proposal to enlarge the Louisiana Public Service Commission from three to five members would have the effect of trimming Clements' term on the commission from six to four years in the redistricting.

Clements is the Democratic nominee to succeed the late chairman Wade O. Martin Sr. on the commission.

The governor bawled out Clements in front of the House when Clements tried to get the constitutional amendment changed to preserve his full six year term. The legislation proposed at the session would have this effect.

The New Orleans States speculated before the call was issued it would contain a revised version of Long's hike in the race-track betting tax from 13 to 15 per cent.

Long and New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison tangled in a name-calling encounter before a House committee over the race-track tax and it was killed in the House, despite an unprecedented third vote on the bill. The measure fell one vote short on the third try.

The call says:

"To amend and re-enact certain sections 155, 153 and 156 of title four of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950 relative to horse racing."

The sections referred to deal with disposition of fees, commissions and moneys; license fees for conducting race meetings and commissions deductible from pari-mutuel pools.

This could indicate both a hike in the betting tax and the license fees, since both are referred to.

The act setting up the new voting machine board originally included a provision calling for removal of voting machines from low-vote precincts. In the face of the first strong opposition of the session, Long's House leaders dropped this provision.

This was the Governor's first major setback of the session.

Administration sources say they propose only minor changes in the voting machine law.

But the call refers to chapter five of title 18 of the Revised Statutes, which is the entire chapter devoted to voting machines, leaving the door open to make any revision desired in the law.

Long wielded a busy veto after the 1956 session, chopping millions of dollars in appropriations okayed by the Legislature. This included a host of tunnel and bridge projects dear to the hearts of lawmakers.

Although not providing any funds, the call proposes legislation "authorizing and directing the department of highways to construct as soon as reasonable and possible certain bridges and tunnels, particularly the following:

1. Tunnel under Industrial Canal, New Orleans.

2. Tunnel under Intracoastal Canal, New Orleans.

3. Tunnel and bridge on Lafourche, Golden Meadow and Grand Isle road.

4. Bridge across Atchafalaya River at Simmesport.

5. Bridge across Red River at Alexandria.

This authorizes and directs the highway department to build the structures when funds become available from regular highway sources.

and Rome have been mentioned as other possible meeting places.

But whatever his decision on receiving the committee may be, the diplomatic sources predicted his reply will reject international control and counter with his offers of treaty guarantees to canal users that their ships will sail through the waterway without restriction.

India, Russia, Ceylon and Indonesia opposed the international control plan at the London conference concluded Thursday. They offered a substitute proposal for continued Egyptian control of the Suez Canal.

Nasser conferred separately today with the Indian and Russian ambassadors to Cairo and with Indonesian Foreign Minister Ruslan Abdulghani, who represented his country at the London meeting.

He said the possibility of a 45-nation conference on Suez navigation guarantees was among the subjects he and Nasser discussed. Nasser had suggested a bigger conference of all the users of the canal in rejecting the British invitation to the London meeting.

Abdulghani said he left London with the impression that nations which wanted internationalization would be willing to compromise in the interest of a peaceful settlement.

"Calls for the use of force which were heard in the early days of the conference have faded into the background and a desire for peace has come to the fore," he said.

But beneath the surface calm here, there was a feeling of heightening tension. The end of the London conference appeared to have revived a sense of crisis.

A good many Egyptians and foreigners alike expressed apprehension over military preparations by Britain and France. Their impression was that the Egyptian government was clearly seeking to avoid any incident that might lead to the use of force.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 25—UP—Egypt will continue to prevent ships carrying "war materials" to or from Israel from passing through the Suez Canal, it was disclosed Saturday.

Wing Commander Ali Sabry, who was Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's chief observer at this week's London Suez conference, made this point during a stopover in Geneva while enroute back to Cairo.

In a long, friendly conversation with United Press Staff Correspondent Helen Fisher, Sabry gave an indication of this government's thinking as he headed home with a formal invitation for Nasser from the conference.

Sabry noted that Egypt has a clear right under Article 10 of the 1888 Suez Canal convention to prevent passage of Israeli ships carrying "war materials" and will continue to exercise it as long as a state of war exists between Israel and the Arab states.

He added, however, that "as long as it is not a shooting war," Egypt will permit passage of ships carrying food and other non-war materials. This was the case with the two ships which unexpectedly went through the canal during the first few days after Egypt nationalized the Suez on July 26.

Dulles Calls

on three engines. The party had to wait there for eight hours till a new plane was flown in to continue the trip to Washington.

Dulles left Washington early last week to attend the London conference.

He said that he expects to spend tomorrow resting. He issued the following statement on landing here:

"The London conference on the Suez Canal set in motion processes designed to lead to a fair and peaceful solution of the grave problems which were created by the action of the Egyptian government. (Egyptian President Nasser suddenly nationalized the waterway and took over its operation late last month.)"

"In London 22 nations met to consider how this waterway, which was internationalized in perpetuity by the treaty of 1888, would assuredly continue to serve the vital interests of the nations which have become dependent upon the canal. And at London of those 22 nations, 18 representing Europe, Asia and Africa—nations whose shipping comprises over 95 per cent of the tonnage using the canal, agreed on operational principles needed to restore confidence that the canal would serve its intended purpose."

"We hope that the government of Egypt will respect the opinions thus soberly but firmly expressed and responsibly make its own indispensable contribution to the peaceful solution which is enjoined by the principles and purposes of the United Nations."

Details of the argument in Moscow circles over the Suez issue became known through diplomatic channels here.

Soviet censors prevented details of the incident from being reported to the world by newsmen who were present, but information leaking out now through diplomatic channels indicates that Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev took a very strong pro-Egyptian stand.

The affair was the latest in a series of developments indicating Russia's hardening attitude on the Suez issue. This was initially demonstrated by Soviet Foreign Minister Shepilov when he met with Dulles and the diplomatic leaders of 20 other countries in London to consider steps to secure international use of the Suez Canal after Egyptian President Nasser nationalized it last month.

Shepilov followed a policy line apparently designed to build Soviet prestige and influence with the Arab peoples and establish an unprecedented position for Russian power in the strategic Middle East.

Wing, Little Rock, Ark., commanded by Capt. Frank W. Hawkey of Coleman, Wis., is in second place with 404 points. Capt. Loyd Kennedy of Sunnyside, Utah, is the pilot, and Capt. Tommy Denton of Maryville, Tenn., the navigator.

The winning crews will not be announced until after the competition ends Aug. 29. The Fairchild trophy will go to the crew winning the bombing-navigation competition. The P. T. Cullen award goes to the best reconnaissance crew. And the best over-all wing will also be honored.

In addition, SAC says, there may be speedy promotion for some of the winning crew members.

The three-man crews of the bombers have made minute studies of their targets. Once in the air they have little time to refer to maps or aerial photos. The navigator of a B47, for instance, must get his aircraft over the three targets at exactly the right moment, and navigate 600 miles between each by reading the stars. SAC explained that in actual warfare aircraft may have to resort to this early method of navigation instead of depending upon electronic devices.

The B47 jets complete the round trip of 2,600 miles, take off and land, in less than seven hours. The B52s complete the trip in six hours with the B36 taking 11 hours. There are 43 aircraft flying the circle each night, with planes being in the air for 20 hours of each day.

Chief Justices Conference Ends

DALLAS, Aug. 25—UP—The annual conference of the chief justices of the United States ended Saturday with the election of Chief Justice Edmund W. Flynn of the Rhode Island Supreme Court as chairman.

Chief Justice John B. Dethmers of Michigan was named vice chairman.

Most of the chief justices stayed on in Dallas for the American Bar Association's 79th annual meeting, which opens Monday.

Some 5,000 members are expected for the ABA meeting, which runs through Aug. 31. Special religious services Sunday will officially launch the meeting. Attorney General Herbert Brownell also will speak to the group Sunday.

The first general session of the Bar Association will be Monday at 10 a.m.

ment on an analysis prepared for him by the research division of the Democratic national committee of the Republican platform for 1956. He said the GOP offering was "one of the rarest collections of already broken promises in modern political history."

Kefauver flew here Saturday to confer with Stevenson before leaving with him on a tour of five sectional Democratic meetings next week. Stevenson said the Democrats had a "fair and open convention."

Important as a time when the vice presidency is so important, and their choice of Kefauver under those conditions was a "contrast" to the Republican renomination of Nixon.

Historical Society Makes Progress Toward Museum

Thank you for your enthusiastic response to our plea for collectors' items to be used in our museum. Your interest and enthusiasm are most encouraging.

Three of the most interesting donations made this week were by Mrs. John Pracher, a long time resident of Monroe. One of the items Mrs. Pracher donated was a copy of Comely's "Spelling and Reading Book," published in 1842. The book is completely gone, but the printed matter is intact.

Another of Mrs. Pracher's donations is one of the original "thumbprint" globes, which she says has been in her family for all of 85 years. It is approximately age, however, is unknown. Perhaps we have an expert in our midst on old glass who could tell us something more.

The third donation is a stone china "Pitcher" (Tulip Design) which was made in Dalehall, England by James Edwards and Sons. Since this company moved from Dalehall in 1842, we draw the obvious conclusion that the pitcher must have been made prior to that time. The pitcher is in perfect condition without a chip or flaw.

In this column which has been granted us temporarily by this newspaper to help us with this drive for relics, we will continue to inform you of the progress being made in this respect, and to describe briefly some of the most interesting loans and donations. Next week we plan to tell you about the fashion magazine which we have just received, about some antique firearms, and old pictures of scenes and events which transpired in Monroe and West Monroe in the almost forgotten past.

In the meantime why not make your donation too? Or loan us the things which have too much sentimental value to you for you to give up completely.

The board of directors of the Louisiana Genealogical and Historical Society will take into consideration our application for official acceptance as a chapter of the state society at their next meeting, which will be held in New Orleans September 8th.

The Genealogical Register published by the state society carried an article complimenting the Ouachita group for its rapid growth and the great amount of interest which has been shown by the people of this area.

Excess Purchases Revealed In Study Of County Records

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25 (AP)—A legislative committee study of the Greene County Board of Supervisors today revealed excess purchases but no violations "from a criminal standpoint."

The legislative recess investigating committee, headed by Sen. Stanton Hall of Hattiesburg, said the lengthy study turned up $362.98 in "excess purchases of grader blades" in beat two.

The committee recommended the state auditor recover this amount.

The committee statement said, in part:

"Although your committee is of the opinion that there was excessive purchase of grader blades for the period Oct. 1, 1955 to June 12, 1956, and that it was impossible for the board of supervisors of beat two to use all blades purchased during this time.

"Your committee was unable to determine any violations from a criminal standpoint of this matter."

The committee said most of the blades were bought from Lead Clad Culvert and Supply Co. which bid $1.10 per foot. However, the blades were billed in beat two at $1.40 per foot.

In other action, the committee found the board of supervisors sold to the Lucas Land Co. in 1935 all timber on a section of land and granted the company 20 years to remove it.

The committee said the sale place was $50 but the company sold the timber for $10,000 after denuding the land.

"Your committee is of the opinion," the statement continued, "that since the 20 years has expired, no action could be taken at this time to correct the situation."

Pontiac Refinery Project Remains At A Standstill

PURVIS, Miss., Aug. 25 (AP)—Work on the building of a 10 million dollar Pontiac refinery project remained at a standstill again today as carpenters and other construction workers honored picket lines set up by plumbers and steamfitters.

Officials of Fluor Corp., the construction firm, said about 350 of the picketing group, Plumbers and Steamfitters local 59 of Hattiesburg, were employed on the job.

The local claims Fluor is "unfair," according to signs carried by pickets.

Fluor officials disclaimed knowledge of the reason behind the strike and union officials declined comment.

One picket told a newsman the reason behind the trouble was that Fluor would not officially recognize Jack Nix, local union business agent, as the union representative.

The picket said F. D. Conn, whom Nix defeated in a recent election, continued to represent the local.

A list of membership taken from our charter is as follows:

A special meeting of the society was held at the Ouachita Parish library Saturday, August 25th, with the purpose of doing research work. There was an excellent turnout and we hope to have many more of these informal meetings. The next regular meeting will be held at the Ouachita Parish court house Saturday, Sept. 22nd at 2 p.m. Guests are welcome.

Tech Lists Activities For Fall Registration

RUSTON, Aug. 25 (Special)—Louisiana Tech, now quieted by the absence of classroom activity, will begin to bustle again on Saturday, September 15, when preliminary procedure for the opening of the fall semester gets under way.

More than 100 upper-class advisers to freshman women students are scheduled to meet in Howard Auditorium at 6:30 p.m. on September 15.

Dormitories for freshman men and women will be opened at 1 p.m. Sunday, September 16. A planning meeting with advisers to beginning men students has been arranged for 3 p.m. that day in the office of the dean of men. At 6:45 p.m. a vesper service will be conducted in Howard Auditorium in charge of Dr. J. B. Wilson, dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

A convocation for freshmen is listed for 8 a.m. on Monday, September 17, in Howard Auditorium. Roland Robertson of Mansfield, president of the Student Senate, will preside.

At 9 a.m. on September 17, beginning men students will meet with S. X. Lewis, dean of men, in Howard Auditorium and first-year women students will meet with Miss Martha Condra, dean of women, in Adams cafeteria.

Following these meetings examination and registration cards will be distributed to freshman boys. Mathematics tests for all freshman whose curricula require college algebra will be given at 10:15 a.m. in various rooms of Bogard Hall. College abilities examinations are arranged for September 17. A meeting of the faculty is scheduled for 4 p.m. on September 17 in the auditorium.

The program for Tuesday, September 18, will be as follows:

8 a.m., freshman convocations with academic deans; 9 a.m., a student life convocation for all new students in the auditorium, sponsored by the Women's League; 10:30 a.m., additional college abilities tests and physical examinations; 3:30 p.m., formal tea for all freshmen to be given by the dean of women in the reception room of Adams Hall; 7:30 p.m., traditional capping ceremony for freshman women, followed by an informal reception for all freshmen on Aswell Terrace.

The agenda for Wednesday, September 19, is as follows:

8 a.m., registration of student assistants; 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., registration of freshmen and upper-class advisers; 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., religious centers will hold open house for all students; 6:30 p.m., interfraternity Council meeting with men students in the Student Center; 7:30-9:30 p.m., "Merry Mixup" dance for new students only, sponsored by the Student Union.

Registration for upperclassmen will begin at 8 a.m. on Thursday, September 20, and continue through the day. The Pan-Hellenic Council will meet with women students in the auditorium at 6 p.m. and church parties will follow at 7:30 p.m. Classes will begin at 8 a.m. on Friday, September 21. Concluding that day an all-campus dance will be held in the women's gymnasium, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Another orientation feature will be a Pan-Hellenic tea honoring new women students in the Adams Hall reception room on Thursday, September 27.

Bowen Is Honor Grad At M. I. T.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (Special)—Ray Bowen, Jr., a 1952 Neville High School graduate, received his S.B. degree in chemical engineering this summer with an outstanding scholastic and extracurricular activity record at Mass. Institute of Technology.

Dr. Raymond F. Baddour, assistant professor of chemical engineering, states, "Ray proved the best group leader in his class" while Dr. Edwin Gilliland, professor of chemical engineering, had this to say about Bowen, "Ray was a very fine-appearing boy and did excellent work."

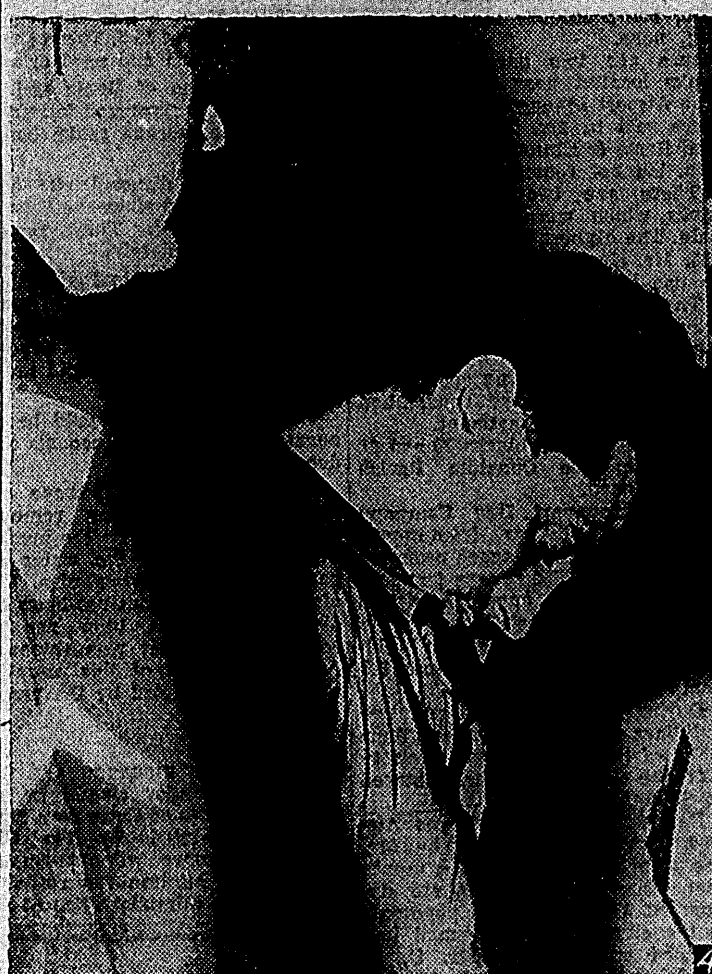

The Neville alumnus was on the Dean's List for five terms, including his entire senior year. This honor is indicative of high scholastic achievement.

His undergraduate accomplishments and activities included these memberships and offices: student chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers (treasurer during senior year), Senior Week Committee and assistant editor of the MIT senior yearbook, "Technique."

Other activities included: Beta Theta Pi (fraternity) Pledge Captain (senior year), Sophomore Council member, and freshman football team.

Ray plans to re-enter MIT in its graduate school for further engineering study.

Alabama To Vote Tuesday On New Race Amendment

MONTGOMERY, Aug. 25 (AP)—A far-reaching constitutional amendment aimed at preserving school segregation on a "voluntary" basis in Alabama will be ratified or rejected in a special election Tuesday.

The bitterly contested "freedom of choice" plan would allow par-classrooms for their children and would give the legislature broad authority to abolish any or all public schools.

It would strike from the state constitution the present mandatory barriers against integration, but at the same time would renounce any obligation to provide free public education.

The "freedom of choice" amendment, and the resulting campaign for and against it, have overshadowed five other proposed changes in the constitution which will be voted on at the same time.

Of perhaps equal significance but less controversial is an amendment to enable city and county governing bodies to dispose of recreational facilities and public housing to prevent race mixing.

Another is an amendment to raise the ceiling on corporation income taxes from 3 to 5 per cent to give an estimated six million dollars year more to the schools. Educators say the money is needed to help offset a threatened deficit in the coming school year.

The other three amendments are purely local, affecting only individual cities and counties.

Some educators and some lawyers interpret the "freedom of choice" amendment as legalizing integrated schools for students whose parents make no choice, but state Sen. Albert Boutwell of Birmingham, leading the campaign for ratification, says it doesn't mean that.

Boutwell concedes, however, that nothing in the amendment says Alabama can't have integrated schools.

Suppose a child chooses to attend an integrated school? Boutwell says the pupil might get a court order entitling him to admittance but that the Legislature could abolish any integrated schools.

The amendment designed to prevent integration in public parks, playgrounds, swimming pools and public housing would empower local governments to sell or give them away.

But the voters in each community would have to approve the transaction first.

Man Drowns On Swimming Party

A young Richland Parish Negro drowned Saturday afternoon in Beauf River while swimming with friends.

Ernest T. Johnson, 21, of Rt. 5, Rayville, reportedly drowned in Beauf River about one mile north of "Rhymes" Store Saturday at 12:45 p.m. Swimming mates of Johnson stated that Johnson was swimming in about 8 feet of water when he apparently "gave out" and sank. His friends began to dive for him. The body was found and removed from the river by James Brown and George Harris after approximately one hour of intense searching.

Hunt For Sniper Spreading North From Florida

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Aug. 25 (AP)—Police and the FBI from Florida north to Washington and New York searched Saturday for a deaf mute suspected of the sniper slaying of the wife of a man who had prosecuted him.

The hunted man, known for his bad temper and threats against persons who fired him, prosecuted him for trespassing and sentenced him to jail, was traced to Jacksonville shortly after Mrs. Osee Fagan was shot to death in front of her suburban Gainesville home. She was the wife of the Alachua county attorney.

A later report by Jacksonville authorities said a man fitting 41-year-old Phillip Singer's description boarded a non-stop Eastern Airlines flight to Washington Friday at 1:45 a.m., some four hours after the killing. The plane continued to New York.

Singer was the only suspect in the fatal shooting, which officers believed was the result of his grudge against the county prosecutor for his part in getting a trespassing conviction against Singer.

Some 20 minutes before Mrs. Fagan was shot, a stranger also fired through a screen door 10 blocks away, barely missing the wife of Earl Sasser, manager of the local golf and country club. Sasser fired Singer last April from his job as a maintenance man at the club and later brought the trespassing charges.

Police have determined that

Singer was in Gainesville last week and early this week. Then a report Friday from Jacksonville indicated he checked into a hotel room about 2 1/2 hours after the murder 65 miles to the west. The hotel clerk said a deaf mute fitting Singer's description checked into the hotel under the name of "James Collins" and that he then indicated nervously he was going to go out to eat. He never came back, and police later found "Collins'" suitcase contained clothing marked "Phillip Singer." This, Sheriff Joe Crevasse said Friday, "is the only real clue we have as to his whereabouts."

Vice President Leaves Father To Plan Campaign

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25 (AP)—Vice President Nixon left the bedside of his seriously ill father long enough today to hold a campaign strategy meeting with several of his key Southern California supporters.

He told newsmen tentative plans call for his concentrated stumping to begin the week of Sept. 17 but that he plans to make an informal appearance in Chicago Sept. 7 at a meeting of the National Assn. of Republican Women's Clubs.

"This is not going to be a shotgun type of approach," Nixon said, "but more the rifle approach. We'll pick the states where the races look close and where the campaigning will count the most."

"Not that we'll ignore the other states," he added.

Present for the strategy session in the Stadler Hotel were Reps. Robert Wilson, Patrick J. Hillings and Glenard P. Lipscomb, all of Southern California; and Edward F. Reinecke, Jr., and William Price, administrative assistants to Wilson and Hillings, respectively. Also on hand were Vic Johnston of Washington, D. C., executive director of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee, and three local men described by Nixon as volunteer advance men for the campaign.

They were Jack Drown, a Rolling Hills magazine distributor; Ray Arbutnot, La Verne citrus rancher; and Robert Finch, a Los Angeles attorney.

Nixon said he planned to fly to Washington, D. C. tomorrow night for conferences there Monday "unless there is some change in the situation at home."

The latest report from the family physician, Dr. I. M. Kraus-haar, was that 77-year-old Frank Nixon is continuing to "hold his own."

Jes' Ramblin'

It spans a canyon near the foot of Teton Mts. It is a third dam to supply electric power and at the same time, supplies irrigation water. The Shoshone Indians were in the midst of a three-day dance fest, handed down through the years. For food, rattlesnake meat, lizards, roast mountain goat, etc., were served. An Idaho county bears the name of Snake river. Jenny and Jackson Lake at the foot of Teton mountains were visited. A great lodge was inspected at Jackson Hole. It cost a million and a quarter dollars. Of course Old Faithful Geyser was paid a visit.

A large herd of elk, moose and deer were almost commonplace and bear were so numerous that it was hard to drive without hitting them.

Fishing was enticing and is permitted in the park minus a license. Principal catches were rainbow trout and Dolly Vardens. Temperature was one night as low as 31 degrees.

Fields of Idaho potatoes were numerous for this state leads in the culture of these tubers, outclassing all other states in this respect. The visitors went to Ogden and Salt Lake City in returning, observing spotlessly clean cities and absence of flies and mosquitoes, made possible by wide spraying of destroyers. Utah was observed as a great place for fine fruit.

From Utah, Wyoming and Little America were places for a stop-over. Little America is a new crossroads established for tourists. Laramie, Denver and Colorado Springs were on the route home and in 5,000 miles, no accidents or auto trouble were experienced. It was a great trip to recount later on.

Quachita parish schools will open Thursday September 6 at 8 a. m. It is stated by Assistant Supt. Milford Hall.

On Tuesday and Wednesday Sept. 4 and 5 teachers will hold work conferences conducted by leaders in varied lines of education.

Pupils will attend Thursday and Friday from 8 a. m. to noon on the opening week.

The City of Monroe schools will open the day following Labor Day on Sept. 4 for a half day's work. This plan will be followed through the first week of school.

The annual football jamboree which is sponsored by the West Monroe high school and West Monroe Lions club, will be held in Brown stadium, Northeast State college, at 7:30 p. m., August 31.

Three games are planned each one of two 12 minute quarters, the participants are to be: Bernice, Columbia, Holly Ridge, Bastrop, Ouachita parish and West Monroe high.

The first game will be Bernice vs. Columbia. The second game is to be Quachita vs. Holly Ridge, the third game will be Bastrop vs. West Monroe.

Some exciting sport is assured and a capacity crowd will in all probability be in attendance.

A baby girl has just arrived in the Ben Hays family, as the first addition to the family. She is called Beverly Sue Hays.

The father was busy Friday passing out cigars to his fellow workmen in the mechanical department of the News-Star-World.

From Honolulu, the executive secretary of the Hill Chamber of Commerce, has sent by airmail information that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Petty of Monroe are visitors there. In the four days they spent there, he reports that the Monroians were much impressed by the natural beauty of the Island and especially of orchids and flowering trees.

The News-Star — World phone rang and a serious toned voice asked for first one and then another member of the force. Finally he asked, "Is this Jes' Ramblin'?"

He was answered in the affirmative.

"Well," he said, "this is a man in the jail house!"

Our sympathies were immediately aroused.

"Who are you and what have you been doing to get in that fix?" we asked.

"Oh, I've been here a long time," he said with trembling tones.

When further pressed to know his name, even if he would not confess the crime, he said, "I'm C. B. Braun."

British Call New Hairdo 'Nasser Roll'
BARNSTAPLE, England, Aug. 25—UP—Britain's latest male hair do is called the "Nasser roll," after the Egyptian leader.

Barber Stephen Moore, who created it, said Saturday the hairdo has a side bow wave, high parting, and lightly waved center. He said it is popular with gobs in the royal navy.

War Orphans Urged To Apply For Benefits

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—UP—The Veterans Administration Saturday advised students who plan to attend college under the new war orphans education law to get their applications in the mail right away.

Normally, the VA said, it takes three months to process the applications and get the first check in the mail. Under the law, young men and women who are the children of veterans who died of injuries or diseases as a result of service in World War I, World War II or the Korean war are eligible for schooling.

Adlai To Make Campaign Speech In New Jersey

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 25—UP—Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson will make a major campaign speech Sept. 9 in Paltades amusement park, it was announced Saturday.

Robert J. Burkhardt, executive of the Democratic state committee, said the appearance was interpreted as a "gesture of appreciation" for New Jersey's support for Stevenson at the Democratic national convention.

Couple's Fathers Die Within Hours Of Each Other

MERIDIAN, Miss., Aug. 25—UP—The fathers of Circuit Judge and Mrs. William Gunn died within a few hours of each other today.

William James Ross, 58-year-old merchant and farmer, and father of Mrs. Gunn, died at his home at 6:30 a. m.

William Gunn Sr., 58-year-old letter carrier and the father of Judge Gunn, died in Anderson Infirmary about noon.

The Judge and Mrs. Gunn had left on a vacation trip to North Carolina and had to be located by the Highway Patrol.

They returned home this afternoon.

Funeral arrangements for the two men are incomplete.

Ross is survived by his widow, a son and four sisters. When the Gunn is survived by his widow and several brothers and sisters.

The Colorado woman who had a baby in a movie theater had too much curiosity. She said she just couldn't leave the show until she found out how it ended.

Brother-In-Law Held For Killing Of Mississippian

FULTON, Miss., Aug. 25—UP—Itawamba County Sheriff Wayne Wood said today he charged a 64-year-old Montgomery, Ala., man with murder in the shotgun death of his brother-in-law.

Wood identified the man as R. P. Shisslette and said he admitted firing the three blasts from a 20 gauge shotgun that killed Charles Shumpert, 48, yesterday.

The sheriff said his investigation showed.

Shisslette had separated from his wife and their 14-year-old son and was living with the Shumperts, his aunt and uncle.

Yesterday, Shisslette went to the Shumpert home 10 miles south of Fulton to get the boy. When the boy refused, they argued.

Shumpert ordered the argument stopped and Shisslette shot him. Two witnesses agreed with the story.

Sheriff Wood said Shisslette later told him he fired only after Shumpert "reached into his hip pocket as if for a gun." After the shooting, Shisslette fled in his automobile and was arrested by Alabama highway patrolmen near Hamilton, Ala.

Blaze Destroys Grade School At Lockney, Texas

LOCKNEY, Tex., Aug. 25—UP—The grade school at Lockney burned early Saturday under circumstances which resembled the burning of the post office Monday.

The fire that destroyed the school—the loss was estimated at $30,000 to $40,000—was discovered at 3:31 a. m. by Brad Hardy, who lives nearby.

Possibly because of the similarity between the two fires, an investigation from the State Fire Commission was ordered to Lockney to start an inquiry.

Picking Methods Improve Cotton Fiber Quality

WINNSBORO, Aug. 25 (Special)— Make the best better should be the motto of every cotton grower since cotton is the best fiber on market today. At cotton picking time is where the grower can improve the quality of this fiber or cause it to be of a low grade that is not in demand on world market. Synthetic fibers are encroaching on the cotton market and spinners are turning to synthetics more and more each year due to the loss and low quality of present day cotton. Mechanical pickers can make a direct contribution to the lowering of grades of cotton if precautions are not used in picking cotton with machines.

Tar bottom sacks have been outlawed by the cotton growing interest because tar chips are rubbed off the sacks and find themselves into the fiber. Stains caused by the tar can't be removed from the finished cloth.

In Franklin Parish in 1955 there were 50,200 bales classed by the U. S. D. A. Cotton Classing Office of which 73 per cent pulled 1-16 inch fiber. There were 27 per cent classed middling, 37 per cent strict low middling, and 28 per cent low middling. Using middling 1-16 inch cotton as basis for comparison and assuming that the 1956 crop will class about the same as that of 1955, there can be a half million dollars gained in the parish 1956 crop if the present of the two grades below middling can be reduced to a minor amount. Approximately 90 per cent of the 1956 crop will go into the government loan program. There is a loan value of $170.20 for middling 1-16 inch 500 low middling there is a loss of cotton of the same length drops one grade below middling or to strict low middling, there is a loss of $13.00 per bale if it is classed two grades below middling or to low middling there is a loss of $27.25 per bale. For one grade above middling the grower gains $4 per bale and if classed good middling there is a gain per bale of $4.75. Here we find poor quality or trashy cotton being greatly discouraged.

The following are recommended picking practices for machine or hand pickers: If the grower is to realize the greatest profit from fiber crop and help improve it to maintain future favor for this fiber by the spinners:

1. Pick cotton as soon as possible after it opens to reduce weather damage. Delay starting machines until 9 a.m. for best samples. Moisture will be less. Don't machine pick after shower. Permit cotton to dry.

2. Don't mix good and trash or poor quality cotton for ginning.

3. Don't tramp seed cotton in trailers. This grinds up leaves.

4. Don't let colored cloth as handkerchiefs, face rags, etc. get in seed cotton.

5. Prevent mechanical pickers from causing "tangled-up knots" or "Picker Twists," as well as grease and oil from getting on cotton.

6. Keep cotton pickers adjusted to keep plant stains, juices, and bark from the cotton. Don't put mechanical or hand pickers in fields if cotton is still damp from dew or rain. Damp cotton requires greater heat at gins which will probably shorten the fiber.

7. Control late grass and weeds if machine picking. Grass and lint mixture is costly. Defoliate cotton for mechanical picking but don't defoliate until top bolls are 30 days old. Disc turnrows. Hand pick row ends. Don't machine pick without defoliating.

8. Apply only enough moisture to keep spindles clean if machine picking.

9. Clean out picker drum each

time basket is dumped. Don't throw "clean out" back in trailer. Wash out picker heads often.

10. Adjust drum head of pickers to avoid picking up ground trash.

11. Mechanical picker operators study picker manual and follow directions as to doffers, spindles, moisture, speed, plant juices, leaf stain, storage, trash collection, and oil and grease accumulation.

12. Keep picker basket clean. Remove "lint rings" that collect around the spindle base.

13. Sun dry first picking of rank cotton for better sample — when possible.

Highway Dept. To Foot Bill For Ki Ro Li Blacktop

The Louisiana Highway Department, through the cooperation of state Senator James Sparks and Representatives Gilbert Faulk and Lawrence Gibbs, has agreed to blacktop the Camp Ki Ro Li road in its entirety. A. E. Montgomery, president of the Ouachita Parish police jury, stated Saturday.

The work on the road, which is now gravel-covered, will be started as soon as possible, he added. Jurymen from Ward five, where the road is located, who helped secure state aid in the project, are Ollie Carter, Percy Nichols and Tom Hicks.

The department of highways is footing the entire bill, Montgomery said.

The state highway department and the parish are jointly paying for a project to construct and blacktop the Johnson Harmon road, now gravel, in Ward four a distance of 4.21 miles.

Jurymen C. A. Kincaid of Ward four was instrumental in securing the state aid.

The work will cost an estimated $87,414 which is being financed jointly by the state highway department and the parish. The state will pay $45,417 while the parish will pay the balance.

However, Montgomery said the balance will be paid by the state under the long range highway program.

Color Coding On Curbs To Clarify City Parking

Curbs denoting traffic zones are being repainted in the city, the police department announced Saturday.

Where a curb is painted white, vehicles may park only for loading and unloading, authorities said, while yellow curbs means absolutely no parking at any time.

The curbs are painted yellow in safety zones, pedestrian zones, fire hydrants and theatre zones, officials explained. No parking is allowed at any time in front of a theatre since that is regarded as a zone to be used in cases of such an emergency as a fire, police pointed out.

Policemen are still working on the curb painting project and plan to finish by the first of September.

The police department stressed that no parking is allowed at any time in the natural zone in the business district such as from a sidewalk to the streets. There is a city ordinance calling for a person who obstructs the sidewalk to be penalized, authorities stated.

Mrs. Eunice Lee Dies; Was Well Known Beautician

Mrs. Eunice Lee, 49, owner of Eunice Lee Beauty Salon at 308 North Second street, died in a Monroe hospital Saturday morning after an illness of several weeks.

Gulfco Investment Group Incorporated

Gulfco Investment Group Incorporated, a Louisiana company, is currently offering to bona fide residents of Louisiana 1,200,000 shares of common stock at $2.50 per share to secure funds for investment in Louisiana's future. Through the organization of a series of integrated insurance companies, including an old line Legal Reserve life insurance company and an auto physical damage insurance company, Gulfco Investment Group Incorporated expects to further develop and expand Louisiana's share of the multi-billion dollar insurance market. For the thousands who feel this investment is sound, but perhaps lack the ready capital to act upon their judgment, Gulfco has tailored an investment buying program which places within the reach of everyone the means to build an estate for future security.

Today, approximately 67 per cent of the wealth of America is owned or controlled by life insurance companies, and of the 15 largest companies in the U.S., five are life insurance companies. This powerful position of insurance companies reflects the belief of millions of Americans that insurance investment is perhaps the soundest, most flexible of all investment programs. They feel that stability, security and safety are built into insurance companies through: (1) the ease with which they can convert assets into cash, (2) through the forward-looking policies of the Federal government which exempt insurance companies from many of the taxes other corporations must bear, and (3) through the standardization of the risks in which insurance companies deal by centuries of experience and the simple application of the law of averages.

The Louisiana businessmen who have organized and backed Gulfco Investment Group Incorporated have studied the long record of success enjoyed by the members of the insurance industry. They are convinced that in Louisiana lies potentially a vast untapped insurance market. They are prepared to invest in Louisiana's future—and they invite you to join them.

Registration To Open At Northeast Sept. 12

Registration for the fall semester at Northeast State will open September 12 with the beginning of freshman enrollment and orientation. The program for freshmen will continue through September 14. Upper classmen will start enrolling September 13 and continue through the week.

All beginning students and persons transferring from other colleges or universities are requested to bring their transcripts of credits. Dr. Clint Hanna, director of admissions, announced.

Veterans who are to enroll on the G. I. or Korean Bill should have certificates of eligibility from the Veterans Administration. This procedure will assist in shortening the registration program.

A special freshman orientation assembly has been planned by Northeast administrators and Bobby Joe Oden, Student Council president. This phase of activities will open Wednesday, September 12 at 9 a.m. in Brown Auditorium. Numerous social features also have been listed on the calendar for the first school week, Oden said.

Thursday's registration will carry out the following procedure according to alphabetical arrangement: A, 8-9 a.m.; B, 9-10 a.m.; C, 10-11 a.m.; D, E, F, 11-12; G, 12 p.m.; H, 2-3 p.m.; I, J, K, 3-4 p.m.

Friday's schedule runs as follows:

lows: L, M, 8-9 a.m.; N, 9-10 a.m.; O, P, 10-11 a.m.; Q, R, 11-12; S, 1-2 p.m.; T, U, V, 2-3 p.m.; W, X, Y, Z, 3-4 p.m.

Parley Between Ike And Nehru To Face New Delays

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—UP—The once-postponed conference between President Eisenhower and Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru is facing new problems that could put off the meeting for months.

High administration sources said Saturday that both the President and Nehru have very busy schedules ahead and no date has been set for their meeting. The conference was postponed in July because of the President's abdominal operation.

Most American and Indian officials doubt Nehru will suggest a date for his visit between now and the November election. They believe the Indian leader, a controversial figure, will avoid coming here while the President and the nation are embroiled in politics.

Former Ambassador to India John Sherman Cooper, who resigned a week ago to run for the Senate from Kentucky, championed the idea of a personal Eisenhower-Nehru meeting. He believes many of the problems between the two countries could be eased, if not solved, if the Indian leader could hear first-hand the President's word peace views.

First Ouachita Bale Goes For Premium Price

Businessmen and civic leaders Saturday morning upped bidding for the first bale of cotton produced in Ouachita parish until it was finally sold for 86 cents per pound. The 535 pound bale, produced by J. D. Hightower in the western part of the parish, brought a total of $460.10.

The auction, sponsored by the agricultural committee of the Monroe Chamber of Commerce, was held in the lobby of the Ouachita National Bank with Ike Hamilton doing the auctioning.

The high bid of 86 cents was made by E. B. White, representative of the Agricultural Chemicals Corporation of Natchitoches. Approximately 100 bidders and interested spectators attended the auction.

The cotton was grown by Hightower on property rented from Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wood. The farm is located six miles east of Eros in Ouachita parish.

"We are very happy to have been able to promote the 1956 bale of cotton auction especially with the tremendous participation that we received from our advance premium sponsors," Agricultural Chairman Paul Ransom said.

Through the cooperation of the 21 premium sponsors a total of $210 was added to the bidding prices. Sponsors included: Arcadia Cotton Oil Co., Ouachita Fertilizer and Chemical Co., Tyner-Petrus, Motor Supply Co., Scott Truck and Tractor Co., E. R. Kiper Hdw. and Supply Co., Silverstein's, Federal Compress, Stone Cotton Co., Central Oil Co., J. C. Penney, N. E. Survey Planned

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—UP—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced Saturday a survey of 2,000 U. S. hospitals to determine the results obtained with Salk vaccine in 1956.

Hospitals will be asked to report on the number of paralytic polio cases among unvaccinated persons as compared to the number of cases having had one, two or three Salk shots. The study will cover the peak of the polio season from Aug. 15 to Sept. 30.

Disc Jockey On Pole To Receive Visit From Star

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Joe Holcomb, WLCS' telephone pole sitting disc jockey, has proved his point. National recording stars do care for disc jockeys. Asst. WLCS manager Gene Nelson said CBS radio singer Pat Boone was flying into town tomorrow to get Holcomb off the 40-foot telephone pole he climbed last Monday.

Boone will fly here from Columbus, Ohio, just long enough to get Holcomb down.

thru Godfrey vocalist paid him a visit.

For almost a week Holcomb has carried on his program from a four feet square platform on top of the pole, perched at a busy traffic intersection on the outskirts of Baton Rouge's business district.

Newcomer said that as a safety service to drivers over the coming holidays the new firm will inspect and rotate tires at no charge up to and including September 1.

Associated with him in the operation is Mrs. Newcomer and a staff of trained personnel including Harry Maddox, Charles Holcomb, Junior Gibson, Wardell Williams and Levi Smith.

Woman Employee Arraigned For Bank Funds Theft

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 —UP— A primly-dressed spinster stood in flat-heeled shoes before a U. S. commissioner Saturday and heard herself charged with embezzling only a fraction of the sum which prosecutors believe she took from her employer-bank to help small businessmen.

She was Miss Bessie E. Roth, 46, Berwyn, Ill., a bookkeeper at the Lawndale National Bank. Federal attorneys said they believed she embezzled $457,228 to help struggling small businesses, and kept "not a dime" for herself.

Miss Roth held a handkerchief to her face, and cried into it occasionally as she was brought into a U. S. marshal's cell before her appearance in commissioner's court. She was calm, although pale, when she faced U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike and heard him tell her she was charged with embezzling $3,756.49 on July 20, 1956.

"Why that amount?" she asked in a low voice. Pike explained that prosecutors had singled out only one check as an example.

"Now, if I let you go on your own bond, will you come back?" asked Pike. "Yes, sir," Miss Roth replied. A federal attorney explained that she could go her own bond because she owns real estate.

A police matron who brought the woman to court said she was "most pitiful." She said the prisoner, wearing rayon jersey knit dress with white collar, flatheeled shoes and a neat hairdo but no makeup, only now seemed to be awakening to the fact she was in a "tough spot."

Meanwhile, government sources said steps would be taken to recover some of the embezzled funds from the "six or seven" firms believed to have profited, some perhaps some unwittingly, from Miss Roth's actions. Preliminary investigation showed one firm may have got in excess of $200,000, another an $18,000 "loan."

She had worked at the bank for 33 years. At present there seemed to be no suspicion that she was acting from anything but "an altruistic heart," said Frank McGarr, assistant U. S. attorney. Nor was there any sign that she had any accomplices in her juggling of funds from her position as bookkeeping supervisor.

Women Voters Congratulated By Both Candidates

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25—UP— President Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, congratulated the League of Women Voters Saturday on the 36th anniversary of the woman suffrage amendment.

Sen. George To Leave For NATO Talks In Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 —UP— Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), President Eisenhower's special representative for NATO, leaves for Europe next week on the first leg of his mission to help broaden the Atlantic Pact in the non-military field.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, plans to leave Friday by ship for London. From there he will go to Paris, Bonn, Rome and perhaps other European capitals to discuss with foreign leaders ideas about expanding NATO's political, economic and cultural functions and thereby solidify Western unity.

FNMA Purchases $229 Million In FHA Mortgages

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 —UP— The Federal National Mortgage Association, in its first year of operation, bought $229 million worth of Federal Housing Administration mortgages, officials said Saturday.

These mortgages were sold by mortgage companies, savings and loans associations, banks and similar institutions which were unable to find permanent investors. The FNMA, or "Fannie Mae" as it is called, was set up to provide an outlet for government-backed mortgages when permanent investors, like insurance companies, cannot be found.

Bad Weather And Iron Shots Give Ike Hard Time

PEBBLE BEACH, Aug. 25 —UP— Barking sea lions, foggy weather and erratic iron shots combined Saturday to give President Eisenhower a hard time of it on the golf course.

The Chief Executive summed up his feelings as he hit his first drive high in the air from the first tee of the Cypress Point course beside the Pacific Ocean.

"That," said the President of the United States, "was a louse." Embarking on his second full 18-hole round since his June 9 heliois operation, the Chief Executive took a two-over-par six on the 420 yard first hole. What he did after that was a national secret because Secret Service agents shooed reporters and photographers from the course after Mr. Eisenhower completed the first hole.

The Chief Executive played with Norman Chandler, president of the Los Angeles Times Mirror Co.; Barry Leithhead, president of the Cluett Peabody Co. and one of the President's golfing pals at the Augusta (Ga.) national golf club, and Charles S. Jones of Los Angeles, president of the Richfield Oil Co.

Mr. Eisenhower's doctor, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, said the Chief Executive stood up well under his first full round which he played Friday.

"He's looking right as far as I can see," Snyder said. "He came in without being fatigued after 18 holes Friday and that is all right."

The President looked sleepy-eyed as he emerged from the residential section of the Cypress Point clubhouse shortly after 9 a.m. While waiting for his foursome to assemble, he hit a number of practice shots while his caddy, Turk Archdeacon, retrieved the balls.

On the rocks offshore sea lions kept up a noisy chatter and a light mist, known locally as "high fog," drifted down on the Chief Executive who wore a buff-colored cap, two-tone tan sports shirt, a tan sweater and slacks.

White Sox Cool Yankees; Phillies Shut Out Braves

Donovan Checks New York On 6 Hits To Win, 4-2

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Dick Donovan pitched a neat 6-hitter today as the Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 4-2 to make it three games out of four in the finale of their series played before 54,448 customers at Yankee Stadium.

The Pale Hose jumped on Whitey Ford for all their runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings after Mickey Mantle had put the Yankees ahead in the fourth with a two-run homer, his 44th of the year. Ford allowed only two singles for the first five innings.

But the big crowd, on hand for the annual old timers game between former Yankee and White Soxers, watched Mickey become the goat in the Chicago seventh.

With two out, Fred Hatfield walked, and Donovan scratched a hit off Gil McDougald's glove. Hatfield scored when Lula Aparicio singled to right center sharply, and when Mantle's throw bounced into the Chicago dugout, Donovan was waved home with the run that gave the Sox 3-1 lead.

Neville Launches Sale Of Season's Football Tickets

Season football tickets for all Neville High School home games will go on sale tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock at the school only, according to Principal Paul J. Neal.

The sale will continue for at least four weeks and the tickets may be procured Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., including the noon hour.

All six home games will cost $6 but including pastebords for the Ouachita and West Monroe contests bring the total to $8. This year the Lions and Rebels are host teams for the cross-town and inter-city clashes.

General admission and student tickets will be sold at the gates only the night of each game. In order to be assured of good seats Tiger fans are urged to buy their season tickets early, for, from present indications, the ducaus will probably be moving rapidly.

All Neville home games, including the Lion and Reb contests, will start at 8 p.m. with the six Tiger home affairs being played in Neville Stadium. The Ouachita and West Monroe games, as in the past, will continue to be played at Brown Field.

With the exception of one change the Tiger grid schedule remains the same as last year; Rayville replaces Marion of Lake Charles. Although the Hornets are no newcomers to the Neville slate, they were absent last season for the first time in a number of years.

Rival Teams Pick Queens To Ruston Grid Festival

RUSTON, La., Aug. 25 (Special)

All four high schools which have entered football teams in the Ruston Lions Club fifth annual football jamboree named their queens this week for the forthcoming grid festival, and final plans were made for the gala event to be staged in the Louisiana Tech Stadium Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The four high school jamboree queens, who will be honored guests for the fifth grid festival sponsored by the Ruston Lions, will be seated in a special box along the sidelines when their favorite grid warriors take the turf next Friday night in the pre-season football spectacle.

The schools represented in the Lions jamboree, together with the young ladies who have been chosen as queens, are as follows: Homer, Miss Martha Crain; Jonesboro-Hodge, Miss Sarah Robinson; Arcadia, Miss Donna Johnson; and Ruston, Miss Antoinette Riser.

Also scheduled to be honored during the football jamboree are the principals of the four participating high schools. These principals, together with their wives, will occupy a special box in the west stadium, and will be presented to the huge crowd expected to witness this fifth annual jamboree. The principals of the four schools are as follows: Homer, Hugh Whitley; Jonesboro-Hodge, W. G. Bailey; Arcadia, E. R. Hester; and Ruston, R. G. Hanchoy. Additional guests in the president's box in Tech stadium will be President and Mrs. Ralph L. Ropp, of Louisiana Tech, and Lions district governor

Lloyd C. Starr, of Minden.

The four high school football teams will play two jamboree contests, with each game scheduled to consist of four seven-minute quarters of regulation football. In the first game of the evening, the Homer Pelicans, coached by Audis GML, will square off against the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers, in a game that will see two well-balanced and well-matched squads battling for jamboree honors. The captains for the Homer aggregation have not as yet been named, but the Jonesboro-Hodge squad will be led into the fracas by Jimmie Golden and Sonny Maxwell. Their coach is Jimmie Gilbert.

Coached by Harold Tinsley, veteran mentor, the Arcadia Hornets will engage Coach L. J. Garrett's Ruston Bearcats in the second game of the evening. The grid captains for Arcadia are Bob Stewart and Bob McCrary, while Pat Garrett, son of Coach Garrett, and Wayne Tinsley will lead the Ruston grid machine.

General chairman Dr. Paul T. Henderson has announced that the officials for the jamboree contests will be representatives of the North-east Louisiana Officials Association. These officials will serve in this benefit attraction without pay, donating their services to the Ruston Lions Club project. Dr. William L. Bendel of Monroe is the president of the officials association.

Tickets for the grid jamboree are on sale at popular prices of 50 cents for students; $1 for general admission; $1.50 for reserved seats; and $2 for box seats.

Bob Miller Puts Milwaukee Away On 2 Hits, 3 To 0

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 25 (AP)—Bob Miller, a reformed relief pitcher making his third start of the season for the Philadelphia Phillies, today blanked the front-running Milwaukee Braves, 3-0, on only two hits before a crowd of 29,826.

Miller had won only one other game all year and had not pitched a complete game since 1954.

The loss to the 30-year-old right-hander didn't alter the Braves' two-game lead over second place Brooklyn. The Dodgers, who open a vital two-game series here tomorrow with the Braves, dropped a 5-2 decision to Cincinnati.

The Redlegs, in third place, gained a full game on the two leaders and now trail the Braves by four games and the Brooks by two.

Miller held the Braves hitless for 4 2-3 innings. With two down in the fifth Bobby Thomson rifled a clean single to center field to break Miller's spell.

Johnny Logan got the other hit off Miller, a single to left, with one down in the ninth. Miller escaped a jam in that inning by getting the heavy hitting Joe Adcock to fly out with two on.

Miller's record now is 2-5. Starter and loser Lew Burdette gave up all three runs on only four hits in the eight innings he worked. Burdette lost his eighth game against 16 victories.

Wright Tops Espie In Final Round Of Amateur Golf

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 25 (AP)—

Methodical Fred Wright of Watertown, Mass., fired even par golf today to defeat E. Clark Espie of Indianapolis, 4 and 3, for the National Senior Amateur golf championship.

Missing only two greens in regulation figures, the 58-year-old securities broker never trailed again his Indianapolis rival, also 58.

Wright, seven times Massachusetts amateur champion and a former Walker Cup player, held a three up lead after nine holes on the strength of a one-under-par 33 at Somerset Course.

Wright, who now goes back to Massachusetts in an attempt to qualify for the National Amateur, succeeds J. Wood Platt of Philadelphia as champion. Wright eliminated Platt in the quarter-finals.

Longden Closing In On Richards' Record

DEL MAR, Calif., Aug. 25 — Record-bound jockey Johnny Longden rode two winners at Del Mar today but had to settle for second in the $16,325 Bing Crosby Handicap, won by Colonel Mack in a new track time.

Driven furiously through the stretch by jockey Ralph Neves, for his fourth winner of the day, Colonel Mack finished a neck in front of Poona II, the 3 to 5 favorite. The peacocking Moolah Bux held on for third. The winner paid $14.

Longden, pushing for a new world's record of wins, brought in Joe's Night, out at $9.20 and the favored Brookside at $4.60, boosting his lifetime wins to 4,858, just 12 short of the world's record of 4,870 held by England's Sir Gordon Richards.

NATIONALLY RANKED Sports-caster Mel Allen, writing in Real magazine's football yearbook, ranks the Tulane Greenies as the No. 22 team in the nation and full-back Ronny Quillian among the country's leading All-American candidates.

8th Cotton States Tourney May Be 'Best'

Entry List Full; To Qualify Friday For Title Session

BY HILLER HESDORFFER

The golf bug has definitely hit the Twin Cities. With the entries all in the eighth annual Cotton States Invitation Golf Tournament promises to be the most successful in its history.

Back to defend his title is the long hitter from Atlanta, Ga., Gene Dahlbender. Dahlbender won from Jackie Cupit in the finals of last year's tourney. In a recent letter to Winnie Cole, Bayou DeSiard professional, Gene said his game was in great shape and that he was stopping off at Birmingham to qualify for the National Amateur and would reach Monroe Wednesday. Last week Dahlbender had a practice round of 69 in Atlanta. This was played on a 6,714-yard course, par 72. Bayou DeSiard Country Club's course measures 6,255 with par set at 70. We would definitely say Mr. Dahlbender is on his game.

In every tournament there are always challengers, but this year's Cotton States crop is probably the toughest that has ever faced a starting barrier here. Number one on the list is the 1956 National Public Links king, Jim Buxbaum, who hails from the cotton city of the south, Memphis, Tenn. Jim gave a good account of himself in last year's tournament before bowing out in the semi-final round. Buxbaum qualified automatically for the National Amateur because of his Public Links win but he would like very much to take along the Bayou DeSiard title when he goes after the top simon pure golf prize. His game is at its peak now and he could go all the way for the local title.

The state of Texas will have a large representation this coming Labor Day weekend. No less than four Lone Star shooters will be swinging away for the Cotton States crown. Leading the way will be Amarillo's Walker Cup star Rex Baxter. With him will be such stars as Tom Cruse, U. of Houston, the winner of eight tournaments this summer, a teammate of Cruse, Frank Horton, and Frank Wear of S.M.U. From big "D" comes Floyd Addington who also knows his way around a golf course. Floyd turned in a 66 over his home course last week.

East of the Mississippi river will also be represented in the Cotton States tourney Saturday through Monday on the Loop Road course. Ready to go after medalist honors will be the Jackson contingent headed by the '53 Cotton States winner, Jake Epling. Jackson's city titleist Bob Travis and the country club champ Walter Johnson will also be here Friday in a try for the medalist crown.

Monroe will send out a few golfing stars of its own in the run for the championship. The Twin Cities group will be headed by Bill Jones, '49 winner and owner of a 68 in practice last week; Ken Holt, Bobby Oliver, Robert Ewing, Corbin Turpin, Ed Shaver, Dick Touchstone, Al Gallagher, Robert Guerrero, and "Old" himself, McVea Oliver. Any of these fellows on a given day could sneak in and cop the crown.

With the Bayou DeSiard course as fast as lightning a new record for the tournament medalist is very likely. The fairways are fast and hard, the greens are holding shots and are putting true. This helps the player who is short off the tee and doesn't hurt the long knocker; it all adds up to more record scores.

ADVANCE LOOK

Tulane will have a chance to scout Virginia Tech. its opening opponent of Sept. 22 in New Orleans, when the Gobblers play East Carolina on Sept. 15 at Bluefield, W. Va. Virginia Tech has lost a total of only three games in the past two years.

from Monroe: Charlie Scott, ex-Texas A. and M. and Bolton High quarterback from Alexandria; Marshall Ryan, improving halfback from Pineville; and two promising sophomores Jerry Baggett, halfback from Dothan, Ala., and Herman "Buzzy" Sullivan, fullback from Oakdale.

Yanks Release Rizzuto; Enos Slaughter Acquired

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—Phil Rizzuto, last of the pre-war New York Yankees, was released today to make room on the roster for Enos (Country) Slaughter, veteran outfielder, obtained from the Kansas City Athletics via waivers.

Slaughter, now hitting .270, was sent to Kansas City last year but was brought back to help the Yankees, league leaders despite an outfield hampered by injuries.

Although Slaughter was acquired via waivers, owner Arnold Johnson of the Athletics said that Kansas City would receive in exchange a player who now is a regular on the Yankee team and who would be a regular with the Athletics next year.

Out-and-out trading between major league clubs is prohibited after June 15 each season. After that date a player must be put on waivers, with the clubs lowest in the standings getting first choice. The Yankee outfield situation has been so desperate of late that in midweek they acquired George Wilson, with a batting average of .189 from the New York Giants of the National League.

Rizzuto, a dominant factor in Yankee successes since 1941, has played but little this season and last weekend auditioned for the job as 1957 announcer of the Baltimore Orioles games. The Yankees, however, told him that should he decide to remain in baseball a place would be found for him in the Yankee organization.

Rizzuto, definitely slowed down from the days when he sparked the Yanks to championships, has appeared in only 31 games this year. In 50 times at bat he had 12 hits for a .240 average while driving in 16 runs. The little shortstop will be 38 Sept. 25.

He never was known as a great hitter but few surpassed him in his younger days as a glove man. His best year at the plate was in 1950 when he batted .324 and was voted the American League's most valuable player. He had a lifetime major league batting average of .273.

During his tenure with the Yanks, Rizzuto appeared in the World Series, eight of which the Yanks won. His World Series hitting average was .246 topped by a .320 performance against the Giants in 1951.

152 Golfers Aim For Motor City's Tourney Renewal

DETROIT, Aug. 25 (AP)—A field of 152 golfers, including some of the country's top pros, invade Detroit Thursday for the $20,000 Motor City Open over the tricky Western Golf and Country Club course.

Heading a field of some 75 touring pros in the four-day, 72-hole medal play event will be this year's masters and P. G. A. Champion Jack Burke.

Among the top pros expected are Walter Burkemo, Doug Ford, Jack Fleck, Chick Harbert, Fred Hawkins, Jim Turnesa, Julius Boros.

Slaughter, now 40 years old, gained his greatest fame with the St. Louis Cardinals but he also came up with timely hits during his brief time with the Yanks. Last year he started the season with the Yanks and was traded to Kansas City on May 11. His batting average, above the .300 mark since he broke into the majors in 1938, was .315.

Tommy Bolt and Jimmy Demaret. The top prize is $4,000, with sudden death play to break ties. As an added inducement, a $2,500 prize has been offered for a hole in one during tournament play and a $2,000 best ball tourney Wednesday precedes formal play. The Motor City was not held last year because Detroit was host to the National P. G. A. Tournament. Dr. Gary Middlecott, who won the tournament in 1954, will not compete this year.

FLY-IN-ONE

CROWLEY, La. (AP)—Here's one of the oddest holes-in-one ever recorded on any links. It happened at the Acadia Golf Club and was hit by Chic Morgan playing a four-some. Chic's shot hit the cup on the fly and never touched the green. When the ball landed it wedged between the pin and the side of the cup. Chic has three flabbergasted witnesses to prove he wasn't seeing things.

Moolah, Grable Wrestle With Tag Teams Tuesday

Wildcats Have 17 Lettermen Listed For Grid Workouts

PINEVILLE, La. —Football is again in the air in the lair of the Wildcats of Louisiana college. L. C. "Les" DeVall, new athletic director and head football coach, has issued invitations to 17 returning letterman, four transfer performers, two former squad members, as well as an unannounced number of junior college and high school graduates.

Reporting date is next Friday at which time equipment will be issued. Pre-school practice sessions will begin the following morning. Mentor DeVall, former William Carey and Hinds (Miss.) Junior College tutor, explained that he plans daily morning and afternoon workouts of an hour and a half each.

"There will also be an hour chalk talk each day," he added. Aiding DeVall will be newcomer Joe Hicks, former Bolton High School of Alexandria coach, and Morris Osburn, who will be in his third year at the 'Cat institution.

Hicks, an Arkansan with nearly a decade of prep school and college mentoring experience behind him, will handle the L. C. line, while Osburn, who also serves as head feline basketball coach, will work with the backfield.

The Mississippi native will fall heir to the nucleus of a classy backfield this fall. Only one letterman ball-carrier will be missing from the 1955 squad. He is Harold "Sonny" Clark, ex-Tallulah High athletic great, who won four grid monograms as one of L.C.'s ablest quarterbacks of the past decade. Seven experienced backs are expected to answer DeVall's opening call Friday.

These include Eugene Southern, All-Gulf States conference halfback and the loop's leading ground-gainer in '55, and Tommy Bankston, steady fullback, both from Winnboro; Frank Mobley, brilliant triple threat halfback who for the past three years has been among the backfield leaders in the G.S.C.

Promoter Gus Kallio presents another of his "first" Tuesday night.

For the first time since he had been producing wrestling programs in Monroe he will present a tag match with each team consisting of two men and one woman.

Since local fans enjoyed the Judy Grable-Slave Girl Moolah brawl so much last week Kallio is bringing them back to fill the ladies' roles. In Miss Grable's corner will be Jack Curtis, the Mississippi favorite, and Jack Wentworth from Canada. Opposing this snappy alliance with Moolah will be the Golden Terror and Paddy Mack, the Bostonian villain who appeared on the Monroe mat about three years ago.

The girls are certain to add flavor to the usual tag scramble. And after the performance that the Slave Girl and Miss Grable gave last Tuesday night Kallio patrons will be expecting some real fireworks.

The rules for the match will be same as those for the previous tag affairs with the exception that when a girl is tagged into the grunt and groan party the other lass will also step through the ropes.

The show will open at 8:15 with the men warming up in one fall preliminaries with 15-minute time limits. The main event will have a 90-minute bound.

The usual admission prices will be charged.

Mahan Wins Ward Memorial; Swaps Places Seventh

CHICAGO, Aug. 25—UP—Mahan, an English-bred entry of Hasty House Farms, Saturday won the $54,950 Washington Park Arch Ward Memorial, completely eclipsing the favored Swaps who wound up seventh in an eight horse field.

The five-year-old colt edged out Sir Tribal by a nose after a whirlwind photo finish. Mahan, ridden by veteran Johnny Adams, paid $19 and $8.20. There was no show betting in the mile and three sixteenths grass race.

Mahan's winning time of 1:55 was quite a distance from the American turf record of 1:54 1-5 set by Mister Gus for an equal distance earlier this year.

Swaps, the odds-on favorite at 1-5, took an early lead but faltered at the eighth pole when Mahan and Sir Tribal made their challenge. It was only the second time in 17 races this year that Swaps lost and the first time in two years he finished below second.

The win was worth $31,900 to Mahan, increasing his year's winnings to $57,425. Sir Tribal, ridden by Tony Skoronski and owned by Charles Fritz, gained $10,000 second-place money.

Third place was captured by Prince Morvi, owned by Frank Rand Jr., and was worth $7,500. Bryn, a stable-mate of Mahan and part of a combined Hasty House farm entry, grabbed fourth place money of $5,000.

The betting heavily favored Swaps, with $87,334 of the $105,392 win pool being placed on the Rex Ellsworth colt ridden by Willie Shoemaker.

"He just couldn't take to the grass. It was too soft," Shoemaker explained.

A SAWMILL "COMES BACK" . . . and plans to stay!

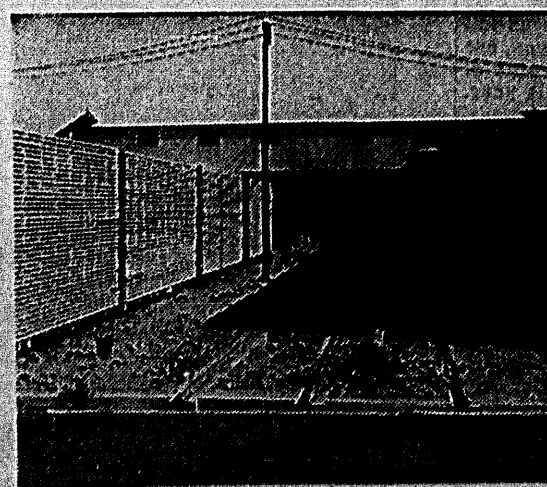

This sawmill, on the verge of shutting down less than a year ago, is today a thriving part of the economy of the town of Winnfield . . . and of the Forest Products Division of Olin Mathieson. Since its purchase by Olin Mathieson in September of last year, the Winnfield mill has been transformed into one of the more modern in the South. An extensive renovation program has doubled its capacity. Employment has more than doubled, resulting in many more dollars for spending in the Winnfield area.

Located in the heart of Olin Mathieson's southern block of timber, the Winnfield mill produces a large portion of the company's fine FROST Golden Pine and hardwood lumber. An important by-product of the mill is wood chips, which are shipped to Olin Mathieson's West Monroe paper mill for use in the manufacture of FROSTKRAFT corrugated shipping containers, grocery bags, and multiwall sacks.

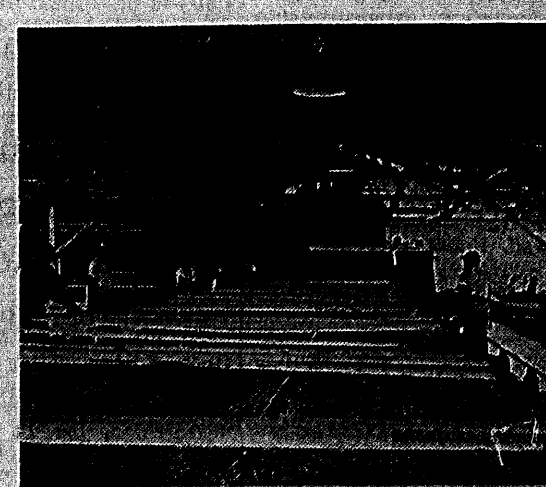

Here are a few of the results of our modernization program at Winnfield:

New Log Debarker

New Dry Kilns

New Automatic Unstacker and Sorting Chain

In addition to these, we've installed a new chipper and chip conveying and loading system, an automatic stacker, and a new power sub-station which has enabled us to electrify 80% of our planer mill. We're proud to have made possible the "comeback" of the Winnfield mill. It's here to stay!

Daniel Leads

O'Daniel got in the primary. As third man in the primary, O'Daniel was eliminated as a Democratic candidate. But he announced a week ago that he is going to try to run as an Independent in the Nov. 6 general election.

He can do this if about 7,000 persons — one per cent of the total voters in the 1954 general election — will sign a petition. These persons must also swear that they did not vote in the Democratic primaries.

O'Daniel, announcing his intention of being an independent candidate, asked his supporters to vote for Yarborough, so his opponent in the general election would be Yarborough instead of Daniel.

But Yarborough made a pitch for the O'Daniel vote in his runoff campaign, praising O'Daniel and the conduct of his primary campaign. He picked up O'Daniel's favorite description of Daniel, "The little junior senator."

Yarborough announced Saturday night when the polls closed that he was going to try to sue 24 television stations upon which John McElvey charged Friday night that Yarborough once asked Walter Reuther for a $15,000 campaign contribution.

McElvey, of Electra, Tex., is a former Yarborough campaign manager in Wichita county who went over to Daniel. He spoke Friday night on Daniel's last television appearance.

McElvey said that he heard Yarborough ask Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers, for the money on the telephone. Yarborough said it wasn't true.

Daniel throughout the campaign accused Yarborough of being supported by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and by Reuther.

Yarborough charged that Daniel was the candidate of the millionaires and that since Daniel voted for President Eisenhower in 1952, he (Yarborough) was the only Democratic candidate.

In 1953 and aroused as much controversy as the first.

A native of Hoboken, N.J., Kinsey was born in 1894, the son of an engineering instructor at Stevens Institute of Technology. His boyhood was spent at South Orange, N.J.

He received a BS degree in psychology at Bowdoin College, Maine, after working his way through school as a counselor in summer camps for boys. He later received a doctor of science degree in biology at Harvard where he remained as a graduate student for research on insect life.

He first won renown in scientific circles for his exhaustive study of the gall wasp. His intensive research covering 150,000 specimens of the wasp helped him formulate the detailed techniques he used in his research on human sex behavior.

Kinsey joined the faculty of Indiana University in 1920 as a zoologist and remained there ever since.

He married one of his students, Clara B. McMillen, a chemistry major, and they became the parents of four children, one of whom died in childhood.

Kinsey said he was drawn into the study of human sex behavior when he found he could give no authentic answers to many important sex problems raised by students in his biology classes.

"LaMarca is in police custody for interviews and investigation, and we won't talk about it."

His wife, Donna, 31, and their two children, Vincent, 9, and Vivian, 6, remained in seclusion with relatives.

In a wooded Long Island spot about half a mile from his own home at Plainville. A vast crew of searchers found the remains there yesterday.

Subsequently, LaMarca and officers made an extensive automobile trip. At 4 a. m. today he was taken from his cell at Nassau County Police Headquarters for another journey. He was returned at 11:45 a. m.

As before, officers kept silent as to the purpose and results.

The only other word given out was that LaMarca had slept and eaten well. Hours after his arrest early Thursday at his home he had appeared on the verge of collapse.

5 Members Of 2 Chicago Families Killed In Crash

CHESTERBORT, Ind., Aug. 25 (AP)—Five members of two Chicago families died today in a head-on collision of two Chicago automobiles on U. S. 20 in front of Dunes Park state police post.

Dead were Mathew Carmody, 37, his wife, Dolores, 33, Thomas P. Sullivan, 62, his wife, Mary, and the Sullivans' daughter, Mary Jo, 18.

The Carmody's daughter, Joyce, 8, escaped with minor injuries.

John Quinn, 15, Chicago, riding in the Sullivan car, suffered a fracture of the arm and cuts about the head and face. The two girls were taken to Doctors Hospital at Michigan City.

Reorganization Of Hinds County School Okayed

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25 (AP)—The State Education Finance Commission today announced approval of the Hinds County and Jackson formula for reconstitution and reorganization under the new state school consolidation program.

E. S. Bowls, executive secretary, said Jackson will remain a municipal separate school system. Hinds County is set up as a unit with all forces cooperating. No attendance centers have been designated by the board, and it is presumed they will not be materially changed.

The board disapproved the consolidation plan submitted by Madison County on the grounds that at least two school districts as designated do not meet the law or, in effect, do not have enough children enrolled.

Because two bond issues planned in Rankin County have not been finally agreed upon, the board deferred action on a petition from that county.

Simpson county's petition was approved and that section will become a full-fledged county unit. Clay County, heard by the board, had its formula for consolidation held up for further consideration.

The board will meet again Sept. 8 to discuss further decisions.

Three Monroians Attend Cerebral Palsy Meeting

Three members of the Northeast Louisiana Cerebral Palsy School Center attended the Institute on the Handicapped Child at the University of Mississippi, officials announced Saturday.

Attending from the local unit were K. E. Grilwood, Mrs. Jane Arnold, and Miss Floy Stone.

The Institute, sponsored by the National Cerebral Palsy Association, brought together as consultants four of the national leaders in work with the child handicaps. Speaking at the meetings were Dr. Harry V. Bice, consultant on Psychological Services of the New Jersey State Department of Health; Dr. Ray Graham, Director of Education of Exceptional Children, Illinois; Dr. Helmer Mycklebus, Professor of Audiology, Evanston; and Dr. Meyer A. Perlstein, Professor of Pediatrics at Cook County Medical School and Chief of the Cerebral Palsy Division of St. Johns Hospital for Crippled Children, Springfield, Illinois.

A large number of people from Mississippi and the neighboring states in the special education field were at the conference. It was felt by all present that this was one of the most valuable programs of its type to be presented this year.

Subsequently, LaMarca and officers made an extensive automobile trip. At 4 a. m. today he was taken from his cell at Nassau County Police Headquarters for another journey. He was returned at 11:45 a. m.

As before, officers kept silent as to the purpose and results.

The only other word given out was that LaMarca had slept and eaten well. Hours after his arrest early Thursday at his home he had appeared on the verge of collapse.

Kennedy Unaware Wife Lost Baby By Miscarriage

HYANNISPORT, Mass., Aug. 25 (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) is yachting "somewhere in the Mediterranean (sea)," unaware that his wife suffered a miscarriage, the lawmaker's brother Robert said Saturday.

Mrs. Kennedy, 28, underwent an emergency operation earlier this week at a Newport, R. I., hospital after suffering an internal hemorrhage. The child died but Mrs. Kennedy's post-operative condition was described as "good."

Robert Kennedy, counsel for a Senate committee, said at his Cape Cod home Saturday that the senator had flown to Europe immediately after the close of last week's Democratic national convention in Chicago. Kennedy lost the vice presidential nomination to Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Robert Kennedy said that John met his younger brother, Edward, "on the Riviera" from where they set sail aboard the latter's yacht out into the Mediterranean.

Nine Killed In Two-Car Crash In South Dakota

WALL, S. D., Aug. 25 (AP)—Two wedding-bound cars collided on a newly built straightaway near here last night, killing four Korean War veterans and five members of one family.

The accident, worst on record in South Dakota, raised to 28 the toll of traffic dead in a three-day wave of mass fatality highway violence in neighboring Minnesota and South Dakota.

It happened on a new stretch of highway built to cut down on traffic hazards by eliminating several sharp turns on the old highway west of here.

The only survivor of the smash-up, a mile west of here near the Black Hills, was 7-year-old Rose Marie Conger of Custer, S. D., reported in critical condition at a Rapid City, S. D., hospital.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodor Conger, and three Conger children, Cheryl, 9; Darrell Lee, 6; and Mary Jane, 4, were killed. The family was en route to Murdo, S. D., for a visit with relatives and then was to attend a wedding at Stamford, S. D.

The victims in the other car were all Korean War vets and members of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity at South Dakota University. They were Walter F. Bartlett, 25, and Daryl Watkinson, 23, both of Chamberlain, S. D.; David L. Dahl, 25, Sioux Falls, S. D.; and Floyd Forbord, 25, Edgemont, S. D.

Bartlett, driver of the car, was to have been an usher at a wedding in Rapid City tomorrow.

Authorities said there was no indication what caused the accident.

Both weddings will be held as planned, relatives of the betrothed said.

his wounds, Junghann said. Officers said there was evidence the plane burned. But they could not say whether it caught fire in the air or burst into flames when it hit the water.

Junghann said regular patrol operations would continue despite the incident.

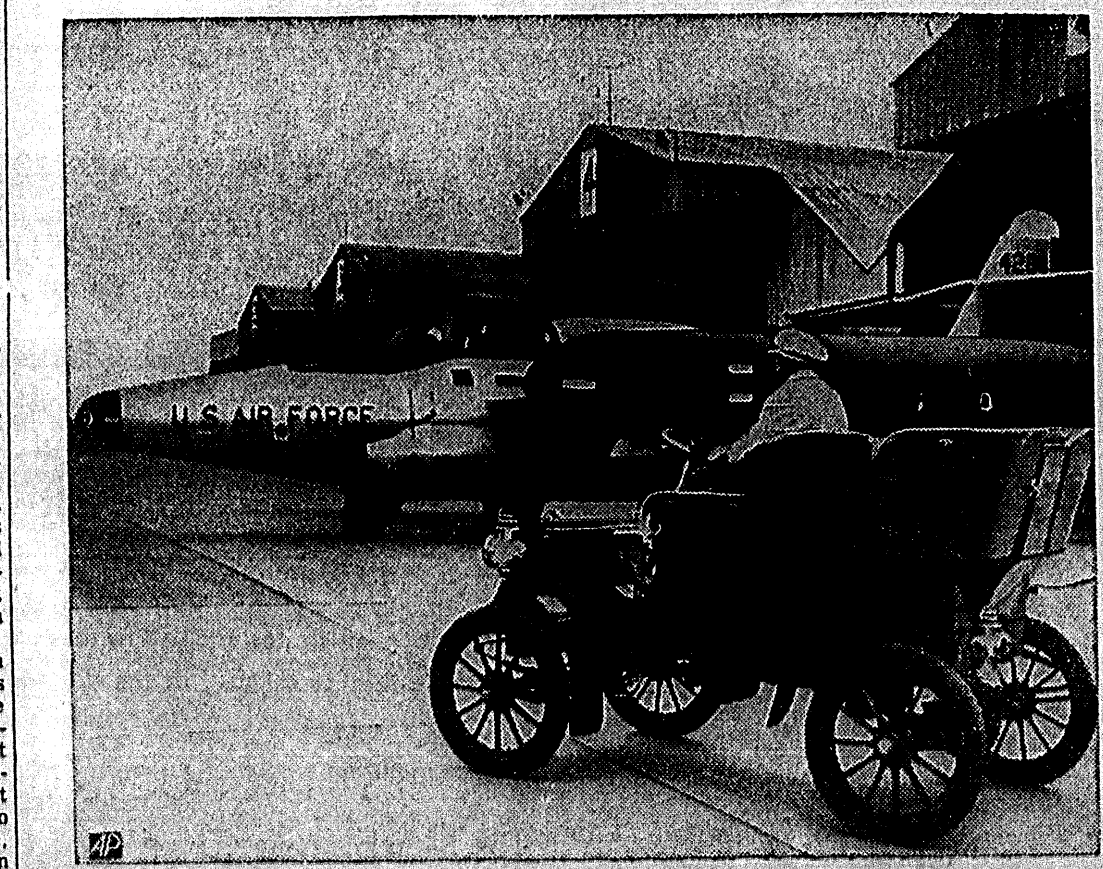

Flashed from international waters in the East China Sea were the plane's wheels, two fuel tanks, two inflated life rafts, raft equipment, plane cushions and seats, parts of oil and fuel lines and personal items.

The Navy reiterated that the fact the rafts were inflated could not add hope there might be survivors. The rafts were of the type carried on the outside of the plane and inflate automatically.

Survivors include her husband, John D. Lee of Monroe; two sisters, Mrs. Y. H. Durden and Mrs. J. R. Kent, both of Monroe; and one brother, Y. R. Reeks of Clifton.

Ballbearers will be Perry Kent, Yancy Durden, Frank Durden, Ronald Lee Durden, Dr. Hunter Lee, and Sidney Seegars.

Texas State Fair Program Nearing Final Completion

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 25 (AP)—The program for the 1956 State Fair of Texas has virtually been completed with the opening day less than six weeks away, according to James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager.

Stewart said Saturday that chances are good that the exposition, America's largest annual fair in terms of attendance, will attract at least as many people as the 1955 event. Total attendance last year was 2,611,271, a new national attendance record.

This year's fair will be back on its usual 16-day schedule, opening on Saturday, Oct. 6, and not on Friday evening as was the case last year.

Rural Youth Day, which is expected to draw 100,000 boys and girls from all over the state, and a night football game between Texas A&M and Texas Tech are expected to boost opening day attendance.

The traditional Texas-Oklahoma football game will take place the second Saturday, Oct. 13.

Mississippi Man Killed In Crash Near Jackson

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 25 (AP)—T. V. Abbott, Pattison, Miss., was killed and four persons injured tonight in a three-car smashup about 10 miles west of here.

Abbott was alone in his car. In the second car were Denis W. Walston, 22, and his wife, 23, who received a broken right arm.

Johnny Barlow and Jimmy Primos, both of Jackson, were in the third car and received only head cuts.

Patrolman Ray Gentry said Abbott apparently was crossing new highway 80 while traveling on Raymond Road and that Barlow, whose car was towing a boat and trailer headed toward Vicksburg, swerved to avoid Abbott and collided with the eastward traveling Walston car.

ORDINARY BOY MAKES GOOD DUNNING, Neb. (UP)—Mrs. Vera Terwilliger, Dunning librarian, recalls that neither she nor any other of President Eisenhower's youthful companions back in Abilene, Kan., thought he would "do anything special."

"He was such an ordinary boy," Mrs. Terwilliger said. Mrs. Terwilliger recalled that the President at the age of 16 was a "tall, gangling kid who worked pretty hard, like all of the other kids around town."

His present popularity doesn't surprise Mrs. Terwilliger. She said "people seemed to like him personally and undoubtedly still do, even if they don't happen to agree with his politics."

She said she never voted Republican "until I voted for Ike."

Bomb Blast At Home Of Minister Disrupts Quiet In Montgomery Dispute

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 25.—A bomb burst damaged the home of a white minister who has encouraged Negro bus boycotters Saturday and ended the lull in this old Confederate capital's eight-month racial struggle.

The apparent target of the home made dynamite bomb, the Rev. Robert Graetz, 27, and his family were visiting in Tennessee. The blast ripped out windows and knocked a hole in the front door. Windows also were blown out in a house across the street but no one was injured.

The Rev. Graetz, a soft-spoken Lutheran minister, only this week had called on the Montgomery Ministerial Association to hear a leader of the boycott, the Rev. M. L. King, explain the Negroes' position. His request was refused.

Mayor W. A. Gayle angrily asserted that perhaps Saturday's bombing "is just a publicity stunt to build up interest of the Negroes in their campaign" because of a dropoff in "out of state" contributions to the boycott.

"This latest bombing," Gayle said, "follows the usual pattern. It's a strange coincidence that when interest appears to be flagging in the bus boycott something like this happens."

This was the third bombing in connection with the boycott undertaken by thousands of Montgomery Negroes last December to protest discourtesy by white drivers and discriminatory seating.

In January, the home of the Rev. King was blasted. Two days later dynamite was hurled into the yard of E. D. Nixon, former state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. No one was injured in either of the earlier blasts and no arrests were made.

The boycott quickly put the local bus line on the rocks financially and nearly 100 Negro leaders, a score of them ministers, were arrested under an obscure Alabama law. It dealt with conspiracy to form an economic boycott to the detriment of a business.

At a sensational trial in which Negro after Negro testified about mistreatment on the buses the Rev. King was convicted and sentenced to six months in prison.

Motorbike Rams Auto On Hwy. 15

A Monroe youth was slightly injured Saturday afternoon when the motorbike that he was driving struck the rear of a stopped car.

Fifteen-year-old John D. Skaines of Rt. 2, Monroe reportedly received only a small cut on the back when his motorbike struck the rear of an auto driven by Marvyn L. Chambess of 117 Price St., Monroe. Both Skaines and Chambess were traveling west on highway 15 when the accident occurred.

Chambess had stopped suddenly behind an auto which had halted to turn left about 50 feet east of South Eighth street when Skaines struck his car, damaging the left rear fender. A Peters Funeral Home ambulance arrived immediately and transported Chambess to the Conway Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Officials reported that Chambess was in good condition.

CONTEST WINNERS LEAVE ON TRIP—Five carrier salesmen and a route supervisor of the News-Star-World were awarded a three-day expense paid trip to New Orleans as winners of a contest held to secure new subscribers. Left to right are Ray Newman, who was unable to make the trip; Carriers Frankie Accardo, Ronald Gooden, Clyde Thompson, Jr., Jerry Lindsey and Charles E. Joiner, circulation supervisor. Joiner was first place in the contest because his district secured the highest number of new subscribers. (Staff photo by Greg Hare)

Construction Begins On Holiday Inn Project

Construction began this week on Monroe's new million dollar Holiday Inn Hotel. The local organization headed by J. M. Menefee will be affiliated with the National chain of Holiday Inn Hotels.

Located on a seven-acre tract on Louisville avenue, the new hotel will start operations with 92 guest rooms and will offer all of the services that have become the trademark of Holiday Inn hotels.

These include year-round air-conditioning; baby-sitting service by reliable attendants; year-round swimming pool; television and a telephone in every room; valet service and a sanitary kennels for pets.

It is anticipated that Holiday Inn hotel will be completed in the early spring, Menefee said. Construction work is being done by C. E. Slade of Monroe.

The administration building will house a spacious lobby, a fine restaurant and a Holiday Room catering to business and social group meetings.

Of particular interest to this area, Menefee said, will be special day rates offered for Northeast Louisiana shoppers who are invited to use Holiday Inn as their Monroe headquarters.

A 45-foot sign bearing the standard Holiday Inn hotel symbol has already been erected on the tourist court site.

"Man kills self following vacation." — Headline. He carried into effect an idea that occurs to many a person at the end of a vacation.

Mrs. Lafayette Victor Henderson, Jr., was married Sunday in an afternoon ceremony in the First Baptist Church. She is the former Miss Linda Lou Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrew Thompson. After a wedding trip the young couple will reside in Ruston.

Mrs. Gerald Martin Johnson's marriage was celebrated in the Liberty Baptist Church in Calhoun. She is the former Miss Rebecca Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Foster, of Calhoun. After a honeymoon in Hot Springs, Ark., they will make their home in Ruston.

Shown at their home on K Street are Mrs. Walter F. Shattuck and her daughter, Fran, who have recently moved here from Lake Forrest, Ill. Mrs. Shattuck is the former Miss Leila Germany. Fran is looking forward to entering Neville High School for the coming school year.

Mrs. John Wesley Grump, III, was married yesterday afternoon in a beautiful garden wedding at Synope Plantation. The bride is the former Miss Jennie Martin Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ode Neal Reynolds. The Grumps will make their home in Borger, Tex.

Mrs. Carl Thomas Kinney, Jr.'s wedding was an event of Thursday evening at the First Methodist Church. She is the former Miss Gail Bingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strauss of this city. The couple will make their home in Baton Rouge where both are students at Louisiana State University.

Crump-Reynolds Vows Are Pledged In Garden Ceremony

At the sunset hour Saturday, August 25, Miss Jennie Martin Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odie Neal Reynolds, became the bride of Mr. John Wesley Crump, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Crump, Jr., of Fort Worth, Tex. Members of the two families gathered at Synope Plantation, the Reynolds' home, in Caldwell parish, for the impressive double-ring ceremony with Reverend Carl Barham, pastor of the rinke, rendered a prenuptial program, ushers seated the guests in the garden. James O. Hastings, Jr. and Walter L. Hastings lighted the tapers. Miss Jerry Beck of Mansfield and Owen Brown of Alexandria, sharing the vocal solo, stood on the wide veranda to sing "The Wedding Blessing" and "Through the Years."

Mr. Crump chose as his best man, his father, and Miss Reynolds chose as her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Jorenda Reynolds.

As the wide front doors of the plantation house were opened the wedding party proceeded between the garlanded columns down the wide steps, and along the vista walk, bordered in white vines. The party turned midway the walk to a raised formal garden. Grecian urns filled with bridal flowers were at either side of the garden and at the focal point was a tiered fountain arranged with tuberose, gladiolus, and clematis. The background was myriad hurricane lamps amid magnolia leaves, southern smilax, and massive palmetto fronds.

The wedding attendants were members of the two families. Junior bridesmaids and junior groomsmen were Susan Whitman of San Antonio, Tex., and Vickie Warren, and Vincent Van Brunt of Houston, Tex. The junior bridesmaids, in colonial frocks of white Swiss organdy, wore blue velvet ribbons at the waist and in their hair. Ruffled pantaloons and ruffled parasols completed their picturesque costume.

Miss Jorenda Reynolds was wearing a gown of white Swiss organdy with blue velvet ribbons accenting the lines of the bodice. She carried a white fan decorated with a nosegay. Her white picture hat fell from the neck on blue velvet streamers to the back of the gown.

The bridesmaids were Miss Katherine Martin of Ruston and Mrs. Stanley Hodges of Shreveport. Their gowns were an exact replica of that of the maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Virginia Blanks of New Orleans, Miss Catherine Underwood, Jackson, Miss Margaret Ann Lee, Miss Elsie Frazer and Miss Marion Huckaby. Miss Cynthia Terzia will be the junior bridesmaid and A. V. Frances Hernandez, of Leesville, will act as flower girl.

Mr. Godfrey will serve his son as best man the groomsmen and ushers will be Daniel Ryan Sartor of Alto, Jimmy Godfrey, brother of the bridegroom, Bobby Shatto, Raphael Ray Rhymes, Jr., Hayden Cutler, and Harold Edward McGlasson, of Lake Charles.

Miss Reynolds, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white tulle and imported alençon lace. Lace appliques outlined the neckline, neckline and the fitted tulle bodice. A border of lace above a deep pleated flounce edged the skirt and swept to a court train. Her finger tip veil of imported illusion cascaded from a matching lace crown embroidered in seed pearls. She wore an antique pearl sunburst pin, and exquisite pearl earrings. Her bridal flowers were delicate spirals of tube roses cascading from white orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mrs. Reynolds received the guests in the foyer of the plantation house. She was assisted by the groom's mother, Mrs. Reynolds wore a Grecian gown in honey chiffon. Her jewels were topaz and her corsage was a bronze orchid. Mrs. Crump was gown in an original model of taffeta and Venetian rose lace. Her corsage was a Cattleya orchid. The receiving line included the wedding party and the two grandmothers, Mrs. Walter Neal Reynolds, who wore a mauve Brussels lace model, and Mrs. James Lyon Martin, whose gown was draped blue chiffon. Their corsages were orchids.

Mrs. William Kramer presided at the guest book. In the fireside dining room one of the two massive French tables was arranged with a Roman tiered cake and the other with the punch service. Each was encircled with sprays of tuberose.

Mrs. Drew N. Hays and Mrs. E. R. Whitman cut the wedding cake.

Mrs. Robert Taggart and Mrs. Louie Wilkinson presided at the punch table.

In the garden, Mrs. Fred Bennett presided at the punch service and Mrs. W. G. Van Brunt served at the cake table.

Assisting in the courtesies were: Misses Terri Tidwell, Marie Nelson, Nan Gill, Marion Huckaby, Patsy Doane, Deanna Furlow, Marilyn Mann, Sue Rowland, Judy Minard, Kay Godfrey, Mrs. Forrest Martin, Mrs. James L. Martin Jr.

Miss Reitzell Tells Personnel

The attendants at the wedding of Miss Patricia Reitzell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. V. H. Reitzell and Thomas Brewster Godfrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Brewer Godfrey, which will be solemnized, August 30, at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, have been announced.

Dr. Reitzell will give his daughter in marriage and a reception will follow the ceremony at the Bayou Desard Country Club.

The bride-elect has a chosen her cousin, Miss Kathy Fleischmann, of St. Louis, as maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss Virginia Blanks of New Orleans, Miss Catherine Underwood, Jackson, Miss Margaret Ann Lee, Miss Elsie Frazer and Miss Marion Huckaby. Miss Cynthia Terzia will be the junior bridesmaid and A. V. Frances Hernandez, of Leesville, will act as flower girl.

Mr. Godfrey will serve his son as best man the groomsmen and ushers will be Daniel Ryan Sartor of Alto, Jimmy Godfrey, brother of the bridegroom, Bobby Shatto, Raphael Ray Rhymes, Jr., Hayden Cutler, and Harold Edward McGlasson, of Lake Charles.

Wampold-Osborn

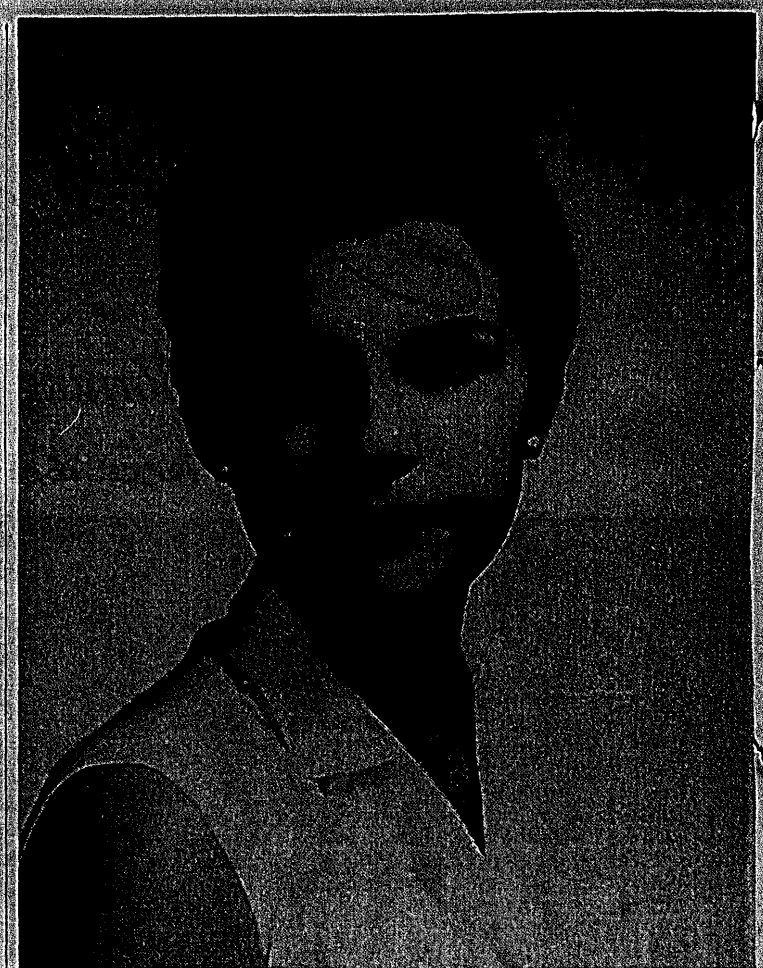

FERRIDAY. — Mr. and Mrs. John W. Osborn, of St. Joseph announce the marriage of their daughter, Ann to Mervin Wampold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Wampold, of Waterproof. The wedding took place in the Presbyterian church in Temple, Texas, where the groom is stationed at Fort Hood, Texas with the summer R. O. T. C. program. The couple plan to make their home in Natchitoches, where they are both seniors at the Northwestern State College.

Mrs. James O. Hastings, and Mrs. Walter L. Hastings.

For her wedding journey, the bride changed to a sheath model in white raw silk. Her imported French stole and purse were in white, with silver threads. Her other accessories were also in white. She wore a white orchid. Miss Reynolds is a graduate of Neville High school and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. She is a member of Kappa Delta sorority. Her paternal grandparents are Mrs. Walter Neal Reynolds of West Monroe and the late Walter Neal Reynolds. Her maternal grandparents are Mrs. James Lyon Martin of Iron Rock, Ruston, and the late James Lyon Martin.

Mr. Crump is a graduate of Neville High school and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity. His paternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Crump of Old Waverly Plantation. His maternal grandparents were the late Judge and Mrs. Marion Franklin Machen of Winnfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Crump will be at home at 1314 Jolly street, Berger, Texas, where Mr. Crump is a chemical engineer with an oil firm.

MISS MARJORIE MAE JOHNSTON'S betrothal to Robert Beauchamp Raines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Raines of Haughton, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. Johnston of Grayson. The wedding will be an event of 10 o'clock in the morning Saturday, September 15, in the Grayson Methodist Church.

Linda Thompson Is Bride Of L. Victor Henderson, Jr.

Miss Linda Lou Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andrew Thompson, became the bride of Victor Henderson, Jr., son of L. Victor Henderson and the late Mrs. Henderson, of Alexandria, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. James Q. Horton performed the ceremony.

Decorating the church were standards of white gladiol and pale pink asters and tall candelabra holding many lighted pale pink tapers. White smilax garlanded the altar rail. Tommy Harper presented the wedding music and accompanied Miss Jeralinda Beck, vocalist.

Wearing a gown of white lace over taffeta, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The long fitted torso featured a portrait neckline and short gathered sleeves. A crushed taffeta cummerbund ended in the back with a large bow and streamers. A coronet of seed pearls held her finger tip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of tuberose centered with creamy pink orchids tied with white satin streamers and wore a pearl necklace and a pearl and diamond ring, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Jake Benton was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids included Miss JoAnn Carso, Miss Nell Bonelli, Miss Sylvia Middlebrook, and Miss Barbara Lattier. Their short full-skirted dresses were of white lace over taffeta. They all wore short white gloves and carried bouquets of pink fugi chrysanthemums with pink magnolia leaves, and satin ribbons. Richard Joneson was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Rolia Long, and James Cross of Houston, Texas, Richard Barron, Plain Dealing and Kenneth Keller. The reception was held in the Cameo Room of the Virginia hotel. Mrs. Thompson received her guests in a gown of mauve taffeta and lace with which she wore a small beaded pink hat and pink accessories.

The bride's table, covered in pink organdy, held crystal punch bowls at either end and was centered with the tiered wedding cake embossed in pale pink and white flowers. Assisting were Mrs. R. F. Thompson, Miss Yvonne Henderson, Mrs.

John Vollmer, Miss Cora Lou Brown, Miss Sally Greer, Miss Martha Denmon, Miss Minette Smith, Miss Genevieve Wildon, Miss Toni Roberts.

Among the out-of-town guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse James, Miss Sue Kelly, of Oak Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crumpton, Bastrop; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson, Mrs. Milford Bonelli, Mrs. John Thompson, of Vicksburg, Miss. Miss Sue Sneed, Lt. Dan Walsh, Miss Verna Hastings, Miss Joan Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Baiter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Middlebrooks, Miss Cecil Ann Oliver, all of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Van Salley, of Benice; Miss Suzanne Lindsey, Miss Harvey Ann Roberts, Mansfield; Miss Leu Strange, Coushatta.

Miss Gail Bingham Becomes Bride Of Carl Kinney, Jr.

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, August 23, at the First Methodist Church, Miss Gail Bingham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Strauss, became the bride of Carl Thomas Kinney, Jr., of New Orleans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kinney of that city.

Dr. George Pomeroy performed the double ring rites.

A myriad of white cathedral tapers in branched candelabras illuminated the altar, decorated with a pair of spiral candelabras festooned with greenery. Mass arrangements of white albatross chrysanthemums were placed on either side of the altar. In the foreground was a large arrangement of the same blooms which complemented the altar rail, entwined in sprenger fern.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Everett Zeagler, organist. She also accompanied the soloist, Palmer Jarrell, who sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was fashioned of pure silk satin in pale ivory. The rose point lace bodice was scalloped into a sabbina neckline trimmed in sequins and seed pearls. Her long pointed sleeves ended in petal points over the wrist. The sculptured waist was accented by a voluminous skirt featuring pleated rose point lace panels in front and back which formed an exquisite cathedral train.

The bride's veil fell from a matching rose point lace plateau, she carried a bouquet of lily of the valley, and tube roses centered with a white cattleya orchid.

Miss Charlotte Bowman of Berwick was maid of honor. Her gown was of bluish pink silk organza with a sheer skirt and a pleated bodice. A rose pink sash crossed the bodice to a back bow with flowing streamers. She wore a matching bandeau of rose pink velvet and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of rose pink and pink Venus carnations with matching angel feathers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Julia Bes Williams, Miss Mary Rose Kettering of Biloxi, Miss, and Miss Dana Griffith of Grand Cane. Their bouws were identical to the maid of honor. They wore matching headdresses and carried bouquets similar to the honor attendant.

Miss Margaret Ann Lee and Miss Marlon Huckaby served as candlelighters. Their dresses were of white silk organza with full skirts and molded bodices. They wore white carnation wristlets.

Serving Mr. Kinney as best man was William Knight of Jennings.

Lafayette and Tommy Jones of Shreveport.

Mrs. Strauss chose for her daughter's wedding a pale pink chiffon and lace model with matching accessories. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

The bridegroom's mother was becomingly attired in a brown lace trimmed in beige. Her accessories were also in beige satin. Complementing her ensemble was a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Groomsmen were Troy Baine of Brownville, Tex., Gaston White of Reception Held Immediately following the wedding, the bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home on Hilton.

In the living room where the receiving line stood was a modern charcoal hand blown vase with a line arrangement of specimen pink chrysanthemums.

An artistic arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums decorated the den.

The wedding table, covered with a white organdy cloth over pink was centered with a tiered pink wedding cake topped by fresh flowers. Silver candelabras on either side held garlands of tube roses and sweetheart roses interspersed with velvet foliage.

Grape trees decorated the punch tables in the garden illuminated by hurricane lamps and Japanese lanterns. Potted caladiums were throughout the garden.

The bride's book was placed on a table decorated with a hurricane lamp filled with pink blossoms and surrounded with ivy.

Assisting with courtesies at the reception were Miss Sylvia Masury, Miss Clara Ann Starnes, Miss Margaret Gymbal, Miss Pat Raitzall, Mrs. M. D. Sordin, Mrs. Meyer Weldman, Mrs. O. L. Holloway, Mrs. L. H. Unglesby, Jr., Mrs. John Griffith, and Mrs. Joe Kern.

For a wedding trip to Point Clear Ala., and points of interest along the Gulf coast, the bride chose a black and brown silk suit with black velvet accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

A member of Kappa Delta sorority and Kappa Delta P. nation, Miss Bingham graduated from New Orleans high school attended North State College and is continuing her studies in education at Louisiana State University.

Mr. Kinney is a member of Kappa Sigma at Louisiana State University where he is studying pre-med. He graduated from Jennings high school.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kinney of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Unglesby Owens of Shreveport, Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith and Miss Janis Griffith of Grand Cane, Mr. and Mrs. Gaston White of Lafayette, Donald Blumenthal of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Carraway of Jennings.

Gaines Home Is Scene Of Party For Bride-Elect

The home of Mrs. Charles Gaines in Olla was the scene of a delightful shower honoring Miss Patsy Kay Gregory, bride-elect of Louis Perkins, Tuesday night.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. James Kiper, Mrs. Joe Colvin, Mrs. Charles Gaines, Mrs. Ted Nethery, Mrs. Glen Loe and Mrs. Gene Andrews.

A pink and white motif was carried out in the floral arrangements throughout the party rooms. Gracing the entrance hall were mass compositions of pink and white caladiums.

The dining table featured a white satin stairway on which bride and groom figurines were placed. Leading from the figures were white satin ribbons on which the names of the bride-elect and her fiancé were written.

An epergne arrangement of pink carnations adorned the buffet. On either side were candelabras holding pink tapers.

Miss Sue Sims poured at the punch bowl.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. Bobby Talley.

Mrs. Glen Gardner presented piano selections throughout the evening and accompanied Miss Gloria Williams who sang.

Miss Gregory chose for the party a trousseau model in shades of brown.

Invited were Mesdames Henry Cooksey, Nick Edwards, Bobby Talley, Tom Brady, W. E. Gammill, Jr., J. G. Hicks, J. E. Harris, Jr., T. B. Perkins, Claude Terral, Louise Freeman, J. W. Bulges and bumps are more readily revealed by supple fabrics than by crisp materials that stand away from the figure and a tight fit with buttons marching over the bulge, tells all. Moderate front fullness camouflages tummy bulge.

MRS. JAMES MARTIN KLINE

Summer Wedding In Crossett Claims Widespread Interest

The Presbyterian Church in Crossett was the setting for the wedding at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, August 25, of Miss Helen Powe Godat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Godat of Crossett, and James Martin Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kline of Dayton, Ohio.

Vows were exchanged before a Holy Table flanked by candelabra and floor baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli. The sanctuary windows were decorated with arrangements of ivy and small mums.

The Rev. Donald Kennedy Campbell officiated at the ceremony. Miss Gertrude Alcorn, organist, played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a diaphanous gown of imported rose point lace and tulle. It was fashioned with a long fitted bodice of the lace and had short pleated sleeves. The full skirt of tulle had a cathedral train. Her headpiece of rose point lace ended in a short cape over full-length layers of illusion. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and sweetheart roses.

Mrs. John I. Moore of New Orleans, attended her sister as matron of honor attired in pink nylon organza with tucked bodice and accented pleated skirt. She wore a wide sash of the organza with a bow in back. Her hat was fashioned of a triple bow of satin with a snood of veiling. She wore matching ing satin shoes and carried an arm bouquet of deep pink carnations.

Three bridesmaids, Misses Beth Anders of Crossett, Lea Sunderland of Whitehaven, Tenn., and Jean Nall of Horn Lake, Miss., wore dresses identical to that of the honor attendant, and carried similar bouquets of a pale pink.

Candles were lighted by Miss Jane Sullivan and Miss Patricia Arnold. They were dressed alike in white embroidered nylon organza over pale pink taffeta with pink cummerbunds. They wore wrist corsages of sweetheart roses.

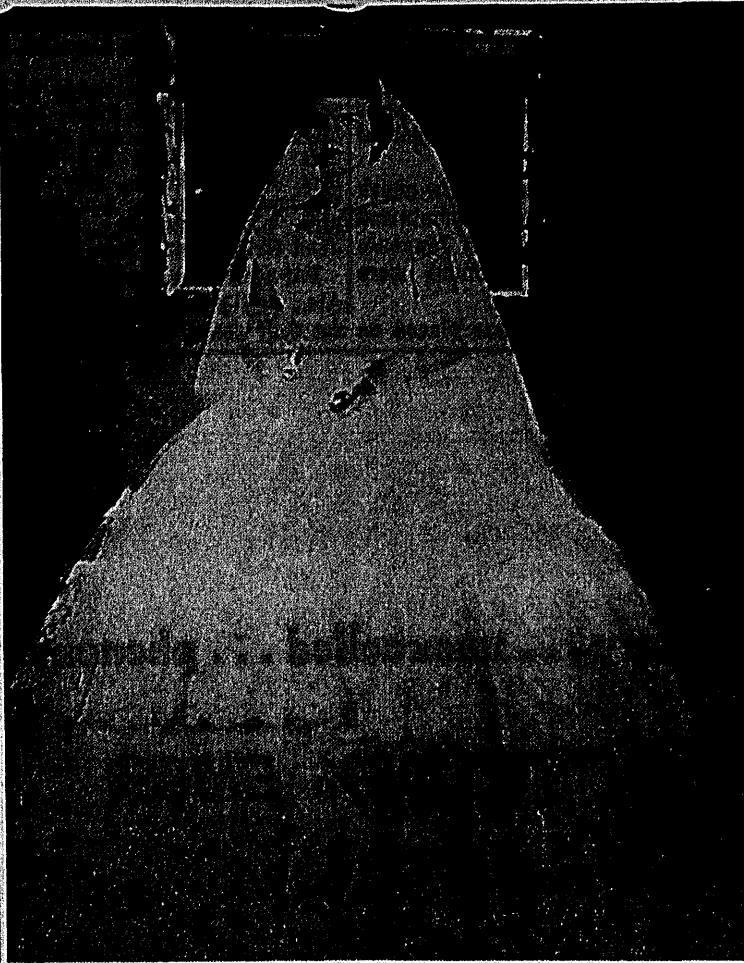

Richard Kline of Dayton, Ohio, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Roscoe Boyer and Richard Hall, both of Oxford, Miss., John I. Moore of New Orleans, brother-in-law of the bride, and William C. Norman, Jr.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given in the Pine Room of the Rose Inn by the bride's parents.

The bride's book was presided over by Miss Joni Carpenter of Birmingham, Ala.

Messdames D. K. Campbell of Crossett, Ronald Richards of Magnolia, Misses Marion Brown of Memphis, Anne Clark of Crossett, and Sue Hill of Baraboo, Wisconsin, served.

Assisting in receiving were Messdames Paul Sullivan, W. S. Arnold, W. C. Norman, P. F. Watzek, R.

MRS. NORMAN MAURICE MAGEE

Magee-White Troth Pledged By Candlelight

Miss Vivian White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry White of Newellton, became the bride of Norman Maurice Magee, son of Mrs. Minnie Richardson of Port Allen, and the late Mr. Magee, in a beautiful candlelight ceremony at 7:00 Saturday evening, August 18, at the Newellton Union Church.

The Rev. C. B. Pickens performed the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was presented by Miss Janie Bounds, organist. She also accompanied Miss Diane Thames, soloist who sang "Because", "I Love You Truly", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and greenery and four candelabra holding glowing white candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white peau de soie with Alencon lace adorning the scalloped neckline, brief sleeves and a bouffant skirt which ended in a train. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, tube roses and lily of the valley.

Miss Sarita McDonald of Newellton, was maid of honor. Her dress was forest green tulle over taffeta. She wore a matching bandeau. Her bouquet was bronze mums.

Bridesmaids were Miss Henrietta Q. Connor, John T. Irwin, and A. W. Dusklin.

The bride's table, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, was covered with an imported cutwork cloth laid over taffeta and net. The cloth on the punch table was of embroidered batiste over taffeta centered with a floral arrangement of asters and stock.

For travel the bride wore a slate blue winter cotton sheath dress trimmed with black Italian braid, with jet accessories.

After a wedding trip the couple will make their home in Oxford, Miss., where Mr. Kline is a member of the faculty of the University of Mississippi. Mrs. Kline will complete her senior year at the University.

Guests from out of town who attended the wedding of Miss Godat and Mr. Kline Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. John I. Moore and their two children of New Orleans, Mrs. Moore is the sister of the bride. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Girl Scout News

There's still more to be told about camp at Wabbansee. Maybe you've heard first-hand accounts from some of the campers. A party, cookouts, campfires, the closing banquet, were highlights that campers will long remember. "Book Parade" was the Saturday party theme, with campers dressed as characters in books, and acts and games carrying out the same theme. Julie Wooley as a puppy and Louise Lester as a monkey were outstanding characters from Pioneer, which chose a circus theme for the whole unit. In Persimmon unit Bena Ball and Jerri Byers as Raggedy Ann and Andy, and Sissi Loftin as Johnny Appleseed were voted especially good. Pine unit chose Peter Pan, with Mickey Varnado as Peter, Diane Stringer as Tinker Bell, Diantha McBride as Wendy, Rosemary Ball as John and Diana Walters as Michael. Refreshments of course, added to the fun.

Sunday was marked by a simple worship service, a morning to do as one pleased, an especially good dinner, fun at the pool in the afternoon, supper outdoors, and Scouts Own just before dusk on the canoe dock, where everybody remained until dark, singing favorite pretty songs. Fun at the pool consisted of races, exhibitions of diving from the board and surface diving. Some of the girls who excellent in the competition are Nancy Martin, Marie Nelson, Sally Pierce, Frances Adams, Diana Jordan, and Elizabeth Lee Miller. Elizabeth has been in the Philippines for two years, where she has been able to swim daily the year 'round. As a result, she is a beautiful swimmer.

One of the outstanding campfires was held in Pioneer unit, with girls of that unit in charge. Choosing an Indian theme, the girls spent hours in preparing costumes, working up a skit. They chose Diana Jordan as a skit. They chose Diana Jordan as chief, Mary Lynn Cloutier as chief, Marie Nelson as medicine man, Galt Pearson as brave, Geraldine Peterson as rival chief, Joan Williams as the evil spirit, and Nancy Clare Noland as another brave. Fourteen Brownie Scouts from Arcadia had the thrill of seeing the camp in action. Mrs. Harold Durrett, leader, Mrs. James Anders and Mrs. Letlow accompanied the girls, who observed the camp in action, and went on a hike with Pine unit, taking nosebag lunches and eating supper with the older campers.

Next time we'll tell about the closing events of camp.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN ROBERT OLDENBURG

Couples Pledge Vows In Double Wedding Ceremony

The College Place Baptist Church provided the setting for a double wedding Saturday, August 18, at 7 o'clock in the evening uniting Miss Carolyn Jane Blanchard and John Robert Oldenburg and Miss Marilyn Dawn Oldenburg and George Fredrick Mobley.

Miss Blanchard is the daughter of Mr. Cecile Blanchard and the late Mrs. Johnny Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. John Oldenburg are parents of the bridegroom and Miss Oldenburg. Mr. Mobley is the son of Mrs. Viola Mobley and the late Mr. Fredrick Mobley of Fort Dick, Calif.

The Rev. Earl Ogg performed the double ring nuptials. For the occasion, the church was decorated with baskets of white carnations, gladioli and palms. Cathedral tapers in branched candelabras illuminated the wedding party.

Mrs. C. L. Dillingham presented a program of nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Estelle Sanders and Jack Day who sang "I Love You Truly," "Through the Years" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Miss Blanchard was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned of white satin with an overskirt of white tulle and inserted lace. The lace bodice featured a high neckline inset with sequins and pearls. Her long sleeves ended in petal points over the wrist. A headpiece of seed pearls and sequins secured her veil of illusion. She carried a white orchid surrounded by tube roses and lilies of the valley.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Oldenburg's gown was an ivory satin model styled with a Queen Anne collar. The sculptured bodice was complemented by a bouffant skirt and round neckline. Her headpiece was of lace and seed pearls. Her bouquet was also of tube roses and lilies of the valley, centered with a white orchid.

The brides served each other as maid-of-honor. Candles were lighted by Miss Pat Patterson and Miss Patsy Doan who were attired in white formal. They wore wristlets of white carnations.

Miss Blanchard's bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Brady, Miss

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE FREDRICK MOBLEY

Marilyn Magnon and Miss Betty Hand. Their gowns were fashioned of yellow crystalline with drop shoulders and full circular skirts. They wore matching headbands and carried aqua carnations fashioned in a V.

Miss Oldenburg's attendants, Miss Sandra Johnson, Miss Kathleen Oldenburg and Miss Shirley Drane were attired in gowns and headpieces identical to the other bridesmaids in an aqua shade. Their bouquets were yellow carnations in V-shape.

The bridegrooms also served each other as best man. Ushers were Bill Blanchard, Charles Wood, Tony Wormer, Bob Dowden of Lake Charles, Roland Oldenburg, Ted Oldenburg and Fredrick Oldenburg both of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. K. Stewart chose for her niece's wedding a dusty pink lace with a matching hat and navy accessories. A white carnation corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Oldenburg was becomingly attired in a dusty blue lace model with a matching hat and white accessories. Her flowers were also white carnations.

Mrs. Mobley was wearing a light blue mesh model with a matching blue satin hat and white carnations.

A reception followed the wedding in the B. S. U. Student Center at Northeast State College.

Receiving with the wedding party were members of their families. White gladioli and mass arrangements of yellow and aqua carnations decorated the reception room.

The brides' table was decorated with two large white tiered wedding cakes topped with miniature brides and grooms. Serving the wedding cakes were Mrs. Julius Nelson and Mrs. Luther Power. Tea girls were Miss Barbara Booth and Miss Tildie Clampt.

Alternating at the punch services were Mrs. C. J. Dunn, Mrs. Arthur Laman, Mrs. Ted Oldenburg, Mrs. Herman Hyman, Mrs. Pat Guice, Mrs. Estelle Sanders, Mrs. C. R. Peterson and Mrs. J. Crow.

Registering guests in the brides' books were Mrs. Bob Dowdy and Mrs. Sue Henderson.

Mrs. Oldenburg changed to a brown and white cotton model with a green velvet hat and the orchid from her wedding bouquet for traveling. They will make their home in Oklahoma City.

For a wedding trip to the Smokey Mountains, Mrs. Mobley wore an aqua linen suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. Upon return, they will reside in Shreveport.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. B. Oldenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hyma, Mrs. Arthur Laman and daughter, Joan, of Muskegon, Mich.; Mrs. T. Oldenburg and sons, Theodore and Frederick of Signal Mt., Tenn.; Mrs. Viola Mobley of Fort Dick, Calif.; Mrs. Bessie Siler of San Bernardino, Calif.; Mrs. Maude Cox, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Tony Wormer of Amsterdam, Netherlands; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dowden of Lake Charles; Miss Shirley Drane of Forest; Miss Sandra Johnson, Miss Shirley Hayes and Miss M. FERRIDAY STYLE SHOW
FERRIDAY, Aug. 25 (Special)—The senior class of the Ferriday High School sponsored a style show and tea on Thursday. The style show featured the latest fall fashions at the home of Mrs. Doris Morris.

A woman speeder gave the traffic officer an excuse he had never heard before. "I have just bought a new hat," she said, "and I was trying to get to a cocktail party before it went out of style."

MR. AND MRS. JESSE HARDY COOPER

Miss Armstrong Is Married

At the First Methodist Church of Delhi on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock Miss Sara Armstrong became the bride of Jesse Hardy Cooper. Miss Armstrong is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Armstrong of Delhi and the groom's parents are Mrs. James H. Watts and Mr. J. H. Cooper, of Baton Rouge. Rev. Don Wineinger performed the ceremony.

Frank McKay, was organist. He accompanied Mrs. James Watts, the soloist.

The vows were said before a background of emerald greenery and candelabras holding tall orchid tapers. Baskets of orchid gladioli stood at each side of the altar. Banks of magnolia foliage and orchid tapers adorned the windows of the church.

Miss Sue Armstrong, sister of the bride, served as maid-of-honor. Her gown was of pale lavender crystallite fashioned with a full skirt and a tucked drape around the shoulders. Her headpiece was made of interwoven lavender satin stems trimmed with net and pearls. She carried a hand bouquet of purple asters and orchid mums. Bridesmaids were Miss Joan Armstrong, another sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara Payne. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid-of-honor.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white bridal satin, fashioned with a scooped neckline with an inset of scalloped lace and seed pearls on the bodice. The skirt was floor length with a chapel train and had a lace inset coming to a point in the center back. The long sleeves came to a point at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a tiarra of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale lavender tuberoses, and baby mums centered with a specimen lavender orchid.

Serving the groom as best man was his father, Mr. Jesse Hardy Cooper, of Baton Rouge. Ushers were Hoyt Greenblatt of Baton Rouge and Graham Armstrong of Delhi.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Armstrong chose a dress of lace cut - out on a pink background, made princess style with a bolero jacket. Her corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a suit with a toast brown skirt and egg-shell jacket, brown accessories and a corsage of bronze mums.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church. The room was decorated with baskets of magnolia foliage placed at vantage points. On a small side table stood a miniature bride and groom under an archway entwined with ivy. Wedding bells were hung in the entrance and exit doorways. The bride's table was covered with a white linen cloth and held the crystal punch service and centerpiece of pink roses, rose of Montana, and fern in which six tall pink tapers were placed. On another table covered with a pink linen cloth was an arrangement of pink roses, rose of Montana and fern. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake, embossed in pink and green, stood on this table. Mrs. Ethel McIntyre, Mrs. Dorothy Bell and Mrs. Bernice Clark served as hostesses. Miss Charlotte Ann Stodghill, of Rayville, presided at the bride's book which was placed on a small side table beside a tall white taper in a silver candleholder. The bridesmaid's bouquets were placed on the piano between silver candleholders holding tall white tapers.

After the reception the young couple left for a wedding trip to Biloxi, Miss. For travelling the bride chose a pink sheath dress, pink hat and white accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Upon their return they will make their home in Baton Rouge where both will attend L. S. U. this fall. The bride is a graduate of Central High School and will be a junior at L. S. U. this year. The groom is a graduate of Gulf Coast Military Academy in Gulfport, Miss., and is now attending L. S. U. He served in the Marine Corps until January of this year.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Neill of Lake Charles; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Watts of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stodghill and Charlotte Ann of Rayville; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cooper of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Froman Spant of Baton Rouge; David Spant of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Neill of Baton Rouge; Mrs. P. L. Rathborn of Minden; Mr. J. B. Furr of Greenwood, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Calhoun of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Calhoun and children, Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Calhoun, all of Meridian, Miss.; Mrs. Charles H. Easam of Shreveport; Mrs. J. H. McMillan of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Doris Winters of Louisiana; Mrs. Ralph Scott and granddaughter, Pat of Kilbourne; Mrs. Lella Franklin of Baton Rouge.

Boughton-Cook Vows Pledged In Mangham

Miss Billie Jo Cook, daughter of Mrs. Billy C. Cook and the late Mr. Cook, of Rayville, became the bride of Floyd Bruce Boughton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer R. Boughton, of Mangham, in a ceremony performed in the First Baptist Church of Mangham, officiant for the beautiful double ring ceremony, was the Rev. C. W. Jones.

The church was decorated with a background of Southern smilax, and cathedral tapers in wrought iron candelabras entwined with smilax illuminated the setting. The altar featured gladioli and stock in white wrought iron stands.

Vocalists were Mrs. Kenneth Bradshaw and Archie N. Brown who were accompanied by Mrs. C. W. Jones.

Lighting the candles were Bill and Jim Bruce.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, R. W. Jones, was wearing a floor length dress of organza over taffeta and net. Eyelet embroidery accentuated the V-neckline and was repeated in the circle skirt by two panels. A wide taffeta cummerbund circled the waist and caught up into a large bow with a long flowering sash in the back. Adorning her head was an elbow length veil which flowed from a scalloped edged headpiece of lace, trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was of tube roses, arranged around the traditional white orchid.

Miss Mickey Brown, maid of honor, Miss Brown's dress was a street length model of yellow crystal over taffeta. The V-neckline, cummerbund, bow and sash matched the bride's gown. Her headpiece was of yellow net and seed pearls. Her bouquet was of blue painted daisies.

Bridesmaids were Jenny Ware, Gloria Dean Grant, Gloria Pitman,

MR. AND MRS. FLOYD BRUCE BOUGHTON

and Sybil Pee. Their dresses were identical to the maid of honor's. Their gowns were blue and they carried yellow painted daisies.

Homer Alfred Boughton, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Ushers were Buddy Pardue and Glenn Ratcliff.

Mrs. Cook chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of navy lace over taffeta and white accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Boughton, mother of the groom, wore black lace over pink taffeta and pink accessories. Her corsage was a pink orchid.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlor.

The table was covered with a line cloth and decorated with tube roses and fern. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut and served by Miss Aurora James.

Serving the punch was Mrs. Kenneth Bradshaw.

Assisting as tea girls were Miss Ann Page, Miss Beverly Smith, and Mrs. Bobby Hammett.

The bride chose a two-piece navy blue cotton trimmed in white piping and white accessories for her going away ensemble.

After a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the couple are making their home in Rayville.

The bride is a graduate of Northeast Louisiana State College, where she was a member of Phi Mu sorority. Mr. Boughton attended L. S. U. and Northeast Louisiana State College.

Out-of-town guests were: Miss Robble Lee Cox, of Denham Springs, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Williams and daughter, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Pee and son, of Ruston; Mrs. Howard White of Lake Providence; Mrs. Elmer Cramer of Transylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brunson and daughter, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Sims, of St. Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. Homer A. Boughton and son, of Jonesville; and Mrs. W. A. Harvey, of Monroe.

Couple Pledge Vows In Early Morning Rites

Miss Joanne Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Milton Williams and Robert Lemoine, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemoine, all of West Monroe, pledged their nuptial vows in an early morning ceremony at 8 o'clock at St. Pascal's Catholic church.

Father Vilus Duschinsky performed the double ring rite. Maroon daisies, gladioli and greenery decorated the altar which was illuminated by white cathedral tapers.

Sandy Lawn was organist and accompanied Elvis Stout, soloist who sang "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a white applique tulle model with a long torso. The full skirt formed a chapel length train. Her veil of imported illusion was caught to a crown of lace trimmed in seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations and tube roses showered with satin streamers.

Miss Marlow Anderson served the bride as maid of honor. She wore a white cotton lace model over green polished cotton. Her bandeau was studded with seed pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink asters backed with white lace.

Miss Rita Barnes was bridesmaid. Her dress and bouquet were identical to the maid of honor.

Bill Moore served the bridegroom as best man. Groomsman and ushers were Tommy Sanders, Rawls Dupree and Ralph Jolissaint.

The bride's mother chose for the wedding a beige linen with a matching lace duster and brown accessories. Her corsage was of bronze mums.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Green on Austin avenue in West Monroe.

Decorations at the reception featured wedding bells, mums and fruit arrangements. Pink rose buds enhanced the table where the bride's book was presided over by Mrs. Harold Roth.

Miss Dixie Browning poured at the punch bowl and served coffee was Mrs. Otis Williams of Baton Rouge. Mrs. Willa Mae Brydon presided at the cake service.

Tea girls were Misses Julia Anna Green, Rosary Lemoine, Sara Hamilton, Anna and Patty Williams.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf coast, the bride changed to a brown linen suit with white accessories and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of the West Monroe High school and attended Northeast Louisiana State College. She is a member of Delta Kappa Pi and Beta Delta sororities.

Mr. Lemoine graduated from West Monroe High school and is now serving with the U. S. Coast Guard in Mobile, Ala.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Otis Williams of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Tom Williams, Willa Mae Brydon, of Oakdale; Mrs. Mary Lemoine of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. John Rick and daughter, Jo Lynn, Mrs. E. Pagnac and children, Sandra and Eugene; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Leau-mont and sons, Andrew and Jules; Mrs. R. S. Rizzo, all of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Roland J. Waldroup and Allen of Lake Charles.

Thoughts Turn To Fall Fashions

September is just around the corner, and our thoughts naturally turn to fall, and what we will wear. This year our imagination can really have a field day. The manufacturers have really outdone themselves in bringing us a lovely assortment of colors and patterns. Coordinate is the keynote for fall fashions.

One of the favorite combinations for early fall wear is the plain dress with a striped jacket. A blend of silk and cotton that has a semi-smooth feel and a luxurious look is ideal for such ensembles. It can be smartly fashioned into the princess sheath with an empire jacket, which is the favorite silhouette for the season.

Coupons and cotton shantung is another favorite for fall. It has the look of silk, but is a blessing to anyone's wardrobe with its care-free finish. It is being used primarily for softly tailored dresses. For a smart ensemble, a duster or jacket made from a dyed-to-match fabric that has the rough texture of wool, but is entirely cotton, can be added.

The popular French knot cottons of this summer are being replaced by heavier nubby cottons. They are available in checks, plaids and stripes, and such heavenly colors as pinks, blues, and yellows. Of course the darker tones of grays and browns are still very much in demand, but I'm sure you mothers will welcome some bright colors for those little tots just starting to school for the first time come September.

Speaking of clothes for starting to school, brings the dark background prints with the drip-dry finish into the spotlight for fall. They were just made for the ever-popular shirtwaist dress.

Mothers take notice! At last there is a material for party dresses that is completely washable, and believe me it has sacrificed none of its beauty for its practicality. It is a lovely new celanorm jacquard taffeta — ideal for full-skirted dresses for the teenagers, and at a fabulously low price.

Coordinated ensembles are a must for fall, and the fabrics for suits and coats are ideal for this theme. Tweeds of silk and wool are wonderful for those casual boxy suits, and the dyed-to-match wool jersey blouse makes the ensemble nearly complete. A topper of luxurious cashmere and wool completes it. These dyed-to-match coordinates really make your wardrobe versatile.

The colors for fall are really in keeping with our modern trend of living. The bright ones are really bright, and the neutral one elegantly so. To the joy of most of us, black is the most predominate. We see once again the "little black dress" taking its stand. "Salt and pepper" tweeds are regaining their popularity in keeping with the black and white combinations, but the smartest combination is black and brown. Black is also being used in combination with every other color imaginable. . . . next in popularity on the color chart is brown, with the smoky tones being the favorite. Beige and rust are still holding their places. Blues in deep lush tones are rapidly coming into focus for fall. Royal and teal are two of the prettiest shades for adding a bright touch to your fall wardrobe.

The style trend is definitely toward slimmer lines for fall. There will be fewer petticoats rustling under the new princess line, featuring the straight look in front giving way to a slight fullness in back. The straight sheath with the empire jacket is the favorite silhouette and the most versatile of all fashions for fall. The jacket gives a covered up look for daytime wear, but often conceals a smart basic dress that is easily transformed into a date dress with the addition of jewelry or a silk scarf.

This fall there is a style and a color for everyone, so let your imagination and your creative ability be your guide to a fashionable fall wardrobe.

Olla Church Is Scene Of Nuptial Vows

OLLA — Miss Pattie Lee Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Berry of Olla and James Maxwell Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Smith of Milton, Fla., were married at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the First Baptist church in Olla.

The Rev. C. T. Smith performed the double ring ceremony. Baskets of pink gladioli and branched candelabras with pink tapers decorated the church.

Mrs. Daniel Brockner was organist and accompanied Sammy David, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a wedding gown of pink lace over satin with a fitted bodice and neckline outlined in seed pearls. The floor-length skirt fell in tiers of lace and tulle over satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a headpiece of lace covered satin embellished in pearls. She carried a white Bible on which was mounted a purple orchid.

Mrs. E. H. Hays, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pink crystalline gown over matching taffeta. Her bouquet was of pink carnations.

Nancy Carol Hays, a niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed identically to the matron of honor and carried a nosegay of tiny pink carnations.

T. W. Alexander served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were W. C. Berry and the Rev. E. H. Hays.

Candlelighters were William Smith and Jeffrey Zeagler.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a rose lace model with black accessories and white carnations.

Mrs. Smith, the bridegroom's mother, was attired in a blue lace model with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

A reception followed in the social rooms of the church.

The bride's table was overlaid in a pink cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. On either side of the cake were two branched candle holders with pink tapers and the matron of honor's bouquet.

Mrs. T. W. Alexander registered guests in the bride's book.

Serving the wedding cake was Mrs. W. C. Berry. Miss Jewell Burnett of Shreveport presided at the punch service.

Others assisting with courtesies were Misses Lavana Browning, Sue Sims, Marilyn Davis, Gloria Williams, Mrs. E. E. Sims and Mrs. Ted Nethery.

The couple will make their home in Kingsville, Tex.

The bride graduated from LaSalle High school and Northeast Louisiana State College.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Louisiana Tech where he holds membership in Tau Beta Pi fraternity.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Miss Janell Burnett of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Alexander of Corpus Christi, Tex.; Rev. and Mrs. C. T. Smith, William and Rickey Smith of Crowley, La.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Berry of New Orleans; Rev. and Mrs. Theodore Smith of Milton, Fla.; Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Hays, Nancy Carol and Mike Hays of Georgetown; Miss Doris Thames, Miss Sue Harvey and Johnnie James of Columbia, and Miss Charlotte Tannehill of Urania.

DR. A. E. PRINCE

Dr. Prince Will Open Revival For Lakeshore

"Back to Bethel" will be the theme for a revival beginning today at the Lakeshore Baptist church, Lakeshore and Camellia drive. Dr. A. E. Prince, a greatly used servant of God, will be the evangelist.

Dr. Prince has traveled approximately 2,500,000 miles, served as pastor and interim pastor of 30 churches, headed one academy and three colleges, conducted more than 500 funerals and married more than 500 couples, ordained scores of ministers, has had about 12,000 converts and approximately 15,000 additions to churches. He is the author of six books.

The revival music will be under the direction of Mr. Dan Watson. Special music will be rendered each service.

Services will be at 7:30 each night, August 26 through Sept. 2.

REV. E. A. BURGESS

Liberty Baptists Opening Revival Sunday Morning

Revival services will begin at the Liberty Baptist church, Calhoun, Sunday morning, according to an announcement by the Rev. Sherwood W. Tullos, pastor of the church.

Rev. E. A. Burgess will conduct the services. Rev. Burgess will be assisted in his work with the revival by Mrs. Fred Staples, who will direct the music. Mr. Archie David Calhoun will serve as pianist.

Rev. Burgess will begin his services on Monday, August 27 and continue through September 2. Services will be held each morning at 7:30 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to attend this revival series.

Lakeshore Ch. Gets Watson, Musician

Dan Watson, Ridge Avenue Baptist church music director, has resigned to accept a similar position with the Lakeshore Baptist church in Monroe.

Mr. Watson has been with the Ridge Avenue Baptist church for a year and a half and has done a fine work with the choir and youth of the church, states the pastor, the Rev. A. T. Mitchell.

He is to start his new position today. Reverend Headrick is pastor of the Lakeshore church.

In using a stepladder, stand at least two steps from the top to avoid falling.

MISS ALICE MCBRIDE

St. Christopher Day School For Church To Open

St. Christopher's Day school at Grace Episcopal church, North Fourth and Glenmar streets, has announced that Miss Alice McBride has been appointed teacher-supervisor of the school's new kindergarten for the coming year. Miss McBride, a native of Ruston, has for the last three years taught kindergarten at Lexington school in Monroe. Prior to this she taught kindergarten in the public schools of Port Arthur, Texas for six years. A graduate of Louisiana Tech, Miss McBride received her Bachelor of Science degree in child development. She later attended Colorado State Teachers College, Greeley, Colorado and Wyoming State at Laramie, Wyoming for advanced work in kindergarten education.

"We are delighted to have Miss McBride on our teaching staff," announced the Rev. John M. Allin, Rector of Grace church and Chaplain to St. Christopher's school. "We feel that this enables us to best assist in meeting the needs of kindergarten children in our community and that it marks another step in our efforts on behalf of Christian education."

Choudrant Baptist To Dedicate New Education Bldg.

The new educational building of the Choudrant Baptist church will be formally dedicated Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by the pastor, the Rev. Bill Rhymes.

The new addition will provide three Sunday school rooms, pastor's study, kitchen and dining room. It has been erected at a cost of $12,000.

The finance committee comprised Truman Pipes, Mrs. Lois Britt, Mrs. Willie Walker, Mike Norris and Mrs. M. E. Kid.

The building committee consisted of Frank Hammons, Lynn Sander, Simmie Whitman, Willie Walker, Kernon Reswell and Mike Norris.

The Sunday school now has enrollment of 225 members.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Do you think a Christian should make a will?

ANSWER: I think that all adults should make a will, Christian or otherwise. I also think that Christians should remember that becoming a Christian does not relieve them of personal or family responsibilities, nor does it relieve them of their civic and political duties. In fact, a Christian should be the very best citizen of all. He should recognize that we live under laws established for the best good of the greatest numbers. With reference to the making of a will—when a person dies without a will, if he or she owns any property at all, it can mean untold difficulties for those involved because while the laws of different states vary, in almost every case the disposition of any estate, large or small, involves time, problems, and often real heartache and injustice for some. All of this can be obviated if even a simple will is left. It is not for me to advise as to how a will should be made but we have lawyers who can and will do this and it should be done. While individuals can write their own wills it can be like treating one's self for sickness. I would suggest that you make a proper will and in doing so, remember you are using the judgment and common sense God would have all of us use.

Persons interested in enrolling children in the kindergarten should call the First Baptist church office or the Weber home, she explained.

Louisiana Baptists, led by Dr. Chaffin, have made great progress in every phase of the work. This has won for him a place in the hearts of the people of the state.

Before coming to Louisiana he was assistant executive secretary of the Texas Baptist convention.

PREPARES FOR ROSH HA-SHANAH — Rabbi Jacob Lantz of the Temple B'nai Israel is shown with a Shofar, or ram's horn, which will be sounded on Wednesday, Sept. 5, ushering in the High Holy Day services of the Hebrew religion. Rosh Ha-Shanah, or the Jewish New Year, will commence the holy days, which will end with Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, Sept. 14. (Staff photo by Greg Hare.)

Jewish People Preparing For Incoming New Year

With worship exercises and efforts at spiritual inventory, Jews throughout the world will welcome their High Holydays beginning at sunset, Wednesday, September 5.

The holy days are a ten-day span devoted to religious self-examination. Traditionally, the period of contrition opens with the observance in home and synagogue, of the religious new year. According to legend, this is the 5717th year since the world's creation.

The liturgy for the New Year, or Rosh Ha-Shanah to use the Hebrew term Rosh meaning beginning; of ha, meaning the; and shanah, meaning year. Includes special prayers of penitence, unison readings stressing the theme of man's ability to improve, and hymns of aspiration and thanksgiving.

During the services on the morning of the new year, the Shofar, or ram's horn, is sounded as a call to conscience. In many Jewish homes, honey is served at the dinner meal in token of the home for a year of sweetness.

The High Holydays reach their climax with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, Saturday, Sept. 15, when those of the Jewish faith spend most of the day in synagogues offering prayers which ask for divine forgiveness for faults and weaknesses. Many fast on Yom Kippur.

Traditional Jews observe Rosh Ha-Shanah for two days, Reform Jews for one.

W. Monroe Church Kindergarten Is Planned Shortly

A kindergarten school will be opened by the First Baptist church, West Monroe, Sept. 7, according to Mrs. Jaroy Weber, principal of the school.

Save Leaves, Pine Straw For Gardens

We've visited together five years now, through this column. I've met lots of new friends and renewed acquaintance with many old ones and have enjoyed every minute. Will you remember that this column is yours? Please call when you have something in your garden that you feel is worth showing. People love seeing what others have done and it gives them an excuse for a Sunday afternoon ride. If you have an interesting hobby, have found a good short cut, call me. We can get a liberal education exchanging ideas.

Garden Ramblings

A number of people have called in about red spider on azaleas and camellias. At this time of year your best spray is malathion according to our state garden specialist, Miss Winona Chaffee. There's less danger of burn. Use the insecticide according to instructions on the bottle. This can be bought at any feed and seed store or nursery.

Dr. Kimbrough's lecture demonstration on roses follows the recommendations in his bulletin "Roses for the Yard". He did add that more roses are damaged by too much fertilizer than too little. He recommended a light pruning now, for roses that grow very large and rank. If they seem to need fertilizer, apply a light sprinkling of nitrogen now.

Regular pruning comes in February. This cutting back has a dwarfing effect on the plant. Dr. Hanchey said "Every time you cut blooms you're pruning. Leaves make food that makes the plant. Few blooms should be cut the first year. One reason rose bushes do not grow well or live long is that too much plant and leaves are removed with the blooms." The lecturer recommended "Know Bird" as one of the latest and best roses. It is sometimes classed as a "Floribunda," sometimes as hybrid tea.

Dr. Hanchey gave us some fine points on growing house plants. His recommendation for a spray for our indoor plants is malathion. For rooting such plants as geranium and dieffenbachia let the cuttings stay out twenty-four hours before putting them in the rooting medium. Vermiculite was the medium recommended. Fertilize every three months with a mixture of one ounce ammonium sulfate, one ounce muriate of potash to 2 gallons of water. Dr. Hanchey says to water the plant first. When this has soaked in well, pour the fertilizer mixture in the pot, the amount depending on the size plant. This is not the fertilizer he recommends for orchids or African violets.

Food News

It's still turkey time. Have you tried the small ones broiled? Supplies of this bird are running larger than last year, and large supply means the price will fit in the budget.

This is the time of year to check your meat market for a good bargain in a stewing chicken. Most poultrymen cull their laying flocks at this season. When a hen ceases to lay her way in eggs, she goes to the market. These hens are good eating, for they're fat, having been well fed when they were laying.

To stew a chicken, place the bird on a rack in a kettle and half fill with hot water, lightly salted. With the kettle partly covered, simmer until the bird is tender. Be sure the bird merely simmers and never boils. Intense heat hardens and toughens the protein of poultry, shrinks the muscles and drives out the juice. Turn the hen occasionally so that it will cook evenly throughout. Depending on the weight of the bird, it may take three to four hours to cook tender.

Meat cooked in water or steamed is juicier if allowed to cool in the broth. If possible, let a stewed chicken stand in the broth, breast down, for an hour or more.

The ways to use a stewing chicken are legion. Pop and the children have their favorite recipes, such as chicken salad, chicken a la king, chicken with noodles, chicken and dumplings. Here's Lula Gunard's delicious recipe for dumplings:

- 2 cups flour
- pinch salt
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ cup milk

Mix and drop in boiling broth and keep covered fifteen minutes until done.

This is the time to put a few of these stewing hens in the freezer. Keep one cooked, ready for quick use. Freeze the broth in jars.

Other food bargains to look for this month are eggs, milk, fresh plums, broilers and fryers, fresh pears, baby beef and veal, rice, grapes, tuna, squash, peanut butter, local vegetables.

Here and There

The big leaf and grass skirt were fashion favorites in times gone by, but now the latest thing in clothing is paper, including evening dresses and overalls. Since the manufacturers say they hope eventually to make the paper fabric available by the yard, the time may come when a woman will talk about "papering" instead of "basting" a new dress she's making.

The same company that developed the disposable tissue thirty-two years ago is making garments of paper today. The line includes evening dresses, sequin trimmed (which could sell for about $4.00), paper swim suits (sell for $1.00) overalls, sports shorts and utility garments for physicians and research workers.

In addition to being disposable, these garments are water resistant and flameproof. The fabric is a non-woven paper with some threads of rayon or nylon running through it. The paper fabric has great strength, lends itself to dyeing and is handled easily on the sewing machine. We in the South are not too happy over this. We'd like more garments made of cotton.

A friend of mine just bought a new home. When the measurements were taken for the space to leave for the refrigerator, the door to the box was closed. Last week, when she moved in, the space was not large enough to open the door to the box. She asked me to pass along this piece of experience to you—take measurements with the door open. Then you'll not have to have a wall cut out for more space.

Announcements

Your Open House shows for next week are as follows: Monday, Miss Velma Ikard, from Jena, La., will select clothes for school, and there will be some lovely models; Tuesday, Mrs. Audrey Dawson, from Ouachita, will prepare her favorite dessert; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring the three winning flower arrangements from the Fifth District Garden Center and we'll do some gardening; Thursday will make watermelon rind and pear preserves; Friday is marketing day with Mildred and Mammy. See you next Sunday.

Douglas Church To Have Homecoming

The annual homecoming will be held at the Douglas Methodist church near Ruston, August 26. All former pastors and members are cordially invited to attend this all day service which starts at 10:30 a.m. with preaching at 11 a.m.

A basket lunch is to be served at 12:30 p.m. and a program of group singing is to start at 1:30 p.m.

Rev. George P. Goodwin is pastor.

Revival Slated In Claiborne Church

A revival is to be initiated at Claiborne Methodist church Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The pastor, the Rev. D. R. Anderson, will bring the messages and Charlie Crawford will lead the singing.

At the organ and piano will be Misses Margaret Robinson and Miss Margie Norris.

The intermediate choir will sing at each evening service. Everyone is welcome.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

1. (6) MARRIAGE, EVER QUITE WHAT A WOMAN EXPECTS? YES ☐ NO ☐ 8-25

Answer To Question No. 1

1. No—nor what a man expects, although the unexpected apparently affects him less. Nearly all the unexpectedness in marriage is due to our failure to educate young people in what to expect. First, they learn what little they know only from hearsay, gossip, old wives' tales, and a little one-sided observation. Second, in the swooning, mooning days of engagement and honeymoon, they are too hot-up with emotion to learn anything. Our booklet, "Facing The Facts of Married Life," will tell you what to expect. Nonprofit, 15 cents (coin only), and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Do our public schools educate the most trainable part of children's minds?

Your opinion . . . 2. The eminent educator, the late E. L. Thorndike, said in substance: "We devote nearly all our time to training the intellect—the thing we can do least, instead of the emotions, the thing we could do best." Of course we train children in courtesy, good manners, and to some extent, in getting along with others. But I know of no school classes devoted to teaching self-control, what the emotions do, "the power of confident living," and the like. Emotional counseling should begin with the first grade.

Do all oppressed peoples have a Messianic complex? Yes. Yes. They are helpless and looking for a "Messiah" to lead them out of their troubles. This is the secret of the psychology of Hitler, Mussolini, Lenin, Stalin, and all dictators. The Germans were to be citizens of the "Great State."

Mussolini was to "restore the Holy Roman Empire." Lenin and Stalin offered the "rule of the proletariat." They are fooled with fictions that this will lead them out of their misery.

The bidding: East, 1 heart; South, 1 no trump; West, Pass; North, 2 trump.

East, Pass; South, 3 no trump; West, Pass; North, Pass.

Opening lead: Seven of hearts. If one were to interpret literally the rantings of us bridge writers, he would come to look upon the finesse as a disreputable character. In our anxiety to promote safer methods of play we are inclined to exaggerate its evils.

This is deplorable, for it is one of the old reliable work horses which cannot be replaced by modern technical methods, though it is true that reliance should not be placed on a 50-50 chance when a sure fire method is available. In today's hand, declarer placed his adversaries in a position where they had to do his work for him.

East chose to open with one heart. South had sufficient values to justify a take-out double but he chose instead to overcall with one no trump. North, holding nine points offered an orthodox raise, and South proceeded to game.

West opened the seven of hearts. Declarer took East's nine with the queen and laid down the king of diamonds. East won the trick and dislodged declarer's last heart stopper by returning the ten. South saw no reason to hold up, since the bidding and play made it clear that West could have no more hearts, and the eight of hearts might be used to better advantage later in the play. Declarer led a diamond to dummy's ten and a diamond back to his hand, observing that East failed to follow. If East were given the lead at this point he could do no more than cash three heart tricks, after which he would be compelled to lead either a spade or a club. Declarer cautiously refrained from cashing the fourth diamond since he wished to guard against being pressed for discards himself. The eight of hearts put East in. He was able to cash two more heart tricks, on which dummy discarded a diamond and a club, while declarer let go a club and the five of spades. Now any return by East would prove fatal to the defense.

LET'S TAKE A TRIP—6

Niagara Falls

At Niagara Falls, the second largest waterfall in the world, the Niagara River plunges—at the rate of 50,000 tons of water a minute—into a gorge on the American-Canadian border. The Falls are in two parts, divided by a rocky, wooded island. On the Canadian side of the island are Horseshoe Falls, 2,950 feet wide and 168 feet high. The American falls are 1,977 feet high, and about 1,400 feet wide.

A small steamer, "Maid of the Mist," takes visitors right up to the base of the Falls.

Here is a picture of the Falls for your collection. Use your crayons to color it, and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully, and cut the dotted slot in the river and the slots below the steamer. Slip the center tab (X) into the slot.

Punch holes as indicated at the top and hang up the picture. Then from the back you can move the ship along the slot, as though she were steaming up the river.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

College Heights Club Has Beautiful Exhibit

Members of the College Heights staged the beautiful flower show at the Garden Center this week. All exhibits were pointed out by accredited judges. We are proud to say that all the horticulture was in the blue ribbon class, which we feel is an achievement in this hot, dry weather.

Mrs. J. V. Jones, president of the club, was awarded a blue ribbon for her fine specimen of shrimp plant. Blue Ribbons also went to Mrs. H. J. Shepard for "fandango" Marigolds, and for blooms of balsam.

High score in the arrangement division went to Mrs. John L. Toljar. A large white cone-shaped arrangement of the beautiful diagonal line was enhanced with dainty blooms of clematis, tuberoses and white zinnias in varying sizes. The arrangement was set on a rectangular base pale green in color. Very lovely to behold.

Mrs. J. V. Jones was awarded second place. A low white flared bowl was used for the compelling line—mass arrangement of celosia in magenta red tones. Furled maroon canna leaves and plume type celosia provided height. The cockscomb type celosia was massed in a lovely line pattern throughout the design. Low in the arrangement and covering the rim of the container were dark red celosia leaves edged with green. The coloring and materials were beautifully blended.

Mrs. E. M. Baber was awarded third place. Fall colors of orange, bronze green and tan were featured in the lovely line-mass arrangement. A boat-shaped pottery container in soft tan held the placements of juniper, graceful spikes of corn tassels used as background material. Brilliant orange fantasy zinnias were placed in the foreground and bronzy red celosia leaves used low in the design. A most interesting color combination and use of materials.

Mrs. Robert Ellington's coffee table arrangement was most interesting. A flat pressed glass bowl, (in reality a relish dish) was used. Hydrangea foliage was placed low and deep yellow canna on one side, with pale cream canna blooms on the other. Very pretty.

We have in the center the beautiful bulletin of the Louisiana Society for Horticultural Research, location of the queen of spades for his ninth trick or trusting to anything so improbable as winning the club finesse, declarer had enlisted the services of the opposition to develop the ninth trick.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Layman

There is little room for brightly colored dresses or suits on the small budget because they are so easily remembered and may become tiring.

A 'Bargain' Isn't A Bargain—If You Don't Need The Item

Bargains have a fatal attraction for most people. Too often folks fail to stop and think whether or not they need what they are buying.

published this spring by the society. There are wonderful articles on amaryllis, zephyranthes, and clivia. Contributors are Hamilton P. Traub, president of American Plant Life Society, Wyndham Hayward of Winter Park, Fla., Mrs. Morris Clint, Brownsville, Tex., Mrs. Lee Emery, New Orleans, Samuel Y. Caldwell, noted gardener of Nashville, Tenn., our own Jo Evans, and Professor Ira S. Nelson. The society sponsored Professor Nelson's plant exportation trip to South America. He returned with at least fifty or more new types of amaryllis and discovered the new species, amaryllis evansae, pale yellow in color. The bulletin is lovely in format and contains color plates of the amaryllis evansae and other Bolivian amaryllis. Copies are available at $1.50 each from Mrs. U. B. Evans, Haphazard plantation, Ferriday, La.

Nothing is a bargain if you do not need it or want it badly. Nothing is a good buy unless you can afford the original outlay and the upkeep.

What good is a stunning hairbrush to a bald headed man even if it is marked down from $10 to 10 cents? What benefit is it to a woman to get one of the big name creations for half the original price if she does not have any place to wear it?

While it is fun to go a bit haywire sometimes in the purchase of a luxury item in clothing or some other category, the woman who is well dressed on a small or medium budget has certain rules she follows.

She takes into consideration the Kind of life she leads and this dictates the type clothes she buys. She also thinks of the amount of money she has to spend and the type figure she has.

Double Duty

She learns to correlate so that one group of accessories can be worn with several outfits. I know one woman who has a pair of lizard skin shoes and buys for 10 years and they are still first rate. She takes good care of them and sometimes puts them away for a year or so when they do not match any of her clothes. I know another who buys very expensive hats but uses them for years, sometimes with a year or so in between. She buys the classic type, either the catwheel or the small behind-the-ear hat.

If you have the money to invest originally, I believe that you would be wise to buy more expensive clothes and wear them for many years. Many women cannot afford this, however, and many of them would like even of lovely and costly garments.

The woman on the fairly small clothes budget should take many factors into consideration. In the first place some materials show wear more quickly while others stand up under hard wear. There is little room for brightly colored dresses or suits on the small budget because they are so easily remembered and may become tiring.

Remember your figure! If you are overweight avoid large prints, shiny material, designs of cut or buttons which draw attention to up and down and do not have your clothes fitted too tightly.

If you would like my short routine of exercise especially planned for women, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for letter No. 5 to Josephine Layman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: Being Well-Groomed is No Accident—Have A Routine.

It seems women are becoming even more tardy than usual. In recent months there has been an increasing number of news stories about women who failed to arrive on time at the maternity ward.

BIRD BUDDIES—Torrey Jackson, when 16, took an injured young screech owl under his wing and nursed him back to health.

BIRD BATH—The patient makes a good home subject for Torrey's camera.

In these troublesome times when the word "teenager" is too often associated with the word "delinquent," it is a reassuring experience to meet 19-year-old Torrey Jackson of Marblehead, Mass.

Here's a lad who combined an early start in photography with an early interest in nature. The result has been outstanding bird pictures which have been exhibited in international salons, won awards in national photo contests, developed a sideline career as a lecturer and have currently brought him the 1956 Graftex Press Fellowship.

The fellowship consists of an all-expenses-paid stay in New York City while working with staff photographers of the New York Daily News on regular newspaper assignments. It's an exciting adventure for a youngster and must give keen satisfaction to Torrey's parents who started him on the nature trail before he was 8 years old.

"I developed a special interest in birds about then," young Jackson recalls. "I built and sold bird houses and feeders to buy my first box-type camera . . . then Dad showed me how to develop and print the film myself."

"My first lesson in practical photography came when I was about 12. A friend had loaned me a stuffed hawk and I decided to take pictures of it. My first shots were eight feet away with the box camera. The photos were sharp, but the bird was so tiny. So on my next try, I got up close, about two feet away. Now the image was big, but too blurred."

"Dad solved that problem for me," Torrey says. "He loaned me his old 24x34 Voigtlander plate camera and showed me how to focus sharply on the ground glass."

Record Review

BY WILLIAM D. LAFFLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The Golden Gate Quartet, absent too long from the recording scene, is back with a fast-moving album of spirituals that shows the group has lost none of its drive.

Each of the 12 selections in the RCA-Camden LP, packaged as "The Golden Gate Quartet Sings Favorite Spirituals," are sung with rhythmic feeling and some have more rhythm than rock-n-roll tunes. Spirituals in this selection include "Jonah in the Whale," "I'm a Pilgrim," "I Looked Down the Road and I Wondered," and "When They Ring the Golden Bells."

One of Europe's leading singers on the night spot circuit is an attractive woman known as Liane. Vanguard Records introduced her to the American scene several months ago with a successful album and now is encoir with "Glowing Embers." Liane is a sort of Hildegard—Edith Piaf combination and handles a song deftly in the language in which it was written. She gets good support on this 10-inch LP from the Bohemian Bar trio.

Platter Chatter—"Clay Idol," a ballad with a rock-n-roll twist, should establish Betty Johnson (Bally Records) as the female singing find of the year. . . . Pearl Bailey's sense of humor shows up in her Mercury recording of "I Can't Rock and Roll to Save My Soul." She doesn't need R. & B. Dick Hyman, who has distinguished himself as one of the country's best instrumentalists and who helped make "Merrill" one of the year's best numbers, puts a Dixie beat in his "one Finger Piano" (M-G-M).

Tops in Pops—"Peachy Peachy" by Rosemary Clooney (Columbia) "Please Be Gentle With Me" by Jean Martin (Unique), "In the Middle of the House" by Vaughn Monroe (RCA-Victor).

Best piano number—"Are You From Dixie?" a rollicking old-timer given new enthusiasm by Del Wood (RCA Victor).

Best revival—"Bei Mir Bist du Schon," by the Crew Cuts (Mercury). This is a remake of the number that made the Andrews Sisters one of the most important groups of the 1940's.

FBI Jail Romeo For Polygamy, Hot Check Spree

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 25—UP—The FBI Friday arrested a dapper Romeo who admitted taking on three wives without a divorce from his first spouse in a cross-country spending spree involving $40,000 to $50,000 in phony checks.

The arrest of William Paul Stephens, 26, of Wilmington, N.C., was announced by special agent Charles Weeks of the Miami FBI office. Stephens was arraigned on charges of interstate transportation of stolen goods and motor vehicles, impersonation of an Army officer and the illegal wearing of a uniform.

At his hearing Friday afternoon, an FBI agent introduced a statement signed by Stephens, who has two aliases, in which he admitted stealing almost 1,000 blank checks from a Fort Worth, Tex., firm, the Royal Galvanizing and Plating Co., for which he had worked.

He said he took two trips through the country, spending his bogus checks and driving off with rented cars in at least 20 cities across the country. He said he picked up wives and left them with almost equal abandon.

"It was so darned easy to get away with it all I just couldn't stop," he told Commissioner T. V. Cashen.

He told Cashen at his hearing that he was married in Texas in 1953, but that he picked up new wives at Pascagoula, Miss., in May of this year, in Kansas City, Mo., in July, and in Kingsland, Ga., this month. The FBI said there is no record of any divorce.

portunity to picture wild birds in their native habitats. It is still a family adventure and this year's trek found the family spending their vacation in northern Utah at the Bear River Migratory Refuge.

Torrey, now at Chauncey Hall Prep school, has his sights set on Massachusetts Institute of Technology. There he will major in electrical engineering under Dr. Harold Edgerton, well known pioneer in electronic flash photography. He hopes to do research in techniques, methods and developments of photographic equipment for better wild life photography. Adaptation of automatic sequence cameras operated by remote control is one specific idea he has in mind.

If the average person worried about the uncomplimentary things said about him, he'd be the world's greatest worrier.

STAMPS

The spirit and color that was "old Mexico" comes to life on a series of 11 new stamps by Mexico honoring the centenary of its first postage stamp, the 1856 Hidalgo.

The six stamps for regular postage are bi-colored and feature primitive designs and drawings used by the early tribes of Mexico.

The five airmails depict: "archaeological Mexico," "heroic Mexico" with a portrait of Jose Morelos (hero of the wars of independence), "Popular Mexico," with sombrero and spurs, "Modern Mexico" with a portrait of Victor Enriquez de Almanza, who instituted a horse postal system in the 16th century.

Also issued by Mexico was a

30 centavos blue and brown adhesive showing a vignette of the first stamp—the 1/2 real Hidalgo of 1856.

A valuable collection of early Mauritius stamps has been presented to the Smithsonian Institution by New York collector Ernst Lowenstein. The collection, valued at $16,000, contains issues between 1848 and 1859, according to Dr. Remington Kellogg, director of the U. S. Museum.

Even though the famed "post office" issues of 1847 are not included, the 2 pence "pence" error of 1848 is represented together with a fine cover bearing the 2 pence used for inland mail (1854).

To mark the 400th anniversary of St. Ignazio de Loyola's death, the Vatican has issued two new stamps reports the New York Stamp Co. The 35 lire brown and the 60 lire blue green depict Ignazio receiving confirmation of his Society of Jesus from Pope Paul III.

The portraits of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and other presidents of the American republics appear on a new set of stamps from Panama. The set honors the recently held Congress of American States held in that country.

Other leaders portrayed are Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra of Ecuador, Col. Oscar Osorio of El Salvador, Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez of Venezuela, Gen. Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, Gen. Hector Trujillo Mielar of the Dominican Republic, Gen. Manuel Odría of Peru, Gen.

Paul E. Magloire of Haiti, Adolfo Ruiz Corines of Mexico, Julio Lozano Diaz of Honduras, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala, Gen. Pedro Aramburu of Argentina, Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla of Colombia, Gen. Carlos Ibanez Del Campo of Chile, Dr. Victor Paz Estenssoro of Bolivia, Dr. Juscelino Kubitschek of Brazil, Dr. Alberto Zubiria of Uruguay, Gen. Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay, Gen. Fulgencio Batista Zaldivar of Cuba and Ricardo Arias Espinosa of Panama.

Pakistan has issued a 2 anna orange stamp to commemorate the ninth anniversary of its creation. Shown on the stamp is the crescent and star facing northwest. A bunch of roses appears in the top right corner.

Stamp Notes . . . Spain has issued a new 3 pesos blue stamp showing the ship "Ciudad de Toledo" . . . Western Germany has issued two new stamps for the convention of the Evangelic Church in Frankfurt while Eastern Germany has issued a souvenir sheet sold for double the face value (40 pfennigs) with the surtax scheduled for the relief of the victims of Buchenwald, Ravensbrück and Sachsenhausen concentration camps . . . Two stamps have been issued by Columbia depicting cattle. The stamps were issued in connection with the Second International Cattle Fair.

Ouachita School Buses Adhere To Strict Rules

By ETHEL HOLLIDAY

"School buses carry a priceless cargo," Superintendent W. W. Ward said this week.

Pupil transportation has progressed tremendously during the last few years, requiring in Ouachita parish the maximum use of all equipment, yearly re-routing of buses, zone changes to keep balanced loads in over-crowded schools, and constant planning to effect safe and adequate service," he continued.

"We place drivers first in our program as it has been proved that they are the strongest factor in a safe, efficient and economical service. All applicants are carefully screened. Each driver is required to have a special chauffeur's license and take a yearly physical examination. The driver is a teacher by precept and example."

In line with this thinking and with the necessary training for the drivers in mind, W. W. Ward, superintendent, Milton Hall, assistant superintendent, and Morris C. Griggs, supervisor of transportation, compiled a brochure of information that will be put into the hands of the bus drivers before school begins this fall, it was reported.

The drivers are required to study and know all state and local requirements and laws and to observe all safety rules concerning the operation of vehicles and transportation of pupils.

Under "Public Relations" in the pamphlet, two items are of special note: "The parents of the children riding the bus should have peace of mind and feel they, the children, are in safe hands" and "The knowledge that the driver has taken special training and tests for the job should be of further reassurance to the parents."

Louisiana regulations state that children should observe classroom conduct on the bus. To this regulation, Morris Griggs said, "We apply this section with common sense. We know that after pupils have been confined to the classroom all day it would be impossible to enforce this regulation to the letter."

While maintaining order to the extent that nothing will be allowed that would take the driver's mind off the job of handling the bus safely.

School bus patrols can be of great assistance to the driver, save time for all the pupils and can add greatly to the safety and welfare of the whole group. They are carefully selected from among the pupils and are given special instructions and training.

Concerning equipment, the committee stated: "We have been fortunate over the past ten years to have officials who have been interested in the safest and best equipment to transport pupils. While at times the lowest priced units were not bought, the wisdom of the Board of Public Instruction in buying the best has proven, by its use, that in any rolling equipment, the best is the cheapest to operate and gives much longer service. The average life of a school bus over the United States is 7 1/2 years. Ouachita parish has used its buses an average of 10 years."

Ouachita parish has practices preventive maintenance on school buses since the beginning of transportation. This practice assures a safe unit. It is one of the most important factors in operational economy.

Transportation personnel take part in planning the zoning, routing and making of schedules in order to keep an equal pupil load over the parish, to insure the best and safest routes and to transport the pupils with as little waste of time to pupils and drivers as possible.

The children have certain obligations in riding the buses: to occupy the seat assigned; to observe classroom conduct, except for ordinary conversation; to obey the driver cheerfully; to cooperate with school bus patrols and to be at designated place on time for pick up.

The parents of school children have very definite responsibilities and their cooperation is requested in seeing that their children arrive at the bus stop on time, approximately three to five minutes ahead of the bus arrival; to accept joint responsibility with school authorities for the proper conduct of their children and to make reasonable effort to understand and cooperate with those responsible for pupil transportation.

The brochure prepared by the committee for the bus drivers is a comprehensive study of their jobs approaching the drivers problems from many directions, technically as concerns the care and driving of the bus and as a moral responsibility, which concerns the care and safety of pupils.

Penniman said he was accused of being a narcotics addict and a deputy sheriff told him "not to come back any more" because he didn't want Negroes playing for dances here. "Actually, Penniman said, he doesn't drink or smoke."

President Urged To Call Session On Integration

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 25—UP—

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 24—UP—

President Eisenhower has been asked to call a conference of educators from all southern states to discuss the integration problem, it was learned here Friday.

Dr. George L. Cross, president of the University of Oklahoma, which has already ended segregation, confirmed that he had passed along the suggestion to the President.

However, he said the university was not a "prime mover" in the suggestion but concurred in the idea that southern educational leaders should be brought together by the White House.

He said the proposal came from a southern regional conference on human relations education held here in June. Cross said the President has not replied to the suggestion.

The Norman conference was sponsored by the university and the Anti-Defamation League of B'Nai B'Rith.

Cross said the 125 educators attending the regional conference agreed that conference of representative groups of southern leaders should be brought together at the request of the President.

He added they felt such a meeting would "help immeasurably in dealing with a situation so fraught with complexities and possible serious disruption of law and order."

More than 150 Oklahoma school districts and all of Oklahoma's colleges have ended segregation in compliance with the U.S. Supreme Court decision.

Burke Elected Vet Commander

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 25—UP—Joseph F. Burke, a 40-year-old oilman from Bayonne, N. J., was elected national commander of the Disabled American Veterans Friday.

His election came at the closing session of the DAV's 35th annual convention held in San Antonio. The convention began Monday.

The delegates voted to hold their 1957 convention in Buffalo, N. Y.

Executive committeemen for 14 districts throughout the United States were also elected.

Hard Of Hearing Helped By Patented Invention!

U. S. Patent No. 2,611,829 has made possible an eyeglass hearing aid that requires no wire, no tube, no receiver or earmold, no device that "plugs in" either ear. Developed by Acousticon, oldest and leading manufacturer of electrical hearing aids, the invention makes possible more comfortable inconspicuous correction for thousands who have hearing difficulties.

This exclusive invention is built right into the Spectacon eyeglass hearing aid. The eyeglass frames are made by a leading optical company and are available in any size. They make no sacrifice of optical standards.

You may see for yourself how this remarkable hearing development works—how it is as easy to put on or take off as any pair of glasses. Demonstration is free—see and hear for yourself, without obligation.

saga of an amphibious war seen through the eyes of one skipper from the deck of one shipper, smashed across the screen of the Jim Theatre starting today.

The skipper is Jeff Chandler, and the battle—scarred ship is the U. S. S. Belinda of the best-selling Kenneth M. Dodson novel, which comes to the screen with all the dynamic grandeur that VistaVision and Technicolor can give it.

In a long career of hard-hitting roles Chandler has never been better suited to a portrayal than that of Capt. Jebediah Hawks, the rugged veteran of a dozen ocean campaigns who builds a raw crew of officers and men into the toughest and most efficient amphibious team in the South Pacific.

There is not space enough to tell of the many pulsating performances in the giant cast, but outstanding among them is George Nader as boat group commander. In "Away All Boats", Nader takes another big step toward top stardom in his own roles.

A close second to Nader are three portrayals which will be long remembered as the Belinda fights its way from Pearl Harbor across danger-ridden South Pacific waters. These are Lex Barker as Chandler's executive officer, Richard Boone as a ship's lieutenant, and Keith Andes as a ship's surgeon.

The lone female of the cast is Julie Adams playing the role of George Nader's wife, Miss Adams, brings to the part all the poignancy of a sailor's wife, hoping through a long war that her man will return safely to her.

Probably the first spat between Kelly and Rainier will happen when she says to him, in effect, "Love me, love my dog."

Hollywood

Don Murray Finds Purpose In Life Among Needy Kids

HOLLYWOOD, August 25 — You'll soon be seeing Don Murray in his first screen role—that of Marilyn Monroe's leading man in "Bus Stop." He is now at work on his second movie—"The Bachelor Party," fashioned for the big screen by Paddy Chayevsky from his teleplay of the same name.

Before Hollywood there had been an impressive career on Broadway, although Murray is still only in his middle twenties. But there was a point in his life when he wasn't sure he wanted to continue in show business.

Over lunch during which he deftly consumed a dish of Chinese food with chopsticks ("It tastes better when eaten from them"), Murray told me about it.

"I had never for a moment doubted that I belonged in show business," he said. "My father and mother were—and still are—active in the theater. It was during my hitch in the service, overseas that I thought for a while, 'I'd give it up. I was assigned to a special division doing social service work. We were sent to Kassel, a town in Germany. Our job was to build up the youngsters we found there—free them from feelings of fear and hopelessness. We undertook to accomplish part of it by putting on plays. The kids ranged in ages from twelve to twenty."

"They were eager to find a better answer to life than life had dished out to them up to that time. They were eager to understand what we were trying to teach them. Naturally we sponsored their sports, because German youth had been conditioned to sporting events. In this respect they were just like a bunch of American kids—with this difference: they had to be taught that being a perfectly formed specimen didn't necessarily mean they were superior human beings."

"I got to thinking about that. And I wrote a little play, I called it 'Something More' to show them there was something more to group activity, to sports—to everything, in fact—than winning, purely for the sake of winning."

"I expected to have trouble getting the idea across—but I was delighted to find that the kids loved it. They got the message! It was my first real experience working with a social purpose in mind. I felt it was the most important job a man could do."

Murray paused, balanced a mouthful of rice on his chopsticks—and was lost for a moment, in his recollections.

"I still think it is," he said softly—"but let's not get ahead of the story."

"After Germany, I found myself in a Displaced Persons camp outside of Naples. It was appalling. Entire families lived in rooms we'd consider about right for a smallish den. And what was more awful—they had been living that way for years! These were the people who had been shoved around, from pillar to post, from one place to another and finally settled in a DP camp with the promise of being immigrated somewhere soon. But there they stayed—and there hundreds of them still stay, for one reason or another. Not political reasons, usually, not criminal reasons. 'If one of them was examined by the doctor, who found an eye completely healed (tubercular lesion on the lung, the poor homeless one was practically sentenced to life imprisonment. There were so many of them they sat, eyes vacant, outlook shattered, their pitifully meager belongings bundled together—and waited. For what, they scarcely knew anymore."

"Although they were not prisoners, they lived like prisoners. The camp was surrounded by barbed wire. They had to seek permission to get outside. The red tape was discouraging—so they just sat."

"It wasn't easy working with these people, but whatever gains we made were more gratifying than anything I had ever known before. When my time in the service ended, I couldn't bring myself to walk out on them."

"I remained, as a volunteer worker for another six months."

"And that was when you thought you'd give up being an actor?" I asked.

"Yes," Murray replied. "I thought I had found my life's work. It was hard, it was financially unrewarding—but it was simply great. I remember a Christmas party we arranged. A lot of those people had never been outside the camp. All of the most beautiful places in Italy lay right around it, and they had never ventured forth."

"We took about thirty of them in a chartered bus, to Capri. They saw the beauty and the wonder of the place with the eyes of newly-born children. They felt again as if they were bona fide members of the human race, taking a holiday to one of the world's most fashionable and famous watering places just like anybody else. There were no barbed wire fences to go through, no red tape to circumvent. They became animated, talkative—they were outgoing, for the first time in many gloomy, cheerless years! We did other things too—like organizing a group of rough-neck kids from the streets of Naples, into groups, teaching them they were important individuals—teaching them to be clean and honest."

"But at the end of six months, I found myself in a kind of DP camp too. The important thing was to free these people, resettle them, give them a real reason for being. The Immigration Laws made it impossible to do the kind of job I wanted to do. I had done all I could."

It was then that Don Murray took stock of himself and his career. He returned to the States and found a ready niche waiting for him in the theater—and then in Hollywood. He and his sweetheart, Hope Lange were married only a few months ago. They expect their first child in February. Don will continue his acting career. But with it he will build up another.

"I love to teach—especially kids," he said. "I want to be able to do that—to try and help kids, as long as I live." (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

TV Notes

NEW YORK (UP)—NBC's "Ding Dong School" is working on its second thousand now. Dr. Francis X. McNichols celebrated the 1,000th broadcast of her program for children on Aug. 3.

NBC has added 10 more singers to the roster of the NBC Opera Company for its tour starting Oct. 11 in South Bend, Ind.

Mary Martin has a new three-year contract with NBC for two TV shows a season. Her first will be in a revised version of the stage hit, "Born Yesterday," to be seen Oct. 28 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

"Unlimited cash awards," a new quiz show that will bow on NBC Sept. 12 with Jack Barry as emcee. Two contestants will compete for 21 points in an assigned category of questions. The winner can continue against other challengers until he loses.

Best news of the summer is the announcement that entertainer Kay Thompson's funny little book "Eloise," will be turned into a 90-minute TV script for the CBS "Playhouse 90" this season. This tale of a precocious six-year-old girl who lives in New York's Plaza Hotel is utterly delightful.

Annual Picnic Held By Vidalia HDC

VIDALIA, Aug. 26 (Special)—The Friendship Home Demonstration club held its annual picnic on Friday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Moore, Jr.

The affair was held on the lawn of the Moore home which had flood lights and a long table overlaid with a red and white damask cloth, centered with a homemade woven red basket of cut garden flowers.

Attending were the following club members and their families: Mrs. Ivy Gulice, and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. Deane and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McDonald, and daughter, Loreta, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Corbin and Michael, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lowe, and Linda, Mrs. Moore and two children, and two guests, Mrs. Robert Moore, Sr., of Natchez and Miss Bess Bain, home demonstration agent of Vidalia.

YUL BRYNNER dictates a message to Deborah Kerr in which he offers to "Mr. Linglong" of America two elephants to help him win his war to set slaves free, then orders her to conduct herself more like his subjects do. Scene is from Twentieth Century-Fox's exquisite Cinemascope 55 screen version of Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical play, "The King and I," currently at the Paramount Theatre.

Yul Brynner, D. Kerr Star In 'King And I'

"The King and I," Twentieth Century-Fox's second production in the new Cinemascope 55 medium and deluxe color, with Deborah Kerr and Yul Brynner in the title roles, will have its local premiere today at the Paramount theatre. The event will be a gala one for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical classic, which was so successful on the stage and raised as the most beautiful musical ever produced. It is the first Cinemascope picture with a Siamese background and the elaborate Oriental settings and rich costumes made it the costliest musical ever produced by Twentieth Century-Fox.

Darryl F. Zanuck, who astutely purchased the rights to the distinguished stage production; Charles Brackett, who produced it; Walter Lang, who directed; and Ernest Lehman, who wrote the screenplay, saw to it that every element of the stage hit was enhanced to make the opulent film version. The decor for the picture, consisting of 40 colorful settings, including the throne room with its walls, paneled in gold leaf and the reception hall of the king's palace studded with 100,000 sparkling crystals, offers a sumptuous background for the enchanting music and lyrics from the magic pens of Broadway's fabulous hit makers, Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, II. There are fourteen of their musical numbers in the screen version including "I Whistle a Happy Tune," "Getting to Know You," "The March of the Harem Children," "Hello Young Lovers," "Shall We Dance?" and "We Kiss in a Shadow." The Siamese-style ballet, "The Small House of Uncle Thomas," with choreography by Jerome Robbins, is one of the highlights of this elaborate screen production. Famed Oriental dancers, Yuriko and Michiko are featured in this weird dance based on "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The story of the brazen King of Siam and the prim Victorian school teacher, who travels all the way from London to Bangkok to bring Western culture to the King and his 87 wives and children, was taken from Margaret Landon's book, "Anna and the King of Siam."

Siam from 1851 to 1900 and was really the counterpart of the King in the story, he won every award—a Broadway hit and Academy Award, the Donaldson Award, the Annie Award, the Perry Award and the Critics Circle Award.

Mrs. Kerr, who also holds a Donaldson Award for her role in the Broadway play, "Tea and Sympathy," considers her role as "Mrs. Anna Leonowens," the best she has ever had on stage or screen. She explained her reaction in these words: "To every actress of fortunate nature comes one role which she feels she can never again hope to equal. To have played a part as excellent as 'Anna' is a great honor. I feel I have been given a role which I will never forget."

The beauty and charm of "The King and I" was captured in the Cinemascope 55 screen by Cinematographer Leon Shamroy, who excelled himself and the musical score was conducted by Alfred Newman with great fidelity. Irene Sharaf, who also costumed the original stage production, designed the extravagantly beautiful costumes worn in the picture and art directors, Lyle Wheeler and John DeCuir were responsible for the elaborate sets.

"The King and I" was two years in the making at Twentieth Century-Fox and represents the finest production, musically and dramatically, ever filmed by the company.

Cleveland Ryan Sr Dies In Texas; Former Monroyan

Funeral services for Commodore Cleveland Ryan, Sr., of 1311 Runnells, Big Spring, Texas, were held in that city Thursday, at 4 p.m. He was a Veteran of World War One and at one time a resident of Monroe, where he served and finished an apprenticeship in the old V. S. & P. Machine Shops.

He served with the Occupation Forces in Germany two years at the close of World War One. During the war he was gassed and returned home in bad health. Due to this he was unable to live in this climate and went west locating in Big Spring, Texas, where he became an official in the Texas and Pacific Shops, in that city.

Bernie Driscoll Organizes Band At Vidalia School

VIDALIA, Aug. 25 (Special) — Bernie Driscoll, band instructor for the newly organized band at Vidalia High school, has arrived here and has started practice for the new band at the local school.

Students in grades fourth through the tenth may begin classes prior to school opening, September 4. Driscoll is highly recommended in his field, having come to Vidalia after being the "B2" band instructor at the Atchafalaya, Miss., high school last year.

Vidalia students interested may contact him at the high school. This marks the first year in the school's history that Vidalia High has been represented by a school band.

Concordia Woman Wins Dress Revue At Baton Rouge

VIDALIA, Aug. 25 (Special) — Mrs. S. D. McJunkins, representing Concordia parish in the casual dress revue held in Baton Rouge during Farm and Home Week last week was declared winner from the 13 parish districts.

She modeled a black pima cotton, tailored with a white linen collar edged in white Irish crochet. Others attending the affair from Concordia parish were Mrs. Pearl Brooks, Clayton; Mrs. Earl Webb, Clayton; Mrs. W. J. Wilson, Turle Lake; Mrs. Claude Hammett, and daughter, Dorothy, from near Ferriday and Miss Bess Bain, home demonstration club agent.

Winnsboro High Band To Convene At Caney Lake

WINNSBORO, Aug. 25 (Special) — The 56-member Winnsboro High school band will go to Caney Lake camp, near Minden, for a week of recreation and rehearsal.

According to Herbert E. Gathright, director, the group will leave Winnsboro by bus at 6:30 a.m. Monday, August 27, and return Saturday, September 1.

Instructors who will assist director Gathright at the camp include Hollis Fulton and Everett Chadrick, Louisiana Tech; Jim Wells, N. L. S.C.; and Charles Murphy, Delta State.

Chaperones for the week's camp will be Mrs. Jack Givens, Mrs. Lee Weems, Mrs. Tom Hatfield and Mrs. F. P. Sims.

The schedule will include band rehearsals in playing and marching, individual practice, rest periods, swimming, and individual and planned recreation.

The first public appearance of the Winnsboro High school band this season will be at the Winnsboro-LaSalle football game here Friday night, September 7.

Ferriday Women Hold Joint Meeting

FERRIDAY, Aug. 25 (Special) — The joint meeting of the W. S. C. S. of the Sevier Memorial Methodist church was held Thursday night in the church annex for a business and program meeting. Mrs. A. D. Strozler presided in the absence of Mrs. O. W. Welch, president. Mrs. Blanche Griffin presented an interesting program on "Measuring Our Growth."

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. S. Morris and Mrs. Ellis Cook.

Louisiana Tax Receipts Total $115 Per Person

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (Special) — State tax collections in Louisiana for the fiscal year ended June 30th totaled $337,111,000, or an average of $115.22 for each person in the state.

This total was an increase of 11.1 per cent over fiscal 1955.

A census bureau report on state collections show that the 48 states and the District of Columbia collected more in revenue for the fiscal year than ever before in history. Total state collections were

In Louisiana total collections were broken down and listed as follows: sales and gross receipts, $197,823,000; licenses, $27,874,000; individual income, including corporation net income, $24,256,000; corporation property, $11,094,000; death and gift, $2,705,000, and severance, $73,484,000.

General sales or gross receipts tax collected in the state totaled $73,376,000. Selective sales taxes included: motor fuels, $53,239,000; alcoholic beverages, $17,804,000; tobacco products, $20,740,000; insurance, $6,964,000; and public utilities, $20,111,000; parimutuels, $2,012,000; amusements, $69,000; tax on lubricating oils, $1,886,000; and tax on soft drinks, $1,203,000.

In the license tax category Louisiana showed the following collections: motor vehicles, $10,623,000; motor vehicle operators, $795,000; corporations in general, $8,189,000; alcoholic beverages, $1,124,000; amusements, $11,000; hunting and fishing, $863,000; chain stores, $197,000; and occupations and businesses, $6,072,000.

Averaged out, the 1955-56 state collections amounted to $81.60 for each of the nation's estimated 163,427,000 population as of June 30th. The previous fiscal year's average per capita for state tax was $72.25.

The big eastern railroads are asking for permission to raise passenger fares 4 per cent. It is assumed they are fed up with hauling people around.

NORTHEAST LOUISIANA STATE COLLEGE INDIANS

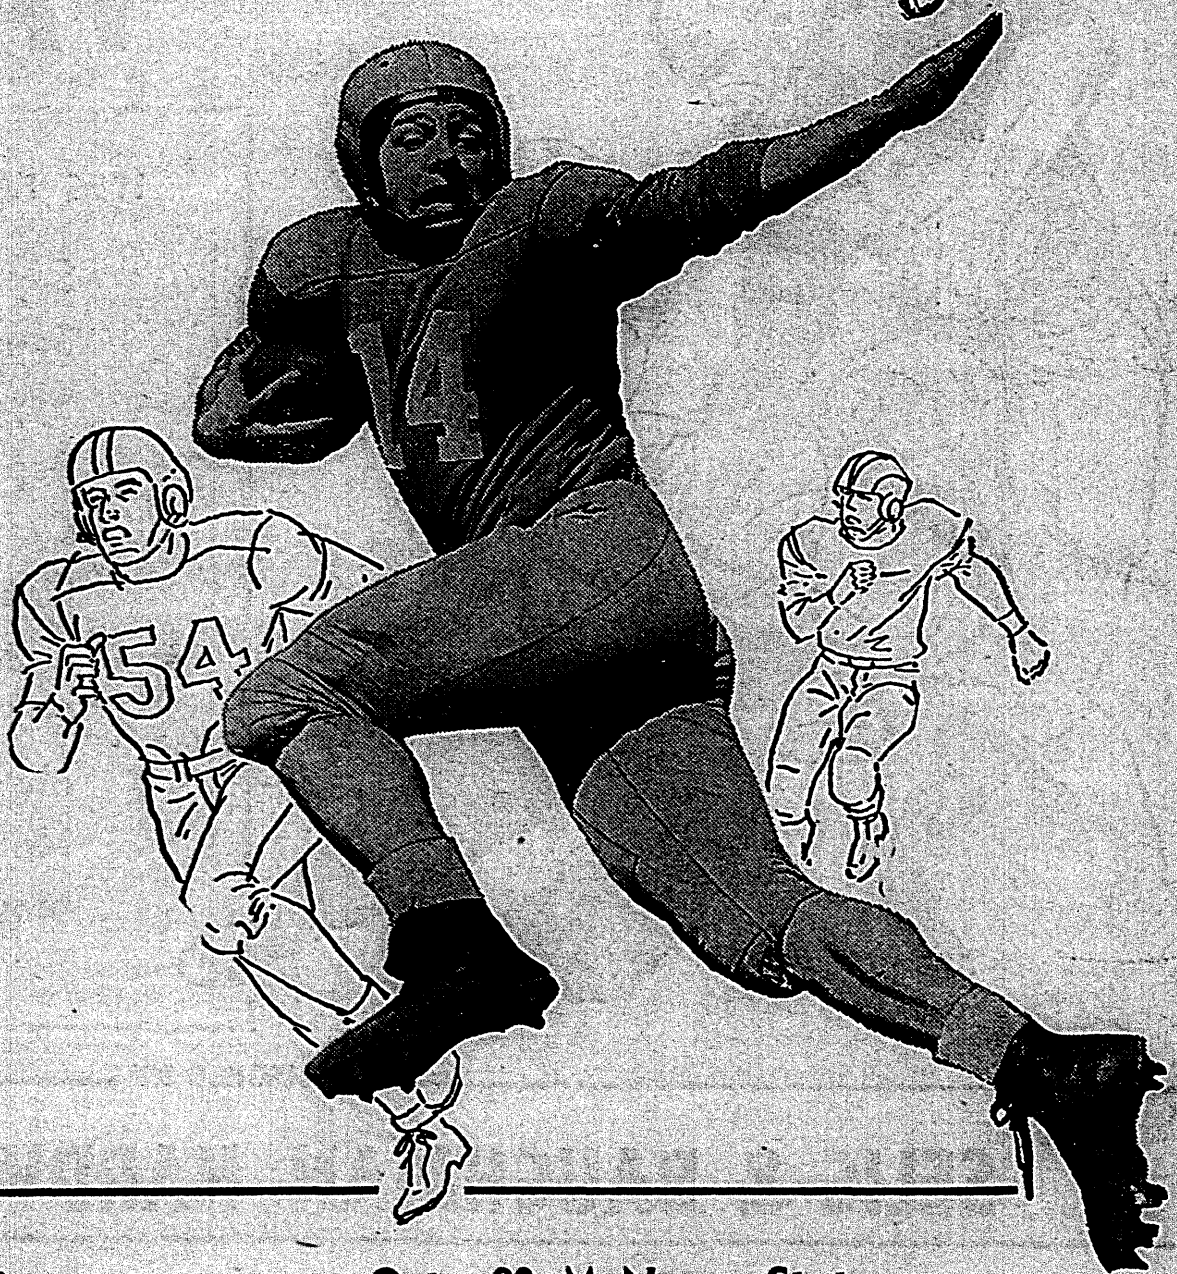

● FOOTBALL FUNNIES ●

One of those old-time football coaches now teaching Sunday school never muffed a chance to ring in some resounding grid smiles, leading some members of the congregation to feel that he was dispensing football lore instead of religion.

One day two parishioners were listening to him hold forth. "Where is he?" asked one, consulting the text for the day.

"I think," observed the other judiciously, "he's got the Devil on the 20-yard line."

Two highly rated teams were battling it out on the gridiron one Saturday, only to end up with an odd score of 4-0. The winning coach explained to the sports writers, "Well we had 'em licked with that first safety, but we wanted to run up the score!"

THREE STARTERS BACK—Neville High School will have only three "starters" from the 1955 team that won the state Class AA championship when the Tigers open the season against West Monroe here September 7. The trio is Bobby Johnson (39), tackle; Elton Upshaw (33), quarterback; and Terry Reeves (22) halfback. Upshaw was an all-state selection last year along with now departed graduates Pat Anderson and Tom Causey.

Today's Sportrait

(Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.)

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UP) — After an estimated 22,000 miles on horseback, wizened Johnny Longden within a few days will reach his greatest goal in 30 years of race riding.

It's been a long, long road for the shrill-voiced little man. But now, at 45, only 18 more winners separate him from the all-time victory mark of 4,870 posted by Sir Gordon Richards before the Englishman retired in 1954.

Johnny, who already has posted 206 victories this year for a total of 4,852, is a dead cinch.

All of which is a payoff on perseverance for the tiny English-born jockey who at 15 began riding Roman races at the fairs of western Canada to escape the gritty monotony of working in the mines. For Johnny's start was anything but sensational and several times he was advised to hang up his borrowed tack.

Two lonesome and oft-hungry years passed before the youngster, whose family migrated to Canada when he was two years old, was able to score with his first winner. In his first four years he managed a total of only 110 winners. Not very promising for a man who eventually was the nation's pile-up at Arlington Downs.

leading winner three times. But Johnny ever has been a man of determination. Like the day in 1944 when a colt smashed his foot against the rail, Johnny had the foot set and deadened with novocaine — and the next day rode First Fiddle to victory in the Butler Handicap.

Even then this was his favorite saying:

"You've got to keep trying."

The payoff has been sensational. Longden's mounts have won more than $15,000,000 and made of the little man a cautious millionaire. Cagily, he keeps his bank account a personal matter with the observation:

"Just say I'm going to eat all right for the rest of my life."

That stands as one of the understatement of the year but determined Johnny, also recognized as a shrewd businessman, never forgets how hard it came.

His start was anything but easy and, at times, must have seemed tougher than if he had remained in the mines. It was rugged in a physical way, too.

He was riding beside Earl Dew at Caliente in 1941 when Dew's horse fell and killed the rider. Early in his career, Johnny fell three times in one afternoon at Winnipeg. His left leg was broken in a spill at Aurora and his right leg was fractured in a fall at Vancouver.

New young jockeys rise and fall almost annually but the wrinkled Longden seems to go on forever.

"Why not?" he asks jocularly in that thin, piping voice. "I like to ride and as long as I feel fit and can make the weight easily, why shouldn't I?"

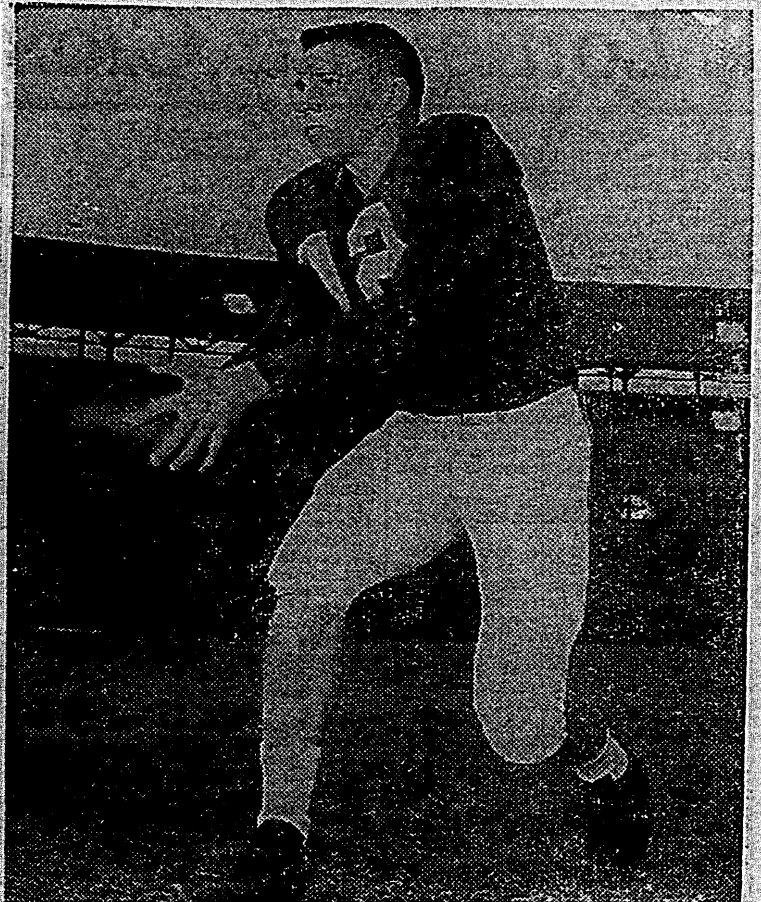

Certainly, pressing 46, he is a phenomenon of the sports world. Sooner or later he will call it quits. But it is certain today that before he does step down he'll be the winningest race rider of all time. Right now it's a mere matter of days.

The schedule of Solunar periods printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times if you wish to find the best spot that each day has to offer.

Holly Ridge Concludes Three Weeks Of Drills

HOLLY RIDGE, La., Aug 25 — (Special)—Holly Ridge High School finishes the third week of practice working hard to fill the gaps left by graduation, failure, and moving. The Holly Ridge team was hit hard by graduation, losing all lettermen in the line but two, and an all-district quarterback and high scoring back.

Missing by graduation from the line will be Thomas Thompson, Glenn Moton, Charles Caston, Nolan Finklea, Edrie Futch, and Dennis Carroll, from the backfield are Alan Best, and Laurence Smith. The Eagles hoped to fill these places in spring training but two boys have since departed by failure, and moving. Several changes had to be made to secure a balanced attack, therefore most players will see service for the first time this season in a new position.

The Eagles open the season next Friday night in the West Monroe Lions Jamboree playing Ouachita. The following weeks find the Eagles playing Rayville (A), Farmerville (A), Start (B), Delhi (B), Wisner (B), Crowville (A), Columbia (B), Ook Grove (A), Mangham (B), and Southside High (B).

Coaches Chiles Carpenter and Kennedy have had from twenty-four to twenty-nine boys to pick this season's team from with the majority being ninth graders eager to earn a place on the varsity.

Boys finishing the third week of practice are co-captains Doyle Hough, and LeRoy Knight, linemen Bobby Thrower, Jimmy Hendrix, Winston Hammons, Willy Thompson, Floyd Smith, Billy Self, Wayne Reddick, Charles Lester, James Sistrunk, J. W. Roundtree, Bobby Smith, Cecil Vaughn, Billy Taunton, Delton Grantham, Jeff Gollieher, John D. Walker, Robert Tyre, Billy Wayne Futch, and Rayford Ogles, and backs Kenneth Futca, Walter Lester, Richard McDonald, Jerry Spurlock, Robert Barnes, Wayne Lester, Don McDonald, and John Morris.

Neville Toiling At Mooringsport

Ruple Has Tiger Talent Preparing To Defend Title

Neville High School's Tigers, 1955 state AA football champions, will begin this year's campaign with a somewhat green team, but there is high hope around the Bengal camp that a comparable performance might be repeated this season.

At present the Monroians are engaged in an intensive two-week training session at Kiwanis Camp near Mooringsport which began August 19 and will be climaxed by Neville's participation in the Bossier Football Jamboree next Friday.

For this pre-season "abbreviated" contest the Tiger football squad elected a queen, Joan Dupuy, a Neville senior, and the other participants in this grid festival also have the privilege of selecting a "sweetheart" of their own.

Neville lost its entire line of last season with the exception of senior Bobby Johnson, and also half of the backfield is missing via the graduation route. All-stater Elton Upshaw and Terry Reeves are back at quarterback and right half-back, respectively. All three of these boys are two-year lettermen and will be heavily relied upon this year.

Monroe's Tigers will have to take full advantage of the two-week workout at the Mooringsport camp, for after this period ends only about a week will remain before the first regularly scheduled game, West Monroe at Brown Field on September 7 at 8 p. m. The last several days before the season opener will be devoted primarily to polishing up work and the smoothing out of minor kinks, Ruple has said.

The usual daily schedule for camp for the past week has been practice from 8 a. m. to 11 and again from 3:30 p. m. until supper time. From all indications the encampment has proved quite successful, thus far, with the boys' training well and plans moving along as originally scheduled.

In past Neville football camps have been held at Biloxi, Miss.; Hot Springs, Ark.; and for the last several years at Pollock (Camp Windywood.) Much benefit has been derived from these training camps and all of the time and effort that have been spent in attending them has proved to be a very wise investment.

Neville football players held their first meeting of the season in the Tiger Stadium a few days before departing for camp. On that same day individual pictures were taken of each player for use in the school's newspaper "Neville Sizzler," and yearbook, the football programs and for general publicity purposes.

Those grid hopefuls now attending camp are John Jordon, Joel Kirby, Dan Keith, Jerry Kirby, Clifford LaFrance, Bob McGough, Raymond Nelson, Steve Nichols, Ross Nolan, Sonny Odom, Travis Oliver, Robert Panzico, George Patterson, Terry Reeves, William Ragan, Jim Sparks, Marvin Smart, Charles Storey, Mickey Yerger, Robert Ziegler, Elton Upshaw, James Horton, James Wroton, Quentus Webb, Billy Allen, Jim Altick, Fred Brinson, Billy Burnett, Fred Campbell, Bill DePriest, Tommy Edwards, Bobby Gill, Conroy Hines, Donald Hale, Hugh Hyman, Gene Howard and Bobby Johnson.

Managers of the squad include Mark Womack and James McGough. Head Coach Bill Ruple has his same assistants from last season back, Jim Coats, Charles Brown and Gus Petterson.

Following the Tigers this year, as in the past, will be the talented Tigerette pep squad and the Bengal Band. The latter has adopted an entirely different system of marching which radically deviates from conventional military style. The new steps is a replica of that made famous by the University of Michigan and so highly acclaimed throughout the nation. The Tigerettes have been busily engaged in planning new formations to be presented with the band at half-time shows throughout the grid season. Always contributing a great deal to the thrill and pep of a game are the cheerleaders, and this year's girls' sextet should prove to be one of the most outstanding groups Neville has ever produced. The 1956 "cheerers," as has been the case for the past three years, won first place honors in cheerleading competition at the Sam Houston State Teachers College "pesters" camp held recently on the school's campus at Huntsville, Tex. Neville was the only high school from Louisiana represented at the well known camp.

HONOR FOR RONNY

Ronny Quillian, Tulane's great fullback, is a member of the 1956 pre-season All-South team selected by Stanley Woodward for the Dell Football Yearbook.

Grambling Picked For Strong Race In Title Campaign

GRAMBLING, Aug. 25 (Special) —The football season is almost a month away but crystal gazers and technical analysts have already earmarked Grambling College for sectional and national honors.

Coach Eddie Robinson and his defending National Negro Collegiate champs have been established as a separate and superior operation by at least a dozen sports writers.

This diehard minority persists that the Tigers have a shrewd coaching staff, the most dependable all-around playing personnel in small-college football, and sufficient temperament and technical skill to qualify as champions for at least another year.

Grambling routed 10 straight foes last fall and only Robinson and a few more extreme pessimists expect a general collapse this fall. Twenty-seven lettermen and a dozen freshmen and junior college transfers will help the team live up to its press clippings.

All-American Edward Murray, a 160-pound back of explosive power and great range, is the top spear-bearer.

Murray gained 1,151 yards on 149 plays last season to rank sixth among the nation's total offense leaders.

He helped Grambling top-off its undefeated season with 3,381 yards on 496 plays for a 375.7 average for nine regular season games.

The current Tiger backfield of Murray, Leon Gafford, Sterling Dyer and Fred Kirkpatrick is a solid unit, but studied observers say the line has been italicized for rave notice.

It is tough, agile and hungry for fame.

Most cheerful notes are Captain Joe Dixon, 226-pound tackle; Rennie Mushatt, 220-pound guard; Alvin Richardson, 240-pound tackle; Leon Larce, 205-pound center; and James Culmer and Theo Roach, a pair of belligerent 200 pound ends.

Even Robinson admits that they have a flair for personal combat.

Roach and Dixon made the All-Midwest Conference squad last fall and may go all the way to All-

SIX CAVITIES

Off its first two teams of 1955, Tulane has lost only three men each. Missing regulars when pre-season drills start Sept. 1 will be guards Terry Sardisco and Bryan Burnthorne and right halfback Otis Gilmore.

LONG AND SHORT

There is more than a foot's difference in the height of the tallest and shortest Tulane varsity football player. End David Painter stands 6'7" and Guard Wilbur Troxclair stands 5'6½". Painter is a promising sophomore. Troxclair a senior and a probable starter.

SIX DELEGATES

The city of Lake Charles, La., is represented by six delegates on the Tulane football varsity—ends Charles Mackey, Dave Painter and Art Jones; tackle Charles Hansen and half-backs Claude (Boo) Mason and Kink Fleming.

Americnn honors before December. "We'll need all the luck we can get," the coach said, weighing his pronouncements carefully.

Rebuilding At Newellton

OUTDOORS

By DION HENDERSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

Ever wonder why there are more fish in one part of a stream or lake than there are in another?

Every fisherman does, although brooding about it might be a better word than wondering. Some even think they know the answer.

More food in those favored places, they say.

Right.

More air, they say.

Right again.

More comfortable, they say.

Still right.

But if any one of these was a complete answer, there wouldn't be any anglers brooding about it. They would all be sitting out there without casting distance of the places where the fish are hanging out.

Actually, as is the case in most wildlife matters, there is no simple answer. Instead, the answer is a complicated equation of balanced factors, full of ifs and buts, and a change in one of them may change all of them.

And result in all the fish being in that hole, instead of this one.

Nevertheless, there are valuable signs to be learned from the aquatic biologists about how the factors relate to one another and what they mean to the fellow with a fish pole.

The so-called cold water fish are the ones to take for lessons. One reason is that they're much more sensitive to varying conditions than, for instance, a simple clod of catfish. Another reason is that we know a good deal more about the cold water fish like grayling and the various native and exotic trout. The grayling, however, has followed this specialization business right out the window and nearly out of the fishing picture as well.

Originally there were two native grayling — the Michigan and the Montana varieties — but their requirements for water of a certain cool temperature and a certain bubbly plenitude of oxygen were very strict, and now there is one, the Montana grayling.

This stern native still can be found, and is worth the considerable trouble, in some of Montana's purest and coldest streams. A few even have been transplanted back to restored and managed waters in Michigan.

But to learn about what fish want, the trout are better teachers, and hatchery trout the best.

In raising hatchery trout, fish managers have learned that water has to have four parts per million of oxygen as a bare minimum. Other fish can get along with somewhat less, but you'll see them ganging up at rapids, water falls or spring holes anyway because the richer water is an attraction.

Also, the bigger the fish the more oxygen he needs, relatively, and the fewer friends he's willing to share it with. Water temperature also has an important bearing. New Hampshire workers, raising little trout under ideal hatchery conditions, then trying to get them to live when released into streams with less than ideal conditions, have found just how important those three things are in relation to overall survival.

A study from the University of Toronto says that trout are no longer found in natural streams where the water temperature goes over 68 degrees for an extended period of time. However, with aeration that boosts the oxygen content of water, the fish will stand water several degrees warmer. They may even survive crises which brings the water up to 75 degrees for short periods.

However, the Toronto scientists conclude that it may be inferred that the commonly observed distribution of trout in nature is brought about by a process of temperature selection which is known to involve the fish's central nervous system.

In other words, look for your fish where there's plenty of air, plenty of food and plenty of nice cool water. And if you still don't catch any, you already have figured out the answer.

They like it where they are.

Nine of Southeastern Louisiana College's 19 football newcomers received the most valuable player award while in high school. Ten others received various awards such as outstanding lineman, outstanding back, or best blocker.

NEWELLTON, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — With only a week to go before their first public appearance in the Tallulah Football Jamboree next Friday night, the Newellton High School Bears are hard at work grooming for their 1956 football campaign that includes an official ten-game schedule in addition to the jamboree appearance.

Coach Johnny Johnson has only two regulars back from last year's Bruin machine, but some fine looking replacements are coming up and Newellton looks for another good team despite the "rebuilding year" that has Coach Johnson filling gaps left by eleven graduated lettermen.

Fullback Sam Duchesne returns to the backfield, but his mates will all be new starters, and Right Guard John Wood is the only returning regular to the forward wall.

Twenty-four young athletes, including Duchesne and Wood, will carry the hopes of Newellton's football followers against such Class B conference opponents as Crowley, Vidalia, Wisner, Davidson of

If ability is measured by the number of sports an athlete participates in, Southeastern Louisiana College's 1956 football team should be a good one. Of the 19 newcomers to the Lion squad, 14 have earned letters in three sports.

St. Joseph, Sicily Island, and Waterproof in one of the state's toughest Class B districts. And the schedule also includes non-conference opponents Cleveland, Miss., Culin Academy of Vicksburg, Columbia, and Tallulah.

Coach Johnson's starting lineup will be selected from the following:

Ends — Neal Emfinger, Sonny Vines, and Billy Bozeman.

Tackles — Ralph Cooper, James Herring, Jim Wilkerson, Bobby Colvin, and Joe McClain.

Guards — John Wood, Russel Hedrick, Richard Cullum, Hermie Arnold, John Prather, Gerald Arnold, and David Godfrey.

Centers — Buddy Netterville and Buddy Tatum.

Quarterback — E. J. Harper.

Halfbacks — Leonard Hedrick, Martin Finley, Milford McVay, and Jerry Studervin.

Fullbacks — Sam Duchesne and Charlie Black.

The schedule:

Aug. 31 — Tallulah jamboree.

Sept. 7 — Cleveland, Miss., there.

Sept. 14 — Culin Academy, here.

Sept. 21 — Crowley, here.

Sept. 28 — Columbia, there.

Oct. 5 — Tallulah, here.

Oct. 12 — Vidalia, there.

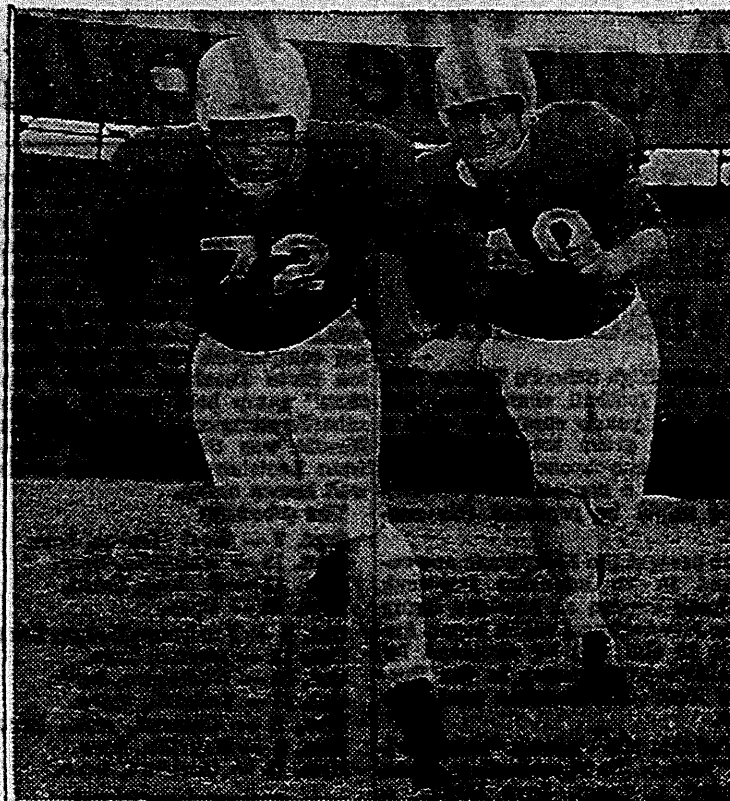

Oct. 19 — Wisner, here.

Oct. 26 — Open.

Nov. 2 — Davidson, here.

Nov. 9 — Sicily Island, there.

Nov. 16 — Waterproof, there.

ALL-AMERICA CANDIDATES — Tulane followers are early beating the drums for their All-America prospects, tackle Dalton Truax (72) and fullback Ronnie Quillian (40).

Vito (Babe) Parilli, quarterback for the Cleveland Browns, tossed 50 touchdown passes in three seasons of college ball at Kentucky. Gus Suhr, Jr., son of the former Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman, belongs to the Yankees and is in their farm system.

Tulane Launches Public Sale Of Football Ducats

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25 (Special) — The public sale of 1956 Tulane football season tickets began this week in an atmosphere of increasing optimism for Green Wave prospects.

In addition, Athletic Director Dick Baumbach announced institution of a "Family Plan" at reduced admission prices for the six home games this fall.

Season ticket buyers will get the most choice seats for the Tulane Stadium showings Sept. 22 against Virginia Tech, Sept. 29 against Texas, Oct. 13 against Navy, Nov. 3 against Mississippi State, Nov. 10 (Homecoming day) against Alabama and Dec. 1 against L. S. U. All kickoff times are 2 p.m. (C. S. T.).

The season books are priced at $30, box seats; $24, west side; $20, east side; and $13.50, south end.

Indications are that the next few weeks will be unusually busy ones at the Stadium Ticket Office, 6401 Willow Street, and at Werlein's Box Office, 605 Canal Street.

The "Family Plan" is something new for Tulane. Tickets will go on sale the Monday preceding each home game for unreserved seats in the North end of the famed bowl. The entire North end, which includes more than 25,000 seats, has been blocked off for "Family Plan" fans.

For the first five home games these tickets will set at $2.00 for adults and 50 cents for children of high school age and under. Thus a family of four can see any of these games for only $5.00, as compared with a total expense of $16.00 for sideline seats at $4.00 each.

Prices for the L. S. U. game on the "Family Plan" are $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

"We are very happy to begin the 'Family Plan' this season," said Athletic Director Baumbach. "and we feel sure the fans will like it. Tickets to the Tulane games are within range of almost any family's budget. We hope to give everybody quite a show on our six home Saturdays this season."

Split-T General Holds Key To Tulane Success

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 25 (Special) — One of the reasons Tulane's 1956 football team will command full respect from its foes is the depth of the Wave at the split T quarterback spot.

In junior Gene (The Mouse) Newton and seniors Johnny Caruso and Fred Wilcox, Andy Pilney has three quarterbacks of proven ability. But until one or more of them shows he can produce a consistent passing threat, the Greenies' head coach isn't going overboard in his optimism.

Newton, the snub-nosed, 160-pound blond from Shreveport, is on past performances the likely starter Sept. 22 against Virginia Tech. He took over the regular role in the second game of his first varsity season in '55, and before he was done had led the team to 18 of its 24 touchdowns for the campaign.

An expert dealer of the football, Newton is considered the best runner of the split T option play Tulane has had. He led all S. E. C. quarterbacks with 276 net yards rushing last fall, one of his three touchdown scampers going 49 yards against Georgia for the Greenies' longest scrimmage run of the season.

"The Mouse" will continue to concentrate on improving his passing when preseason practice starts Sept. 1. His spot tosses netted four touchdowns last year, but they were all Tulane made through the air. Not built for long throwing, he will try to compensate with quick feints, speed and short-range accuracy.

Caruso, 162-pound New Orleans boy, showed in the past spring drills that he is determined to win his starter's job back from Newton. He held that rank for most of 1954, when he was the nation's ninth-ranking punter with a 40.3 average. Last year he also saw distinguished service, his 34-yard kick which went out of bounds on the Auburn goal line being a particularly memorable moment. A good runner, although not as elusive as Newton, he also is best passing at shorter distances.

Wilcox, at 6'2" and 185, is the biggest of the veteran candidates. He started about half of the '54 games, but broke his jaw in last year's fourth game against Old Miss. A strong defensive player and a hard runner, he set a Tulane record for pass interception returns when he hauled back an Ole Miss aerial 91 yards to a TD two seasons back. The jut-jawed Harahan boy is labeled for plenty of action this fall.

A fourth letterman quarterback candidate is 180-pound junior Ronnie Riley of Baton Rouge. He worked under the center as an Istrouma High School star, but earned his "T" as an end last year. Now he's back on the throwing end, having been reconverted last spring. His talents include long-distance punting. While he may not progress rapidly enough to contend for a starting job, he could receive important relief duty.

Rounding out the quarterback corps are junior Tony Casshie of Dillonville, O., and sophomores King Fleming of Lake Charles and Jim Franz of Crystal Lake, Ill. Fleming, who moves quite well, may be given a try at halfback.

Passing remains the Greenies' big offensive problem, and it appears that Newton, Caruso and Wilcox are the men who must solve it. Last year Newton hit on 21 of 49 passes for 313 yards and five TDs. Caruso connected on seven of 25 for 113 yards.

Istrouma Setting Sights On Defense Of Triple-A Title

BATON ROUGE, Aug. 25 —UP— Istrouma High School's Indians have been shorn of most of 1955's state championships stars, but they are working hard to defend their triple A football crown.

Yesterday, as the Indians finished their second full week of practice and left the field to soothe their agonies over the week end they counted the box score of talent.

They have 12 returning lettermen. They lost 17 stalwarts, including every first string offensive lineman and three fourths of their starting backfield.

Fullback Billy Cannon, who made football history in Louisiana, will be rooting for the Indians from his new vantage point on the freshman team at L. S. U.

He scored 229 points in regular play last year.

The 1956 team will have more sophomores in it than Coach James E. Brown might care to have, but some of them are showing promise.

"We're going to be tough up in the middle and that's the stamp of a good football team," Brown said.

"I'll say one thing," Brown said, "anybody that wins a game from us will have to beat us. We are not going to beat ourselves. There are no stars on this team. Almost every position is wide open."

The Indians open Sept. 7 at Lake Charles. They meet Bogalusa in Baton Rouge Nov. 2.

Four Ex-Wildcats Further Careers On College Grids

WINNSBORO, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Four ex-Winnsboro High gridders are currently in pre-season training for the coming college football season.

They include three 1953 graduates who will be seniors at Louisiana College this year and one 1954 grad who enters his junior year at LSU.

The Louisiana College footballers are halfback Tommy Bankston, quarterback Eugene Southern and guard Frank Cheek. Fullback Steve Thompson will shoot for a berth on the Tiger eleven.

Southern, a 180-pound three-year letterman, was a last season All-GSC choice as a halfback. Cheek, a 195-pounder, has lettered three times and the 175-pound Bankston has lettered twice.

Thompson was knocked out of his first year of varsity play at LSU with a knee injury in a scrimmage following the Florida game. He got his first taste of action in the Tiger-Gator battle and was running second string behind O. K. Ferguson at the time of his injury.

All four were star players during their prep careers at Winnsboro.

Wildcat Test In Jamboree

WINNSBORO, Aug. 25 (Special) — Coaches Philip Poole and Glynell Ebarb have had their Winnsboro High School Wildcats hard at work for two weeks in preparation for the first action of the season which will be the Tallulah Jamboree.

This round robin play between the football teams of Newellton, Tallulah, Lake Providence and Winnsboro, is slated to be held at Tallulah August 31. Games are scheduled to get underway at 8 p. m. with each team playing each of the other three teams a 10-minute game.

With less than 30 men on the Wildcat squad, the Winnsboro coaches are concentrating on bringing out the best qualities of each individual player. Coach Poole is noted for his thoroughness and the toughness of his pre-game workouts, and his methods have in the past produced such players as All-State tackle, Billy McGraw; halfback, Steve Thompson, who is playing with L. S. U.; tackle Earl Huff, with Ole Miss; and guard Frank Cheek, and backs Tommy Banks-ton and Eugene Southern, who are senior players on the Louisiana College team.

This year's team is being built around the four returning lettermen from last year. They are Jesse Walker, end; Don Cheek and Tucson Dunn, tackles; and James Renfrow, back.

However, a number of the other members of the Wildcat squad are showing great possibilities. In this first week's practice, George Busby has shown the greatest improvement. This 285-pound hard hitting junior is tentatively slated for a tackle position and may become the greatest player ever to play on a Winnsboro football team.

The Wildcats lost 17 lettermen from last year's fine club, and a complete overhaul building job, with Walker, Cheek, Dunn, and Renfrow the only old working parts in the Winnsboro machine, and Busby as an inspiration to the younger talent.

Promising squadmen looking for their first Winnsboro letter include Tommy Earl, Leo Lowentritt, Tyron Parker, Wallace Davis, Jerry Simon, Charlie Gwin, Skipper Wolleson, Jerry Johnston, Donald Walker, Tommy Bryant, Jodie El-lerman, James Fife, William Bar-field, Marvin Bryan, Sonny Cruse, Hugh Priest, and Don Parker.

Winnsboro offers one of the toughest schedules of any high school in its class and will campaign in the class A conference.

The schedule:

Aug. 31 — Tallulah Jamboree.
Sept. 7 — LaSalle, here.
Sept. 14 — Jena, here.
Sept. 21 — Winnfield, there.
Sept. 28 — Rayville, here.
Oct. 5 — Lake Providence, there.
Oct. 12 — Crowley, there.
Oct. 19 — Neville at Monroe.
Oct. 26 — Oak Grove, here.
Nov. 2 — Tallulah, here.
Nov. 9 — Delhi, here.
Nov. 16 — Ferriday, there.

Most of Southeastern Louisiana College's '56 football players are home grown. Only six grid-ders come from out of state, and that state is Mississippi.

Southeastern Grooming For Northeast Opener

HAMMOND, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — With two weeks remaining before the opening grid practice of the 1956 football season, Coach Stanley Galloway of the Southeastern Louisiana College Lions indicated that he expected his 45 veterans and newcomers to be ready to go at full speed when they report at Lionville.

The Lion mentor and his assistants, Pat Kenelly and Russell Faulkinberry, will have only two weeks after the opening practice whistle to prepare the green and gold for their first encounter. This will be a Strawberry Stadium game with the Northeast Sa Indians.

Th Northeast game, a Gulf States Conference tilt, will give Lion fans a peek at Galloway's '56 edition, and the Lion coaches an opportunity to see how the Lion newcomers will fare in the G. S. C. One position Galloway will be watching is the flanks. Here, because he lacks experienced grid-ders, the Green and Gold coach

Bob Scoggin Will Coach St. Matthew's Gridders

The Fighting Irish of St. Matthew's High School of Monroe, with their coaching problem settled, are all set to begin football training tomorrow when Coach Bob Scoggin, better known here as a griddier at Northeast Louisiana State, begins his first coaching assignment.

When Jay Broussard resigned as St. Matthew's coach a few months ago, the Irish hired Charles Pippen, himself a Northeast graduate, to take over the post. But Pippen, after accepting, pulled out on the Irish to accept a job as athletic director for the Louisiana School for Girls at Alexandria.

Lake Providence Works While New Coach Sought

School officials are expected to name Newman's successor within a few days.

Meanwhile Hicks continues to put the Panthers through their paces with night workouts.

The Panthers can show only five lettermen back from last season and will be depending on a lot of new material, including students obtained in a consolidation with Transylvania which had never played football.

Dick Muirhead, Dickie Landrem, and Douglas Patrick are lettermen returned to the backfield. Only veterans for the line are end Bill Richardson and center Bill King.

The other squadmen are: Guards — Ted Green, Sterling Guyton, Garland Sumrall, Richard Howard, Billy Wiggins, John Hagel, George Navarro, "Shot" Myers, Bob Muirhead, Jack Pearson, and Thomas Carrol.

Ends — David Haggard, Evan Warren, Wayne Braswell, Donald Lee Vickery, Tommy Whatley, and Thomas Corley.

Tackles — B. Blackstock, David Perry, Louis Navarro, Jr., Earnest Davenport, Tommy Lovell, Roy Johnson, and Robert Bentz.

Center — Willie Harper.
Backs — Turvis Thomas, Ned Edmondson, Billy Regenold, Don Whitehead, Walter Parker, Louis Paul Dalfume, Bobby Joe Travis, and Tommy Ellis.

The schedule for the Panthers:
Sept. 21 — Rayville, there.
Sept. 28 — St. Aloysius (Vicksburg), here.

Oct. 5 — Winnsboro, here.
Oct. 12 — Waterproof, here.
Oct. 19 — Oak Grove, there.
Oct. 26 — Ferriday, there.
Nov. 2 — Delhi, there.
Nov. 9 — Tallulah, here.

Scoggin moved in to accept the St. Matthew's challenge, and he will be assisted by Danny Hoak, quarterback at Northeast the last couple of seasons.

So far, the Irish are uncertain about what their football machine will resemble, but they have three weeks to solve their problems and fill the gaps in the lineup before tackling their first opponent on September 13 when they meet the "B" team of Ouachita Parish High School.

The St. Matthew's schedule:
Sept. 13 — Ouachita "B," here.
Sept. 21 — Open.
Sept. 27 — Mangham, here.
Oct. 5 — St. Aloysius at Vicksburg, Miss.
Oct. 12 — Columbia, there.
Oct. 18 — Bastrop "B", here.
Oct. 25 — West Monroe "B", here.
Nov. 1 — Southside, here.
Nov. 9 — Strong, Ark., there.

Owl Quarterback Club Organizes For Start High

START, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The fans of the Start High School Owl gridsters held an organizational meeting for a Quarterback Club, Monday night at the school. The seventeen people present were issued membership cards as well as additional cards which they will give other new members as they meet them and interest them in the worthwhile project.

Officers were elected and are listed as:

President: Maynard Chambers; vice-president, Francis "Tot" Malone; secretary-treasurer, Roland Colvin; reporter, Billy Whitten.

All other interested citizens are urged to attend the second meeting of the loyal group which will be held at the school, Monday night, Aug. 27, when the year's plans will

Leggett Called America's Best Football Tackle

Those present were Tommy Larnoff, Jack Roark, Bob McGowan, Fred Sapp, Maynard Chambers, Billy Whitten, L. E. Traxler, "Tot" Malone, David Malone, Jim Hill, T. G. Bard, G. T. Traxler, Percy Copeland, Roland Colvin, Aubry Smith and S. J. Fleishmann.

Start High School friends, Alumni and Ex-Students! Show that "work together" spirit that we've always had and come on out for the Quarterback Club.

versity coach Paul Dietzel calls "the best tackle in America."

And a former professional head coach described the Tiger tackle as "the finest pro prospect in the South in the past 10 years."

The play took place in the 1955 LSU spring practice football game. Leggett had just transferred from Hinds, Miss., Junior College where he had been tagged junior college All-American Rose Bowl championship squad.

Unheralded in pre-season publicity, Leggett slammed his way onto the All Southeastern Conference squad, only junior on the first team. He is determined to make his senior year his best.

After tangling with Leggett all afternoon, Maryland center Bob Pellegrini, a 1955 All-America choice, said, "that big Leggett, he's the toughest lineman I've seen."

Whether lucky or unlucky, thirteen members of Coach Stanley Galloway's 1956 Southeastern Louisiana College football team are seniors.

Louisiana Tech Studies Problems

Joe Aillet Seeks Replacements For 19 Lost Lettermen

RUSTON, Aug. 25 (Special) — With the start of football practice just around the corner, interest in the gridiron sport is becoming evident on the Louisiana Tech campus.

The Tech Bulldogs, defending champs of the Gulf States Conference, begin drills on September 1 for a rugged nine-game slate on tap for this fall. Opening tussle for the Canines will be with Louisiana College at Ruston on September 15.

Right now head Coach Joe Aillet and his assistants, Cecil Crowley, Jimmy Mize and Huey Williamson, are getting their heads together to see what can be done about the loss of some 19 fellows, including 13 lettermen, from the Bulldog squad of last year that went undefeated in GSC play and ended the season with a 9-1 record.

Around lettermen are expected back from the 1955 crew. For the first time in the memory of the Tech coaches, the Bulldogs will have three captains this season. They are halfback A. L. Williams, Shreveport, center Charles Glover, Shreveport, and tackle Pat Hinton, Ruston.

The Tech athletic office reports that pre-season ticket sales have been unusually good this summer. Persons who had reserved seats last season will be able to claim the same seats this fall if they apply for them before September 1.

Tech's four home games include Louisiana College on September 15, Stephen F. Austin on September 29, McNeese State on October 6, all night contests, and Southeastern Louisiana on the afternoon of November 3 in the annual homecoming tilt.

On the road, Tech faces Mississippi Southern, September 22; Arkansas State College, October 13; Northwestern Louisiana State at Shreveport, October 20; Southwestern Louisiana Institute, October 27; and Northeast Louisiana State, November 17.

Ryder, Ray Will Lead Rams

BASTROP, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Larry Ryder, 165-pound senior fullback, and Ronnie Ray, 190-pound senior tackle, will lead the 1956 edition of the Bastrop High School Rams when Coach Eddie Harrelson shoots his club into action against the Bossier Bearcats in the season opener here September 7. Ryder and Ray have been named as co-captains by their Ram teammates for the season's campaign.

Bastrop, after a brief appearance in the triple-A class, will try its fortunes in Class AA this year, campaigning in one of the states most powerful twin A districts against such rival league members as Neville of Monroe, current defending state champions, Haynesville, Ruston, and Jonesboro-Hodge.

The Rams have eleven lettermen back to put a measure of experience at all positions except ends. The returning lettermen are John Jones, Jerry Brown, and Dan Lee, guards; Ronnie Ray and Mack Mayo, tackles; Walton Patrick, quarterback; Ken Mardis, center; Larry Ryder, fullback; and Joe Roan, Hilton Johnson, and Jimmy Life, halfbacks.

Coach Harrelson has his charges working twice daily, beginning at 7 a. m. and 5 p. m., with the morning work devoted to specialties and pass offense and defense. Evening drills consist of fullscale offensive and defensive work.

The Rams promise no outstanding stars, but could show a well-balanced team as the entire squad shows a willingness for hard work and young men with the desire to play football.

Centers — Ken Mardis, senior,

The Bastrop schedule:
Sept. 7 — Bossier, here.
Sept. 14 — Rayville, there.
Sept. 21 — Neville, here.
Sept. 28 — Haynesville, here.
Oct. 5 — Ouachita, here.
Oct. 12 — Fair Park at Shreveport.

Oct. 19 — West Monroe, here.
Oct. 26 — Ruston, there.
Nov. 2 — Springhill, there.
Nov. 9 — Byrd at Shreveport.
Nov. 16 — Jonesboro — Hodge at Jonesboro.

Louisiana State Roster Shows 55 Grid Hopefuls

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — In about another week, 55 young men will report to Louisiana State Football Coach Paul Dietzel to begin preparations for another rugged winter of hard knocks.

The 1956 Fighting Tiger aspirants will undergo a month's intensive drills and then will be called upon to face possibly the toughest opponent on a slate completely devoid of breathing spells — Texas A&M.

Last year the Aggies throttled the Bengals for a 28-0 victory — the most humiliating loss sustained by the Tigers all year. Indications are that the Cadets are even tougher than last year. They have already been picked to finish first in the Southwest Conference and are currently rated among the top ten teams in the nation in pre-season polls.

In rapid succession, the Tigers take on Rice, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Florida, Ole Miss, Oklahoma A&M, Mississippi State, Arkansas and Tulane.

Although 17 lettermen will return to the Tiger camp, no one is predicting a rosy future for this year's LSU team. About the only thing that can be promised is that the same hard-knocking type of football will prevail.

Coach Dietzel and his crew face problems similar to the headaches encountered last year when the Tigers won three while losing five and tying two. Last year the Bengals had experienced backs and a questionable line. This year the procedure is reversed with the line rated as solid and the backfield (in three positions) a huge question mark.

Dietzel feels that his team should be tough through the middle with All-SEC tackle Earl Leggett (265) anchoring an experienced crew. Also around for duty are three lettermen guards, Bob Ziegler, Don Scully, and Ed Cassidy, and a pair of tackles, Enos Parker, and Al

Aucoin.

Center will be cared for by veteran Durwood Graham, backed by erstwhile letterman guard Ted Paris.

Quarterback is in the able hands of M. C. Reynolds, who was one of the league's top passers as a sophomore in 1955; Win Turner, a two year letterman back after a year's absence; letterman Matt Burns, and red-shirt Bob Westerman.

The end positions will be another problem, since All-SEC end Joe Tumminello has departed along with regular Arnold "Buck" Alexander. Letterman John Wood will likely claim one post with the other being contested by red shirts and sophomores. Bill Smith, who held a starting terminal job last year, was shifted to fullback in spring drills and may or may not remain at that position.

The three open backfield positions, both halfbacks and fullback, seem to be the biggest problem at the present time. Only one letterman, halfback Joe May, returns. To fill up the remaining positions Coach Dietzel will have to rely on untried sophomores and junior college transfers.

Sophomores J. W. Brodnax and Ronnie Johnston should see plenty of action while junior college transfers Jimmy Taylor, Olin Renfro, Andy Wenner, Al White and Bob Pringle will likely be called on for extensive service.

If the Tigers get adequate help from the junior college transfers and sophomores, things could be interesting each time the Bengals take the field. One thing is certain, however, and that's that there will be plenty of "knocking" when the Aggies come to town September 22.

Northeast Fortunes Look Brighter

Redskins Ready To Start Drills For Grid Season

Things are looking up at Northeast Louisiana State where head coach Devon Payne will rely on 13 returning lettermen, 11 transfers from other colleges, four returned servicemen, and 14 candidates fresh from high school to carry the hopes of the Indians into the Gulf States Conference campaign.

The new crop is especially gratifying to Northeast followers as it seems the Redskins are getting a good share of the better available high school talent of the area for the first time in several years and some of them are going to be a lot of help to Northeast this season.

The player roster right now lists 42 candidates scheduled to report when Coach Payne calls for the Tribe's first practice session next Saturday.

"We'll have better depth this year," commented Coach Payne, "but I think all Gulf States teams will be much improved as well. Southeastern, in particular, is expected to show a mighty strong backfield."

Coach Payne will call for two-day workouts from September 1 through 10, and once a day until September 15 when the Tribe opens the season against the Southeastern Lions at Hammond.

Here's the roster for the Redskins:

Lettermen

Halfbacks — Terry Head, 180, Newellton; Chuck Gordy, 180, Winnboro; Raymond Russell, 160, Tallulah; Jack Cousino, 160, Bay City Mich.; Larry Clemens, 170, Bay City, Mich.

Northeast's home schedule includes Stephen F. Austin College, September 22; Southern State, October 13; Livingston (Ala.) State, October 27; Northwestern Louisiana State, November 3; and Louisiana Tech, November 17.

Traveling, the Tribe will play Southeastern, September 15; Delta State, September 29; S. L. I., October 6; McNeese State, October 20; and Louisiana College, November 10.

Football Ticket Sales Underway

The advanced sale of season tickets for West Monroe High School's home games went on sale Wednesday and will continue for two weeks.

The season tickets, selling for $5, cover games on Neville, Sept. 7; Springhill, Sept. 13; Menard of Alexandria, Oct. 4; Rayville, Nov. 1; and Fair Park of Shreveport, Nov. 8.

The Ouachita game here will be a home game for Ouachita and not covered by West Monroe season ticket sales.

The Rebel pasteboards are on sale at Mouton's Shoe Store.

Wisner Begins Rebuilding

WISNER, La., April 25 (Special) — With a new head coach and only one letterman back from last year's fine team, the Bulldogs of Wisner High School will field a 21-man squad that probably will be one of the highest in the state when they start campaigning September 21.

Paul Kirkpatrick is the new Bulldog head coach, coming to Wisner with two years of coaching experience. A graduate of Arkansas State College where he earned four athletic letters in baseball, football, track, and basketball, Coach Kirkpatrick served one year as head coach at North Heights Junior High, Texarkana, Ark., and one year as assistant to Bob Ellen, the new Ouachita of Monroe coach, who was at Texarkana, Ark., High School last year.

Coach Kirkpatrick also served two years as a first lieutenant in the army, one year in Korea as infantry platoon leader and company commander. He is married and has a small son.

Speed and timing will be depended on to produce points for the Bulldogs this year as they have practically no experience and little weight to throw around. Average weight for the squad is 132 pound per man.

The roster includes only one letterman, Grady Stephens, who has been a utility performer for the Bulldogs for the past two years. Stephens is a halfback and only man to return from the 1955 team.

Wisner's bright spot is the fact that only two members of the squad are seniors, the other being Frank Beech, a fullback who will alternate with Joe Blair a quarterback. It is definite at this time that at least nine of the 11 starters this season will return for the 1957 campaign.

Blair, a sophomore with very little experience, will be the No. 1 quarterback. Joe has prospects of making a fine split-T operator. He runs well, is a fair passer, and an average kicker.

Other backs include Jerry Childress, Donald Flowers, Robert Stephens, Kenneth Stephens, and Buddy Powell.

The end candidates include Frank Allbritton, John Beech, and Dale Carrol.

Best bets for tackle positions at this time seem to be Leslie Sproles and Billy Ferrington. Others include Ernest Kiper, Charles Mock, and Jesse Beech.

At the guard positions, Kenneth Ensminger, Gene Jones, Dale Chisholm, Phillip Morgan, Bobby Graham, John Green, and Billy Meredith are all fighting for starting jobs.

Charles Vinters, a victim of polio early in his life, is the best prospect for the center position right now. Charles is the biggest boy on the squad at 175 pounds. Although handicapped, Charles makes up for it with a lot of fire and determination.

Coach Kirkpatrick got the head coaching job here when Wilton Hoggatt resigned after his fine season of seven wins against three losses last year. Ill health caused Hoggatt to decide to step down although remaining on the Wisner faculty. Coach Hoggatt now has agreed to return as assistant to Coach Kirkpatrick.

"I am very fortunate to have Coach Hoggatt as my line coach this year," Kirkpatrick said. "He is a fine coach and his familiarity with the teams on our schedule will be a great help to me."

Razorbacks May Hit New Record In Ticket Sales

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Aug. 25 (Special) — Razorback football ticket sales may hit an all-time high again in the 1956 season if advance summer sales are a true indication of the trend in store.

"After our best advance year in the school's history last season, none of us expected sales to continue going up in 1956," was the way Mrs. Goldie Jones, ticket manager, sized up things. "Instead, sales are already up 10 per cent over last year at this time."

Mrs. Jones indicated that the Ole Miss and Southern Methodist games in Little Rock and the homecoming contest (Rice) at Fayetteville were "selling at a very quick pace."

9 Lettermen Return To Ouachita

'Thin 30' Carries Lions' Hopes For Reserve Strength

"The thin thirty" backs up nine returning lettermen to carry the fortunes of the Ouachita Parish High School Lions into the state's triple - A football campaign this year for Coach Bob Ellen who moves in as the Lions' newest head tutor following a ten-year reign by Jim Hodgins.

Ouachita workouts have been termed as good with the talent putting forth a lot of effort to develop a new winner for the South Grand street standard bearers of the Red and White which opens the season against the Homer Pelicans here September 6.

Quarterback Dickie Crowe, half-back Eddie McGowen, and tackle Kenneth Wheeler are the biggest cogs returned from the 1955 machine, and they are supported by six other lettermen - Tommy Crowe, center; Donnie Dednam and John Housley, guards; Billy Roach and Wayne Van, ends; and Duke Yates, fullback.

"The thin thirty" from which the Lions seek to round out their starting eleven and develop depth in reserve power includes Don Alexander, Van Anderson, David Barker, Dan Bragg, Rex Carter, Hulan Carlett, George Becker, Glynn DeLaSalle, John Edwards, Carl Fletcher, Curtis Freeman, Tommy Grafton, Jerry Harrell, Larry Hilton, David Kirtley, Guy Logan, Ronnie McKnight, "Dubba" McKay, Roland McKellar, Freddie Peters, John Puckett, Kenneth Renwick, Dale Spence, Billy Thomas, Kenneth Ward, David Higgins, Carroll Whittington, Charley Whittington, Harold Moore and Donald Medaries.

A ten-game schedule faces the O. P. H. S. forces with eight straight contests on successive weekends before the lone open date on November 9 before the annual Neville encounter.

The schedule:

Four Home Tilts On 10-Game Fare At Davidson High

ST. JOSEPH, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Football begins for the Joseph Moore Davidson High School Warriors Friday night when they visit Start in Richland parish for their opener against Coach G. J. Fleischmann's Owls.

Coach William Buckley has been drilling his Warriors steadily the past several days and Davidson expects to have a little more experienced team to field this year although probably not deep enough in reserves to promise more of a success than last year. Only two gridlers were lost by graduation.

The schedule:

Aug. 31—Start, there.
Sept. 7—Block at Jonesville.
Sept. 15—Cathedral of Natchez, here.
Sept. 21—Open.
Sept. 28—Waterproof, there.

Columbia's Tide Aims At 10-Game Football Season

COLUMBIA, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The Columbia High School Crimson Tide has ten appearances scheduled in northeast Louisiana football shows this season, nine in official games and one in the West Monroe Jamboree next Friday night at Monroe.

Meanwhile, Coach James Turner is busy welding his Tide together in two-a-day workouts. Nine letterman were lost from last season's club, but Columbia has some good new talent coming up and promises to have another hard fighting eleven on the football

Thirty Candidates Report For Work With Block Bears

JONESVILLE, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Thirty grid candidates are going all out to land starting assignments as the Block Bears work out under the lights in preparation for the Ferriday Jamboree on August 31.

Hopes for a championship season are high with the return of Roscoe Wilson, an All-District back, and Clarence Richard, who was an outstanding freshman back last season. Sammy Atkins has completely recovered from an injury which kept him out all last season, and will return to see plenty of action at a halfback slot this year.

Barney Atkins, starting center last season was sidelined with an injury, but has returned to full action to head a much improved line which includes Jim Ryan and Benny Neal, two junior tackles.

A real dogfight has developed over the quarterback slot as Bobby Wright and Tommy White, both returning squadmen, battle it out for the starting assignment.

In the battle for starting guards, Lynn Dalton, a 165-pound freshman is making good progress while Marvin Taylor and Carvel White are showing up well in the fight for the end positions.

The Block schedule:

Sept. 7 — Davidson, here.
Sept. 14 — LaSalle at Olla.
Sept. 21 — Roxie, Miss., there.
Sept. 28 — Vidalia, there.

Complete West Monroe Grid Jamboree Program

The second annual football jamboree sponsored jointly by the West Monroe High School and West Monroe Lions Club will be held at Brown Stadium at Northeast Louisiana State College at 7:30 p. m. next Friday.

Three games have been scheduled, each one consisting of two twelve-minute quarters. Participating teams are Bernice, Columbia, Holly Ridge, Bastrop, Ouachita of Monroe, and West Monroe.

The first game will be Bernice vs. Columbia. Bernice is coached by Johnny Emmons and runs from the "T". Columbia is coached by James Turner and also runs from the "T".

The second game will be Ouachita vs. Holly Ridge. Ouachita is coached by Bob Ellen and runs from the "T". Holly Ridge is coached by Chiles Carpenter and runs from the "T". The third game is between Bastrop and West Monroe. Bastrop is coached by Eddie Harrison and runs from the "T". West Monroe is coached by Howard Barker and runs from the "Box."

Tickets are now on sale at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Tickets may be secured from any member of the West Monroe Lions Club. Tickets have also been placed at Calvert's Drug in downtown West Monroe; McKenzie Sports Shop, Monroe; and A. & E. Grocery Store in Bawcomville addition.

Band and pep squad members of participating teams will be admitted free provided they are in uniform.

Officials for the games will be furnished by the Northeast Louisiana Football Officials Association, Dr. W. L. Bendel, president.

All proceeds will be used for community service by the West Monroe Lions Club.

STURDY SUPPORT

Tulane coaches are about as happy with their second-line strength at tackles as they are with outstanding starters Dalton Truax and Emmett Zelenka. Irv Schexnayder of Welcome and Charles Hansen of Lake Charles return as the tentative No. 2 men and provide solid backing.

Ferriday Seeks To Extend Streak

Lettermen Back For Almost All Bulldog Places

FERRIDAY, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The Ferriday High school Bulldogs will be watched closer than ever this year as the winningest football team in Louisiana grid history goes into action September 7 in quest of the 40th consecutive victory for Coach Johnny "Red" Robertson's state Class A champions.

If Ferriday's football fortunes continue along lines of the past few seasons, the Bulldogs may boast 49 straight wins by the time the title playoffs come around.

But Ferriday won't be taking opponents lightly. Any one of them may come up with the "high" night needed to upset the Ferriday apple cart.

Sicily Island's district Class B champions get the first opportunity of the season in that September 7 opener. Lake Providence, Winnsboro, Tallulah, Delhi, Jena, and Cathedral of Natchez are all regarded as better than average rivals. Oak Grove, Block of Jonesville, and Liberty, Miss., also get their chances at the Bulldogs.

The Concordia parish powerhouse boasts lettermen back for nearly every position, but needs depth at tackle, guard, and center.

Already the Bulldogs appear set with a veteran backfield of Jimmy Marks, Donnie Daye, Ronnie Magoun, and Tommy Brasher.

The schedule:
Aug. 31 — Ferriday Jamboree.
Sept. 7 — Sicily Island, here.
Sept. 14 — Delhi, there.
Sept. 21 — Jena, there.
Sept. 28 — Open.
Oct. 5 — Cathedral at Natchez.

Nov. 2 — Open.
Nov. 9 — Liberty, Miss., there.
Nov. 16 — Winnsboro, here.
Nov. 22 — Tallulah, here.

Mangham Dragons Start Play With 6 Lettermen

MANGHAM, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — With just six lettermen in a squad of about 50 candidates, the Mangham High School Dragons are seeking to build up reserve strength to go with a good looking first eleven to present a good contender in the 1956 class B football race.

Coach Armed Mathews' most experienced talent rests with Robert Martin, "Bud" Chapman, Edgar Johns, Roger Boughton, James Hendrix, and Billy Laird.

Martin, a 190-pound senior back, and Chapman, a 195-pound senior end, are three-year lettermen. Johns, a 195-pound lineman, has earned two letters, while one letter each have been claimed by Boughton, 145, back; Hendrix, 140, back; and Laird, 135, back and end.

Coach Mathews has the assistance of Embury Pickett in developing the Dragons this year. Pickett, coming here from Dayton, Tex., is doing a fine job with the Dragon line.

PLENTY OF ROOM

The entire North end of Tulane Stadium, which has more than 25,000 seats, has been set aside for users of the Greenies' "Family Ticket Plan" this fall.

Chicago Cub pitcher Bob Rush is the son of Harry J. Rush, former major league player with the old St. Louis Browns in the American League.

Dyer, Wilfred Burgess, J. C. 25 Athletes Out For First Drills At Vidalia High

VIDALIA, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Varsity football practice for the Vidalia High School Vikings is well underway with approximately 25 boys answering the initial call for work and putting in rugged practice sessions daily.

Coach Walter L. Stamper sped up the tempo of drills this week, and the Vikings should have "leather popping" all through next week as they go for the polish expected to be necessary when they launch their 1956 campaign with a Class B conference battle right at the start against the Tensas Tigers of Waterproof High on September 7.

The Vidalia Waterproof game is scheduled for Viking Field here.

Coch Stamper will draw his starting eleven from the following list of young athletes.

Luther Andrews, Malcolm Barlow, Edward Bruce, Billy Calvert, Robert Carpenter, Robert Chisholm, Ronald Carpenter, Kenneth Ferguson, Merritt Firmin, "Sonny" Franklin, Bobby Goss, Edward Hawes, David Hilbun, David Hughes, Leo Ivy Jr., Virgil Jackson Jr., Guthrie Knightson, Wayne Milligan, Charles O'Neal, Jimmy Trindle, Louis Vance, David Wigginton, and Leonard Wigginton.

The 11-game Viking schedule is: Sept. 7—Waterproof, here.
Sept. 13—Port Gibson, Miss., there.

Sept. 21—Fayette, Miss., there.
Sept. 30—Block of Jonesville, here.

Oct. 5—Washington, Miss., here.

Tickets have been on sale since August 1, and each team will keep the proceeds of their own ticket sales. Admission for and at the gate will be adults $1 and students 50 cents.

Gate receipts will be split four ways after expenses are taken out—expense travel for referees from Alexandria, advance tickets, films, 100 posters and footballs from the Louisiana Athletic Association. Uniforms are to be as follows: Jonesville, white; Ferriday, orange; Waterproof, gold; Vidalia, blue.

The Cincinnati Redlegs signed catcher Bruce Edwards this summer after the ex-Dodger had batted .295 in 45 games with Vancouver, B.C. machine is being shuffled together and the Men of Troy will be ready to host their annual Football Jamboree here next Friday night when they make their season's first public appearance.

Coach Holstead and his chief aide, Boone Halback, are using a 46-man squad from which to find their eleven starters, including replacements for such graduation losses as Stoney Williamson, quarterback; Raymond Russell, halfback; and Lynn Naylor, fullback.

Returning squadmen to give the Trojans experience are ends H. M. Dartlone and M. L. Melton; tackles Carneal Woodyear and Dick Brown; guard Charles Summers; center John Burns; halfback Wayne Hopkins; and fullback Danny Neumann.

The talent for replacements and depth includes ends Albert Butler, Bruce Bailey, Joe Thigpen, Leon Brown, Wesley Phippen, Tim Morgan, and Rufus Yerger; tackles C. L. Keene, Jim Griswold, Jim Brown, Jerry McDonald, Maurice Machen, and Payton Carney; guards Harold Bolton, Danny Barnett, Bobby Neumann, Billy Ray Sullivan, and O. G. Saffel; centers Perry Beard, Bobby Thompson, and Charles Newell; quarterbacks Simeon Wall and Jerald Collins; halfbacks Lloyd Jackson, William Scott, Leonard Wall, James Kirk, John Christian, Sammy Collins, Max Smith, Charles Noland, and Ronneu Williamson; and fullbacks John Laird, Carl Williamson, and Leo Townsend.

FOOTBALL FUNNIES

The Wisner coach had just figured out a new trick play to use in his next game. The idea was to fake a couple of times, then fade back and throw a 50-yard pass to a man free in the end zone.

The day of the game came and the enemy forged ahead by six points. Try as it might Wisner couldn't push the ball over. With three minutes to play, Wisner recovered a fumble on the 50-yard line. "Here," thought the coach, "is the time for my trick play."

The quarterback was instructed to call the play. The fakes went off faultlessly, the quarterback faded back, lifted his arm to pass—and was smothered for a 25-yard loss. Undaunted, the quarterback called the same play. Again everything went off smoothly—until he lifted his arm. This time he was pulled down on his three-yard line.

As Wisner lined up for the next play, a raucous voice floated out of the bleachers:

"Will somebody give that so-and-so a ticket—he might want to get back in the stadium after the next play."

S. L. I. Calls Grid Sched. Toughest Ever For Bulldogs

LAFAYETTE, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Southwestern Louisiana Institute athletic officials have termed S. L. I.'s 1956 football schedule "the Bulldogs' greatest."

The 1956 schedule is expected to be a great boost for Bulldog attendance but is also expected to increase Coach Raymond Didier's headaches.

In the ten-game football calendar which includes five Gulf States Conference opponents and five non-conference games, S. L. I. will face ten improved team and Coach Didier will open football workouts September 1 with only 11 returning lettermen.

The Southwestern home schedule, the best in recent years, has caused Gen. Charles R. Doran, S. L. I. Athletic Director, to expect a sharp increase in attendance this fall. Two of the leading contenders for G. S. C. title honors — Louisiana Tech and Southeastern Louisiana College — appear on the home schedule.

Besides those two powerful teams, two strong Texas elevens, Lamar Tech of Beaumont and the University of Corpus Christi, an up-and-coming G. S. C. foe, Northeast State will play in McNaspy Stadium this season.

Lamar Tech opens the schedule September 15 and tough Southeastern comes to town the next week, September 22. Louisiana Tech closes out the home card October 27. Box Seats for home games are now on sale in the men's gymnasium at S. L. I. Box Seats for five home games sell for $10, and Reserve Seats for $8.75.

The schedule:

Sept. 15 — Lamar Tech, here.
Sept. 22 — Southeastern, here.
Sept. 29 — East Texas State at Commerce, Tex.
Oct. 6 — Northeast State, here.
Oct. 20 — Southern State at Mag-

RUNNING RAM—Ex-Bastrop Ram Ronnie Johnson, 5-foot, 10-inch, 160-pound halfback, may be one answer to Coach Paul Dietzel's backfield problems at LSU. As a sophomore, Johnson should see his share of action at Ole War Skule this fall. He starred for Bastrop in '54.

nolia, Ark.
Oct. 27 — Louisiana Tech, here.
Nov. 3 — Louisiana College at Pineville.
Nov. 10 — Northwestern State at Natchitoches.

Nov. 17 — McNeese at Lake Charles.

LaSalle Unloads Most Conference Games Very Early

OLLA, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The LaSalle High School Tigers get most of their football fireworks in action early this season — they got in their opener with the Jena Giants last night, get their first Class A conference battle with Mansfield next Friday night, and will have all conference contests, with one exception, out of the way by September 28.

In addition to Mansfield, the ten-game schedule has conference scraps with Farmerville here September 21 and Winnfield here September 28. Only remaining conference challenge will be against Many, there, November 9.

The Bengals, district Class A champions last season, lost 15 lettermen from last year's squad but have ten monogram winners returning with a fair squad of talent seeking first letters.

Sore losses to graduation were all-state tackle "Bud" Brady, all-state back Ken Winberry, and such other lettermen as Jay May, Feidor Hollenshead, Carl Steen, Jim Fish, Calvin Barnill, Parson Aycock, "Sonny" Williams, Cedric Dunn, Tom Netherly, Julian Keene, Aubrey McCartney, Lynn Russell, and "Red" Herrington.

Lettermen back are Richard Milton and Charles Gilmore, ends; Herschel Vinyard and Charles Tannehill, tackles; William Moody and Joe Linenby, guards; Billy Ray Kinney, center; and Everett Brooks, Bob Allbritton, and Mike Gaines, backs.

Other squadmen include Johnny Cooksey, Jerry Davis, Murry Wells, and James Williams, ends; Whitfield Lee, Billy Kay Woodruff, and Freddie Boles, tackles; Mack Wall, Arthur Chandler, Rudolph Alger, and Galen Cupples, guards; Harold Keene, center; and Lynn Gaines, Gary Russell, Ben Nichols, Don Long, and Freddie Shepard, backs.

The remaining LaSalle schedule

SICILY ISLAND, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The Sicily Island Tigers, with their appearance in the Bossier Jamboree less than a week away, today completed two weeks of training with Coach Raymond Peace seeking to fill gaps left by the graduation of such stars as B. K. Miller, all-state halfback; Albert Dampier, all-state guard, and the veterans Cooke Crawford, Charles Gillespie, C. J. Richardson, Benny Frank Alford, Harvey Wells, and Jerry Golman.

The defending district Class B champions make their appearance in the Bossier Jamboree next Friday night and then face the might of the Ferriday High Bulldogs in the Benglas official season opener at Ferriday on September 7 with the Islanders seeking to snap a 29-game winning streak for the state Class A champion Bulldogs.

Coach Peace has such lettermen backs as Dean Wiggins, Billy Wiggins, Reginald Wycoff, and Woodrow Alexander returned with veteran linemen Charles Enright, Tommy Wells, Lynn Evans, Johnny Crawford, Charles Stringer, Ray Ready, William Patton, Dale Campbell, and Donald Wells.

Most promising prospects are Harry Gillespie, Craig King, Allen Cole, Johnnie Weston, Harold Watson, and James Dennis.

Jena Giants Out To Make Success In Title Defense

JENA, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Although the Jena Giants were one of the first to see actual football actions in the state this season when they played LaSalle last night, Coach Zac Henderson's charges have until October 5 to develop experience before plunging into the double-A conference campaign.

Coach Henderson is entering his third season with a Jena team that has won the district AA title the past two years. He is assisted in rebuilding the LaSalle team by Bill Harris, back for his second year as Tiger line mentor, and Curt Kindard, who will later have charge of the "B" and junior teams.

Most of Jena's stalwart line of 1955 is gone, but James Plunkett, classy guard; Pat Thompson, tackle, and Joe Doshier, tackle, are back to bulwark the forward wall. Tommy Thompson, last year's freshman quarterback, has added experience, put on weight, and is expected to be ready to ably handle the tricky split-T offense set up by Coach Henderson.

Missing from Jena's nine-game schedule is Class A Rayville and Class B Block of Jonesville. Replacing these two foes will be Ferriday, Class A state champions for three straight years, and Springhill's double-A Lumberjacks.

The district 3-AA goes to the post with the same list of members as last year, minus Winnfield which dropped back to Class A but remain on the Giants' schedule.

Menard of Alexandria, Natchitoches, Pineville, and Jena are the remaining district members with Menard and Natchitoches tagged as pre-season co-favorites with Jena possible in the No. 3 spot on the basis of cautious reports from Coach Henderson, and Pineville in the No. 4 hole but definitely regarded as a good "dark horse" possibility under the leadership of Coach Jimmy Keeth.

The remaining Jena schedule after last night's game with LaSalle:
Sept. 7 — Jonesboro-Hodge at Jonesboro.

Sept. 14 — Winnsboro, there.
Sept. 21 — Ferriday, here.
Sept. 28 — Open.
Oct. 5 — Natchitoches, there.
Oct. 12 — Pineville, here.
Oct. 19 — Marksboro, there.
Oct. 26 — Springhill, there.
Nov. 2 — Menard, here.

The Chicago Cubs signed Gerald Kindall, a Minnesota infielder, to a bonus following the NCAA tournament in Omaha. Kindall will be graduated in 1957.

Thompson Seen As Good Bet For L. S. U. Eleven

By SAM HANNA

Often in sports the pre-season unmentioned become post-season heroes, the unforgettables. Worthy subs smothered by already-proven stars rise to occasion and subdue the enemy for self-esteem; the sleepers awake, and the injured become healed, for they are all a part of the unexpected.

Such may be the story of a quiet, muscular boy whose name has been lost among those of his L. S. U. teammates because of a crippling injury.

Quarterback Club At Ferriday Picks Season Directors

FERRIDAY, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — An enthusiastic turnout made for an enjoyable evening as the Ferriday Quarterback Club met for the first time this season Monday night in the Ferriday High School cafeteria.

Jiggs Willis, popular Ferriday sports figure, presided over the initial 1956 meeting and announced the name of the Ferriday QB club board of directors.

Willis, as president of the club, Secretary E. W. Horton and Bulldog head Coach Johnny "Red" Robertson were automatic choices on the six-man board. The other three members are Dr. Claude Current, Charles Loomis, Ferriday High School principal, and Frank Vogt.

Doug Watkins, new Bulldog line mentor, attended his first Ferriday meeting and responded with "I'm very happy to be in Ferriday and touched by the football enthusiasm of the entire Ferriday populace", upon being introduced by parish school Superintendent Hugh A. Bateman, Ferriday, former principal and coach.

Among other guests at the meeting were four illustrious former Ferriday High gridgers, All-American Max Fugler, Guy Hill, Manson Nelson, and Tommy Purvis. Buddy Long was unable to attend. It was decided that another meeting should be held next Monday night to discuss plans for the Ferriday High Jamboree August 31 at Melz Field. Vidalia, Jonesville and Waterproof will join Ferriday in the four-team jamboree.

The 1956 Pee Wee football program, a vital concern of the Ferriday Quarterback Club, was discussed at length by Coach Ernest Davis, who thanked members on behalf of the boys for the new uniforms purchased for them. It was also revealed that a seven-game slate has been arranged for them. It was also stated that the little Bulldogs will play in the big annual Labor Day Pee Wee Football Jamboree sponsored by the Vidalia Quarterback Club.

Yet, if a cartilage operation holds true, Steve Thompson, the ex-Winnsboro high-scoring star, may vault into prominence with the '56 Tigers as quickly as he was forgotten in '55.

The performance of an injured knee and the extent of his desire to rise to the top will destine Thompson in his junior year bid for fullback play on the Tiger club.

A career as a regular player seemed certain for Steve last year as he moved ahead of senior Larry King to pull upon the high-flying heels of O. K. Ferguson. He saw his first action in the Florida game.

But along came an unkind fate and several days after the Tiger-Gator battle Thompson hobbled off the scrimmage field with a torn cartilage in the right knee. He was through for the year.

And perhaps he had donned the Purple and Gold for the last time. The cartilage was removed in a November operation, leaving the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thompson with a scarred knee he could hardly bend.

Long running sessions last spring proved rewarding, for the knee grew stronger and stronger, until finally he ran the 100 in 10.5, only two seconds slower than before the injury.

But the real test will come when he enters contact work this fall. One fatal blow could send him to the sidelines for good.

And that is the question, for the status quo of one Steve Thompson figures bigger in Coach Paul Dietzel's plans than most Bengal rooters realize.

Experienced backs will be few in the Tiger camp, and even though Jimmy Taylor, the Baton Rouge High All-Stater who starred as a freshman but who ended up at Hinds Junior College because of a poor scholastic record has returned, the fullback position is wide open.

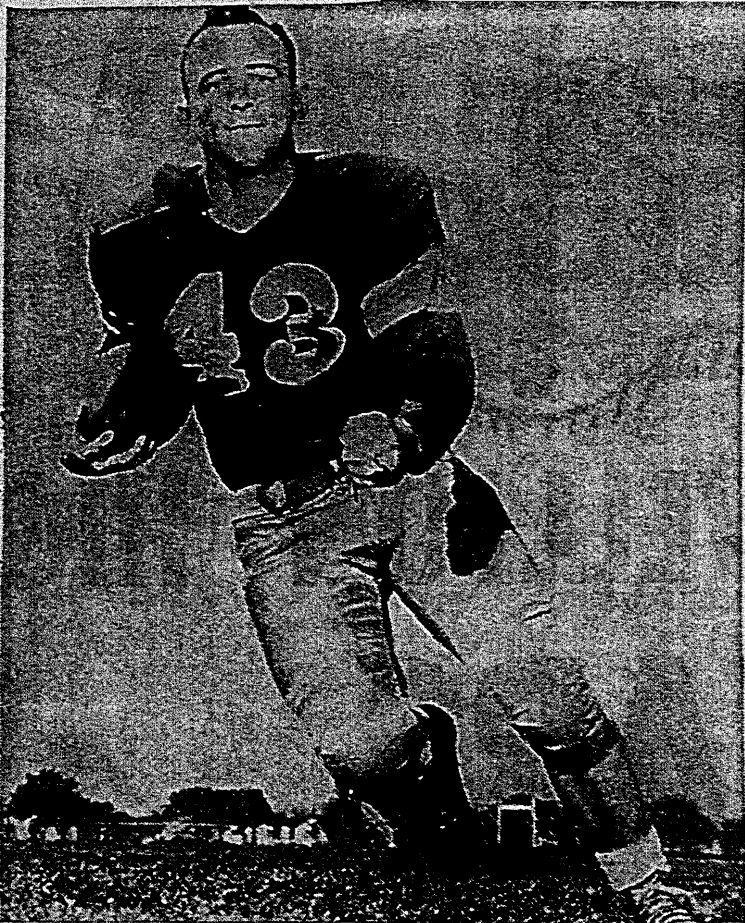

Taylor is looked upon as the man most likely to replace Ferguson. He's big, weighs 200 pounds, and runs fast with ease and power. But he too could be injured and his classroom work could fail again.

So with an eye to the future, Dietzel moved Ruston's Bill Smith from end to fullback during spring training. According to some reports, he may return the big punter to his terminal slot, provided Thompson's knee holds up.

The Tigers have several other worthy contenders, but much depends on the churning, power-running Thompson, who danced into numerous end zones throughout this area only three years ago.

A 5-foot, 11-inch who's built thick and hard, Steve dropped from a hefty 200, which he weighed at the end of school, to 175 over the summer. He worked it off on a pipeline in Tennessee.

He says his knee is as good as it was before the injury. Now he hopes to regain the stamina to endure and the strength to deliver that enabled him to lead the district his senior year in '53 with 107 points, in addition to earning four varsity prep letters, three honorable mentions and numerous college offers.

L. S. U. FULLBACK CONTENDER—Steve Thompson, Winnsboro's 1953 scoring star, will be shooting for a berth with the L. S. U. Tigers this fall as a 175-pound fullback. A knee injury knocked the hard-running back out of action last year as a sophomore. Thompson led his district in '53 with 107 points. He'll be a junior in geology.

Yes, Steve may very well be a man with a sleeping tiger in his chest. Whether it sleeps or awakens depends on the element of surprise that makes competitors like Thompson accept the challenge.

Guy Hill Decided To Cast Football Lot With Houston

FERRIDAY, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Guy Hill, Ferriday High's all-time scoring great who raced for touchdowns with monotonous regularity the three seasons he and the Bulldogs blasted to state crowns and thirty-nine consecutive victories on the gridiron, has announced that he is definitely casting his wares with the University of Houston.

Hill, a happy-go-lucky, hell-bent-for-leather type of halfback who will run around a tackler (or over him, whatever the need might be) said he had definitely decided to reject Louisiana State University's grant-in-aid and accept Houston's.

The low-slung, swashbuckling speedster says he is looking forward to joining former Bulldog teammate James Joplin in Houston. Joplin was a freshman at the university last fall and like Hill made all-state at Ferriday High School.

Hill will report to the University of Houston on September 5.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

BATON ROUGE, La. — George Fisher, sophomore end on Louisiana State University's 1956 football team, is the son of former Tiger track man George Fisher, Sr., who was Southeastern Conference high hurdles champ for the Tigers back in 1934.

Farmerville Gets Busy With Only 3 Lettermen

FARMERVILLE, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — With only three regulars returning from the 1955 eleven, Coach Jim Tinsley has a big task ahead of him when he starts the job of rebuilding the Farmerville High School football fortunes in workouts beginning tomorrow.

Early prospects indicate the Farmers will have at least five boys in the starting lineup for their September 7 opener with no previous football experience.

When Coach Tinsley and his aid Elmo Martin and E. J. Albritton, greet "their" candidates tomorrow they will launch two-a-day workouts with morning and night sessions in preparations for that opener here with Oak Grove's Tigers.

The pre-season dope sets up "Buddy" Eiland, the fine Farmerville track star, as the best of the backfield and his speed will carry a lot of hope for the Farmers. Jesse Giddens looms as his chief running mate in the backfield. Stalwart of the line is expected to be Kenny Griffin, due to alternate between center and guard, wherever his power is needed most.

The squad summoned for initial workouts includes Connie Ray Alford, Jimmy Albritton, Milan Borden, "Buddy" Eiland, John Ed Farrar, Jesse Giddens, Kenny Griffin, Paul Hayes, Elzie Long, Bill Laprich, Wayne McKinnie, Marvin Neal, A. J. Nolan, Dale Ramsey, Melvin Silmon, Paul Smith, Mickey Strother, Reuben Tatum, Wayne Terral, and Glyn Woodall.

Coach Tinsley expects to move up the date on at least one of his games from Friday to a Thursday night in working out a slate to avoid Friday conflicts with Bernice in this area. Bernice also is expected to take a Thursday date.

The Farmerville schedule:

Sept. 7 — Oak Grove, here.

Sept. 14 — Holly Ridge, there.

Sept. 21 — LaSalle at Olla.

Sept. 28 — Open.

Oct. 5 — Wisner, here.

TIGERS

FOOTBALL FUNNIES

The new head coach at L.S.U. has a novel way of picking his backs and linemen. "I just take them all into the woods and turn them loose," he declares. "The ones who run around the trees become backs and the ones who run over the trees become linemen."

A L.S.U. sweep against Rice wound up with an Owl flat on his back. The Tiger right half rushed toward the injured opponent and started vigorously massaging his leg. After a while, the fallen hero rose, flashed a smile of gratitude at the Tiger and trotted back to his position.

As the halfback returned to the L.S.U. backfield, his fullback slapped his back. "That was the finest sporting gesture I've ever seen," he declared.

The Tiger halfback smiled depreciatingly. "It was nothing at all, I just didn't want to see that fellow taken out of the game. He's the easiest guy to block you ever saw!"

The iron-ribbed, oak-headed backfield star was taking his first classroom exam. He answered every question wrong. The professor called him to his office and, pointing to his paper, said: "I don't believe you know anything."

"Sir, I don't even suspect anything," the boy sobbed.

After a tough game with Ferriday, the Star Tallulah quarterback was invited to a dance at an exclusive country club. He soon found himself tripping the light fantastic with a cute little thing.

Rather contritely, he said, "I'm afraid my dancing isn't very good this evening, I'm a little stiff from football."

"I think you're very nice," replied the girl fluff. "And it doesn't make the least bit of difference to me where you come from."

Winnsboro was having a tough night as their opposition was really steam rolling over them. Desperate measures were called for, and the Wildcat coach singled out a sub. "Miller," he snapped, "go in for Doyle at center. Move around, play anywhere you think they'll strike. But stop that running attack."

Miller rushed in and obeyed orders to the letter. He moved from side to side, making tackle after tackle. The enemy was stopped cold and the Wildcats went on to win. As Miller walked off the field, the Wildcat coach rushed over to him.

"Great game, boy!" he enthused. "Once you got in there, our defense sure stiffened."

"Coach, I've got something to tell you," Miller answered bashfully. "Doyle never came out."

The ball-carrier soared into the air, turned over three times, struck the ground and lay still. Everybody in the stands gasped. It looked like a sure fatality. The priest sitting on the bench rushed out, knelt by the boy and started administering last rites.

In the middle of the service, the boy feebly opened an eye. He looked at the priest and, with great pain, slowly shook his head.

"Stop, Father," he gasped. "You've made a mistake, I want the priest for the offensive platoon."

The coach of a high school team in the West heard about the unbeaten team of Ferriday High School and inquired about a post-season game. "We haven't lost a game in three seasons," wrote the Westerner. "How about a game the last week in November?"

"Go get yourself a reputation," scornfully replied the coach from Ferriday. "We haven't had to punt in five years!"

Bastrop Grid Interests Follow Brodnax, Johnson

BASTROP, Aug. 25 (Special) — It's no wonder interest in the 1956 L. S. U. Tigers is running so high in Bastrop that the management of a local radio station found prospective sponsors of collegiate football broadcasts leaning toward the Ole War Skule.

For Bastrop will be well represented on this year's edition of the Bayou Bengals in the forms of J. W. (Red) Brodnax and Ronnie Johnson.

It was only two years ago that Brodnax and Johnson led the local Rams in one of their most successful seasons ever. And now the two speed merchants have ample opportunity to make hometown Bastrop even prouder.

Official word from Tigertown says that Johnson and Brodnax are expected to do much in solving Coach Paul Dietzel's headache of replacing such backs as Chuck Johns, O. K. Ferguson, Vince Gonzalez and company.

And even though junior college transfers have been brought into the Tiger lair, material like the two Bastrop stars is difficult to snub.

Brodnax, a 6-foot 190-pound well-built lad, runs the 100 in about 10 seconds flat. And while Johnson is not as fast as his fellow townsman in a short distance, he was speedy enough in high school to break the state record for the half mile. If anything, Ronnie is faster now.

Both starred for the Rams. Brodnax finished his senior year as the second highest scorer in the state and wound up on the All-State team. Ronnie pitched in his share of scoring and made the Honorable Mention club as a 160-pound fleet-foot.

And now the two are taking a crack at belonging to the same starting team again.

They were outstanding in their freshman year, starring in the frosh contests and each scoring in the intra-squad spring game between the Purples and Golds.

Brodnax should get more than his share of packing the mail while the smaller Johnson will probably be called upon to boot a few extra points, in addition to running as well.

At any rate, Brodnax and Johnson are back in the limelight in Bastrop. And it would be difficult to find a Bastropite to argue against the team's chances of winning the state championship.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRAEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP) — Mickey Mantle's home run hammering menaces Babe Ruth's long-standing record of 60 but only when you dust off the records can you appreciate the tremendous hitting show which the Bambino put on back there in 1927.

Mantle is staging quite a scene, too, with his 42 homers, batting average in the .360's and 107 runs batted in as of Wednesday. Yet time is running out fast on the Mick and it begins to appear that only in the average department will he beat the Babe's big year.

Because Ruth was a homeric hitter in that season of his most fabulous mark.

Take a look at the Babe's overall marks that year: 151 games, 540 times at bat, 153 runs, 192 hits, 29 doubles, eight triples, 60 homers, 138 bases on balls, 164 runs batted in, 89 strikeouts and a .356 average.

Mantle's figures through 115 games were: 421 at bats, 104 runs, 152 hits, 16 doubles, four triples, 42 homers, 91 bases on balls, 107 runs batted in, 75 strikeouts and a .361 average.

Which meant that with 39 games remaining, Mantle — needing 18 homers to match Ruth's 60—also trailed Ruth by 54 runs, 40 hits, 13 doubles, four triples, had received 47 fewer bases on balls, was only 14 strikeouts short of Ruth's seasonal total and had knocked in 57 fewer runs. In batting, Mantle holds an .005 shade in the average.

The major factor against Mantle, or anyone else who hopes to break the big 60, is the tremendous surge which Ruth made in September when he blasted 17 homers.

Against Boston, early in September, he walloped five homers in two days. In the opener of a double header he got one off Tony Welzer. In the nightcap he hit another off Jack Russell. The next day, in a single game, he got one from Danny MacFayden and another off Bryan Harriss.

From Sept. 11 through Sept. 30, at Yankee Stadium, the Babe collected 11 home runs. And he wasn't batting against palsies, because one was a bases loaded was on Sept. 27. Two days later he nicked Horace Lisenbee of the Senators and in the same game banged a bases loaded round tripper off Paul Hopkins.

The next day, in the Yanks' 154th game, he collected his 60th off Tom Zachary of the Senators.

Ruth's total came off 32 different pitchers and the leading victims, yielding four each, were Rube Walberg and Milt Gaston.

If Mantle thinks the pitchers are fearful of "coming in" when he's at the plate, consider that of Ruth's 38 walks he twice was given free trips to first in 27 games, walked three times in six others and once drew four walks in one game.

All of which points up the chore facing the kid from Oklahoma as he goes for the big record. It takes a lot of hitting.

GOOD CONNECTIONS

backs Gene Newton, John Caruso, Fred Wilcox and Ron Riley.

SENTIMENTAL SPOT

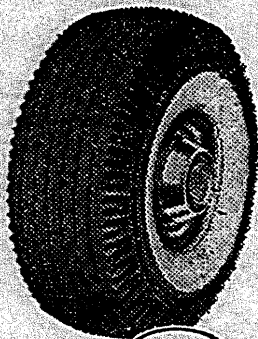

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — W. F. Mulholland, trainer of the George D. Widener stable, has a sentimental attachment for Hialeah race track. Mulholland saddled his first winner for Widener Jan. 23, 1926 at that track.

BASTROP'S OWN REDHEAD—J. W. (Red) Brodnax, who swivel-hipped his way to prep gridiron glory with the Bastrop Rams in '54, will be counted on heavily this fall with the LSU Bengal Tigers. A 6-foot, 190-pound halfback, Brodnax is expected to fill one of the halfback slots in the Tiger backfield. He's a sophomore.

Bastrop Grid Interests Follow Brodnax, Johnson

BASTROP, Aug. 25 (Special) — It's no wonder interest in the 1956 L. S. U. Tigers is running so high in Bastrop that the management of a local radio station found prospective sponsors of collegiate football broadcasts leaning toward the Ole War Skule.

For Bastrop will be well represented on this year's edition of the Bayou Bengals in the forms of J. W. (Red) Brodnax and Ronnie Johnson.

It was only two years ago that Brodnax and Johnson led the local Rams in one of their most successful seasons ever. And now the two speed merchants have ample opportunity to make hometown Bastrop even prouder.

Official word from Tigertown says that Johnson and Brodnax are expected to do much in solving Coach Paul Dietzel's headache of replacing such backs as Chuck Johns, O. K. Ferguson, Vince Gonzalez and company.

And even though junior college transfers have been brought into the Tiger lair, material like the two Bastrop stars is difficult to snub.

Brodnax, a 6-foot 190-pound well-built lad, runs the 100 in about 10 seconds flat. And while Johnson is not as fast as his fellow townsman in a short distance, he was speedy enough in high school to break the state record for the half mile. If anything, Ronnie is faster now.

Both starred for the Rams. Brodnax finished his senior year as the second highest scorer in the state and wound up on the All-State team. Ronnie pitched in his share of scoring and made the Honorable Mention club as a 160-pound fleet-foot.

And now the two are taking a crack at belonging to the same starting team again.

They were outstanding in their freshman year, starring in the frosh contests and each scoring in the intra-squad spring game between the Purples and Golds.

Brodnax should get more than his share of packing the mail while the smaller Johnson will probably be called upon to boot a few extra points, in addition to running as well.

At any rate, Brodnax and Johnson are back in the limelight in Bastrop. And it would be difficult to find a Bastropite to argue against the two ex-Rams belonging there.

Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRAEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP) — Mickey Mantle's home run hammering menaces Babe Ruth's long-standing record of 60 but only when you dust off the records can you appreciate the tremendous hitting show which the Bambino put on back there in 1927.

Mantle is staging quite a scene, too, with his 42 homers, batting average in the .360's and 107 runs batted in as of Wednesday. Yet time is running out fast on the Mick and it begins to appear that only in the average department will he beat the Babe's big year.

Because Ruth was a homeric hitter in that season of his most fabulous mark.

Take a look at the Babe's overall marks that year: 151 games, 540 times at bat, 153 runs, 192 hits, 29 doubles, eight triples, 60 homers, 138 bases on balls, 164 runs batted in, 88 strikeouts and a .356 average.

Mantle's figures through 115 games were: 421 at bats, 104 runs, 152 hits, 16 doubles, four triples, 42 homers, 91 bases on balls, 107 runs batted in, 75 strikeouts and a .361 average.

Which meant that with 39 games remaining, Mantle — needing 18 homers to match Ruth's 60—also trailed Ruth by 54 runs, 40 hits, 13 doubles, four triples, had received 47 fewer bases on balls, was only 14 strikeouts short of Ruth's seasonal total and had knocked in 57 fewer runs. In batting, Mantle holds an .005 shade in the average.

The major factor against Mantle, or anyone else who hopes to break the big 60, is the tremendous surge which Ruth made in September when he blasted 17 homers.

Against Boston, early in September, he walloped five homers in two days. In the opener of a double header he got one off Tony Welzer. In the nightcap he hit another off Jack Russell. The next day, in a single game, he got one from Danny MacFayden and another off Bryan Harriss.

From Sept. 11 through Sept. 30, at Yankee Stadium, the Babe collected 11 home runs. And he wasn't batting against palsies, because one was a bases loaded clout against Lefty Grove. That was on Sept. 27. Two days later he nicked Horace Lisenbee of the Senators and in the same game banged a bases loaded round tripper off Paul Hopkins.

The next day, in the Yanks' 154th game, he collected his 60th off Tom Zachary of the Senators.

Ruth's total came off 32 different pitchers and the leading victims, yielding four each, were Rube Walberg and Milt Gaston.

If Mantle thinks the pitchers are fearful of "coming in" when he's at the plate, consider that of Ruth's 38 walks he twice was given free trips to first in 27 games, walked three times in six others and once drew four walks in one game.

All of which points up the chore facing the kid from Oklahoma as he goes for the big record. It takes a lot of hitting.

GOOD CONNECTIONS

backs Gene Newton, John Caruso, Fred Wilcox and Ron Riley.

SENTIMENTAL SPOT

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — W. F. Mulholland, trainer of the George D. Widener stable, has a sentimental attachment for Hialeah race track. Mulholland saddled his first winner for Widener Jan. 23, 1926 at that track.

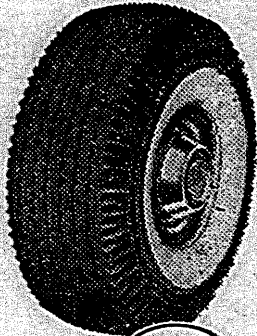

The Cincinnati Redlegs have renewed their working agreement with Seattle in the Pacific Coast League.

Rebs Will Rely On 'Team Effort'

Only 3 Regulars Return To Lineup For West Monroe

"We'll have no stars on this year's Rebel squad... anything we do in football will be an all-out team effort," was the catch quote from Coach Howard Barker of West Monroe High school this week as he continued to polish his Rebs for fourth campaign in triple-A football.

The Rebels face a tough season minus 16 graduated seniors but pin their hopes on 12 returning lettermen, only three of whom were members of the starting eleven last year. A host of young talent is being counted on heavily to support the Rebel cause.

Drilling for the past two weeks, the Rebels are shaping up with satisfaction, appear in good condition, and have been bothered with no serious injuries in scrimmages. Four National Guard boys joined the squad this week, and, although behind in practice, are expected to pick up quickly.

Lost by graduation were such outstanding players as Wayne Hendricks, George Smith, Billy Don Hughes, Mack Hunt, Sammy Fordham, Dewayne Malmay, Rudy Ramsey, Richard Watson, F. B. Davis, Bruce Lee, Eugene Thrasher, Charles Cotton, Marlan Monzingo, Carl McMillan, Bob Smith, and Johnny Marzula. Smith, Hendricks and Hughes have been awarded college athletic scholarships.

Tackle Freddy Webb, guard James Chapman, and quarterback Johnny Huntsman are the only regulars back from last year's "first team," but other letterman include Glen Fleming and Buddy Gaster, ends; Larry Lawson, tackle; John Eaves, guard; Thomas Vessels, center; Joe Ford and Robert Perkins, halfbacks; Mickey Bass, fullback; and Odis Howze, quarterback.

Other players rounding out the West Monroe roster include Jimmy Edmiston, James Farmer, Dwain Brasher and Harry Barfoot, ends; Don Skipper, Larry Green, Earl Turnbow, Charles Jarvis, Joe Watts, Troy Lynch, and Robert Landsay, tackles; Jimmy Bell, Frank Machen, J. D. Price, Billy Bell, and Albert Fields, guards; Richard Rawls, Mike Lynch, and Roy Byrd, centers; Tommy Lolley, quarterback; John Moses, full back; and Jerry Stoval, Jesse Price, Jack Ezell, and Glen Harrelson, halfbacks.

The schedule:
Aug. 31 — West Monroe Jamboree.
Sept. 7 — Neville, here.
Sept. 13 — Springhill, here.
Sept. 20 — Haynesville, there.
Sept. 28 — Byrd at Shreveport.

Rayville Will Introduce 'New Look' This Season

RAYVILLE, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — Coach Woody Johnson is fast developing the "new look" for the Rayville High School Hornets as he begins his first season as head coach here by introducing the straight T formation.

Coach Johnson, who came to Rayville to succeed the resigned "Red" Campbell, is dealing with an almost entirely new squad of talent, but the boys have been looking ambitious and promise to give Rayville another good representative in the Class A campaign.

A ten-game schedule awaits the Hornets who open next Friday night against the Mangham Dragons here and follow with three more home games before making their first road appearance at Winnsboro on September 28.

A lot of Rayville's success with the straight T may depend on Charles Stevenson, a lad with no previous football experience, who is being groomed to handle the quarterback slot.

Chief "mail carriers" for Stevenson will be "Buddy" O'Conner, Harold Copeland, Paul Hunter, and George Greer. O'Conner, Copeland, and Hunter are battling for the halfback jobs, Hunter being a fast 200-pounder. Greer is a fullback converted from blocking back.

Rayville's forward wall is shaping up as Ray Cox and Edward Eppinette, ends; George Thomason and Frank Burrough, tackles; Theo Coenen and Ora G. Morris, guards, with Billy Thompson and Tommy Cooper battling for the pivot position.

Rayville's schedule:
Aug. 31 — Mangham, here.
Sept. 7 — Holly Ridge, here.
Sept. 14 — Bastrop, here.
Sept. 21 — Lake Providence, here.
Sept. 28 — Winnsboro, there.
Oct. 5 — Open.
Oct. 12 — Tallulah, there.
Oct. 19 — Delhi, here.
Oct. 26 — Open.
Nov. 2 — West Monroe, there.
Nov. 9 — Neville at Monroe.
Nov. 16 — Oak Grove, here.

Opener For Start Owls Just 5 Days Away-Davidson

START, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The Start High School Owls, with Coach G. J. Fleischmann's squad bolstered by 5 returning from last year's squad, get their season opener in just five days when they meet Joseph M. Davidson High School of St. Joseph here next Thursday night.

The game will serve to open athletic relations between Start and Davidson, both members of the Class B conference but operating in separate districts.

Best of Coach Fleischmann's new talent looms as Bentley Curry, Olen Ponder, Hugh Robinson, and L. E. Traxler.

The one-mile infield turf course at the Atlantic City race track is the widest in the country, spanning 100 feet in the stretch and backstretch.

Jonesboro Age Ends Two weeks Of Practice

JONESBORO, La., Aug. 25 (Special) — The Tigers of Jonesboro-Hodge High school have completed two weeks of football training with coaches Jimmy Gilbert, Clyde Berry and Joe Murry putting the Bengals through two - a - day drills that have pepped up in the last week with hard contact work in full swing.

The J-H Tigers face a tough schedule in double - A competition and Head Coach Gilbert had 67 boys reporting for initial workouts and expects to round out a good eleven from the talent at hand although most of the material still has to be developed.

The Bengals will open their ten-game schedule against the Jena Giants here Sept. 7 and follow against an almost entirely all double - A list of opponents. Only rival not in twin A will be Class A Winnfield.

With some possible late additions, the Jonesboro - Hodge squad includes:

Gene Robinson, Wesley Rasbury, Ernie Spurlock, Tommy Seabaugh, Freddie Smedley, Calude Smelley, Jerry Smith, Dude Turner, Maurice Turner, Donnie Paul Warren, Roger Young, and Roy Young.

A major blow to the Tigers' hopes was suffered when starting halfback Tommy Jones incurred a broken shoulder in practice while making a tackle. Jones, a senior who was being counted on as the top J-H running back, will be lost to the team at least for the first half of the season and possibly all year.

However, this bad news was partially offset by the disclosure that tackle Donnie Warren, another first - stringer, was not suffering from polio as originally feared. Although he has not been able to report for practice yet, the latest diagnosis is a pinched nerve in his ankle, and Donnie will probably be back in time for the season opener.

Several others who had been in the National Guard training reported Monday, including backs Ben Daniels and Jimmy Hodnett, center Buell Magee, guard Gene Robinson and tackle John Harley Cook. While it is doubtful if these lads will have time to get in shape for the jamboree game, they will probably be ready to go against Jena.

An addition to the coaching staff brought Sparky Foster of Jonesboro in as coach of the junior varsity, the eighth and ninth graders. Foster, former basketball coach at Weston High School, will also serve as assistant in basketball.

The schedule:

Sept. 7 — Jena, here.
Sept. 14 — Bossier, there.
Sept. 21 — Minden, there.
Sept. 28 — Open.
Oct. 5 — Neville at Monroe.
Oct. 12 — Natchitoches, there.
Oct. 19 — Haynesville, here.
Oct. 26 — Winnfield, there.
Nov. 2 — Pineville, there.
Nov. 9 — Ruston, here.
Nov. 16 — Bastrop, here.

I think that I shall never see

A Satisfactory referee

About whose head a halo shines,

Whose merits rate reporter's lines:

One who calls them as they are

And not as I would wish by far.

A gent who learns not either way

But lets the boys decide the play;

A guy who'll sting the coach who yaps

From Sivash Hi or old Milsaps.

THE GHOST WHO WALKS CAN NEVER DIE

SUCH AS THAT OF THE PHANTOM - (WHICH OF COURSE WE KNOW IS TRUE)

THERE'S ONE ABOUT THE GREAT BIRD OF GANDOR, THAT COMES ONCE A CENTURY TO CARRY OFF AN ENTIRE WICKED VILLAGE. (THAT MAY NOT BE TRUE)

AND THE TALE OF THE WINGED MEN OF PLINTH WHO RACE EAGLES IN THE UPPER AIR. (THAT CAN'T BE TRUE)

ONE OF THE MOST PERSISTENT LEGENDS IS THAT OF THE LITTLE PEOPLE - SAID TO LIVE IN THE JUNGLE.

I SAW ONE IN THE WOODS - THAT HIGH!

WERE YOU DRINKING?

MOTHERS TRY TO FRIGHTEN THEIR CHILDREN WITH THEM - NOT VERY SUCCESSFULLY

YOU BE A GOOD BOY. OR THE LITTLE PEOPLE'LL GET YOU.

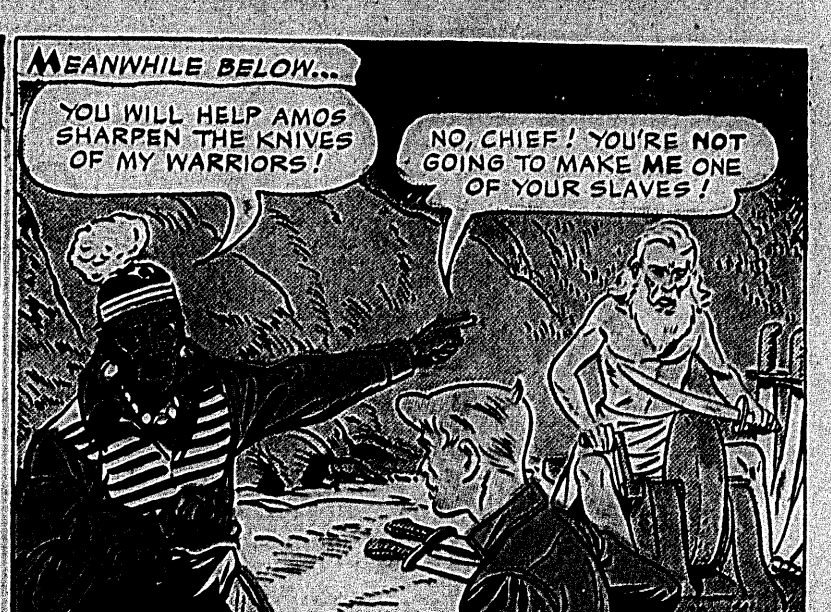

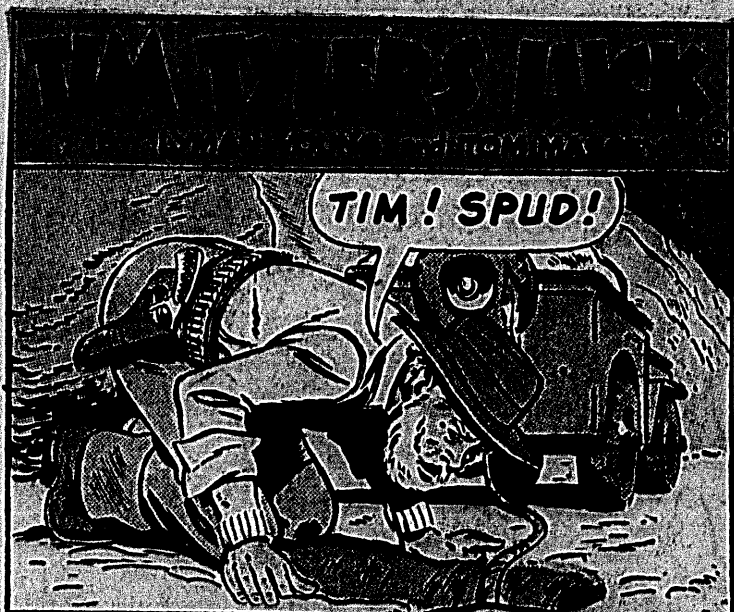

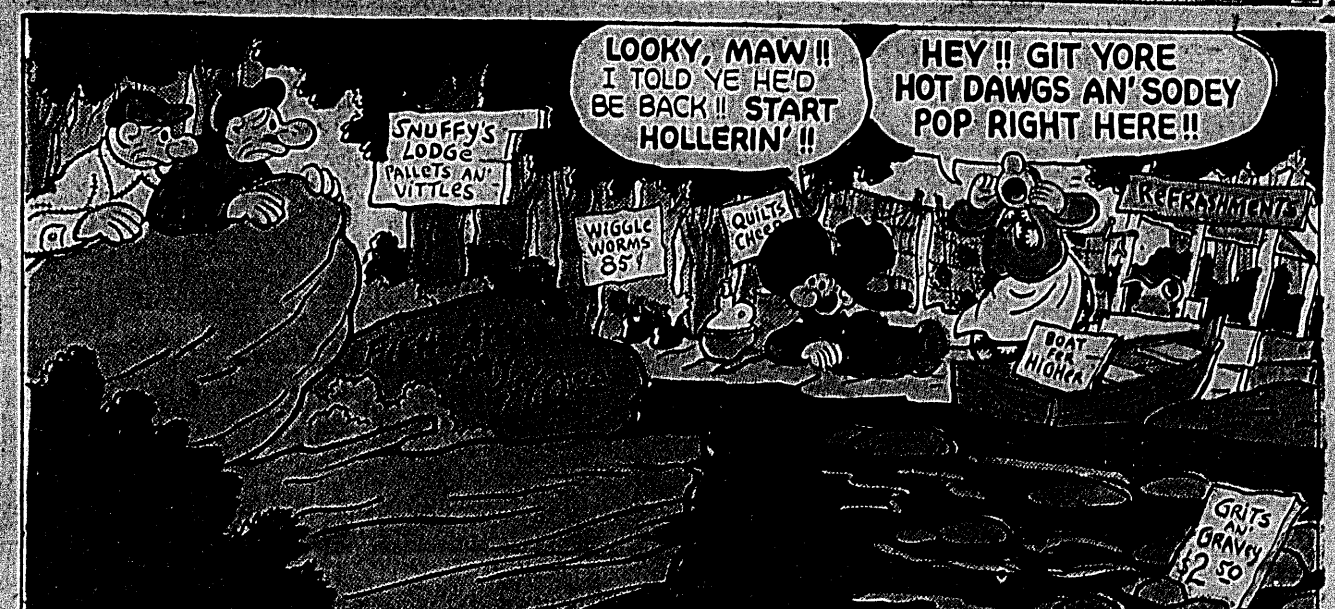

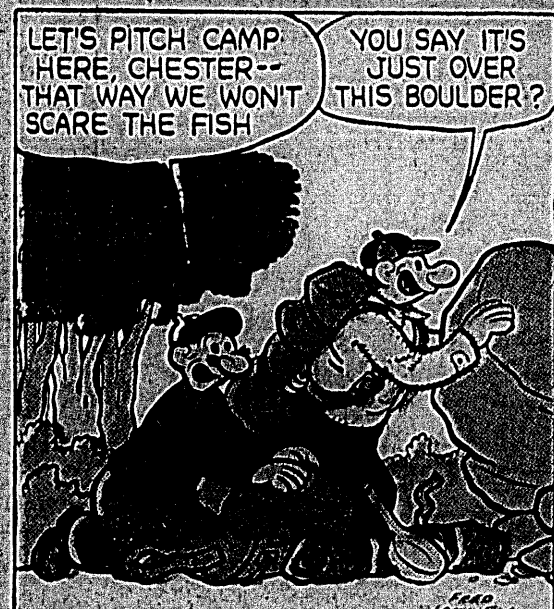

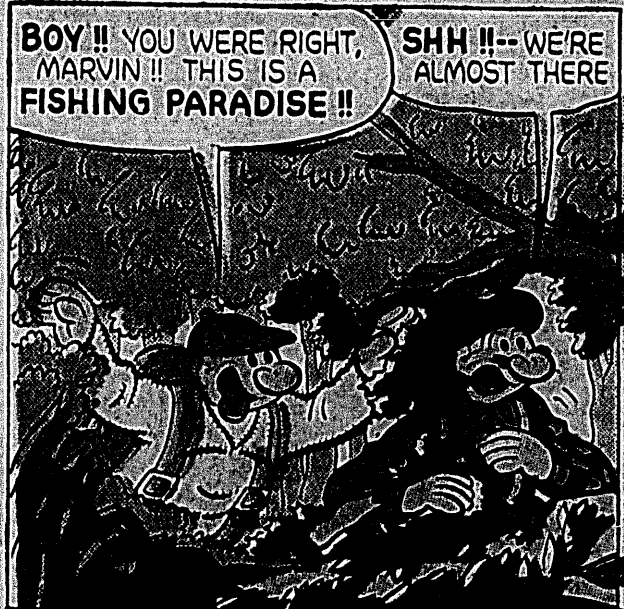

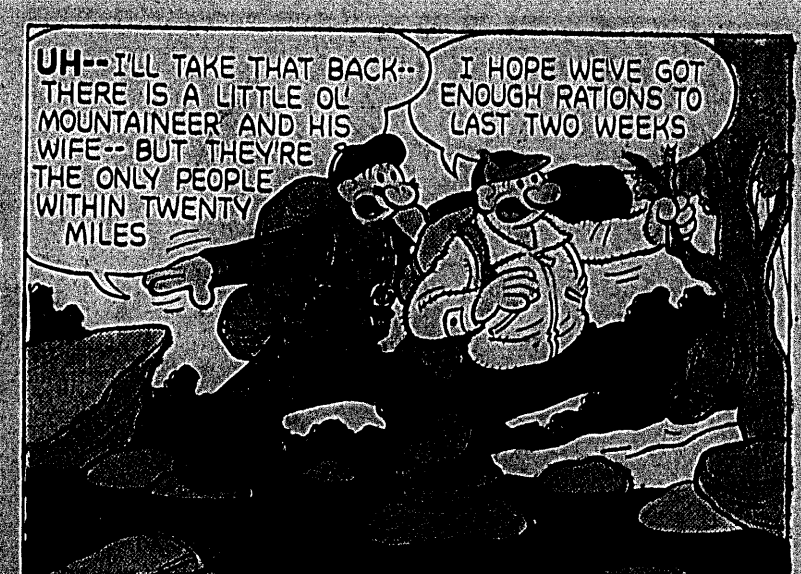

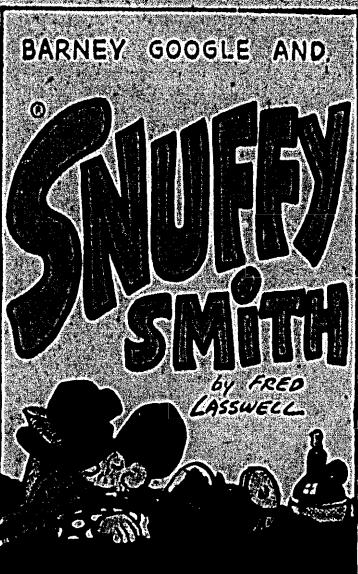

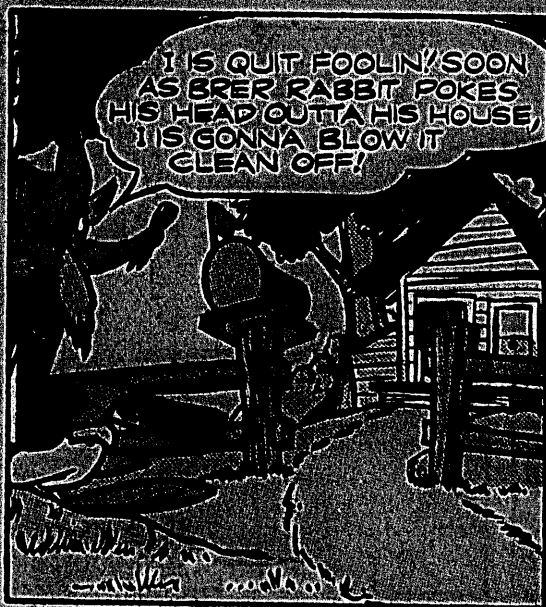

AW, THERE AREN'T ANY SUCH THINGS.

BUT ONE OF THE MOST CURIOUS THINGS IN THE JUNGLE IS THE YEARLY APPEARANCE OF 'THE RATTLE'.
